Norumbega Council Elects John M. Bierer President At Annual Scout Meeting

Boy Scouts Hold Annual Meeting—Ex-President Hutchinson Named Treasurer

Mr. John M. Bierer, President; Frank A. Day, 1st Vice-President; G. D. Marcy, Scout Commissioner; Henry A. Wentworth, L. Lee Street, C. Raymond Cabot, Vice-Presidents; James C. Irwin, Honorary Commissioner; Maynard Hutchinson, Treasurer; L. D. MacNutt, Charles H. Center, William V. M. Fawcett, A. B. Root, Jr., A. C. Blunt, Jr., and Carleton S. Redmond, Executive Board for two years; Charles G. Marden, Executive Board for one year; H. D. Ames, Commander of Newton Post 48, American Legion, representing that organization; Charles Mahoney, President of Newton Kiwanis, representing that service club and F. Ewing Wilson, representing the Newton Rotary Club, were the officers and Board members elected at the Annual Meeting of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, the Newton organization handling local Boy Scouting, on Friday, January 29th, at the Newton Centre Club.

At 7:50 125 Scouters and Cubbers and about 50 Cubs, Seascouts and Scouts, the boys being the guests of the men, had dinner, prepared and served by Scouts of Troops 9 and 10, Waban, with Scoutmaster Harris of Troop 10, Waban, in charge. The rooms, as well as the main hall, were decorated by Scouts of 4A, Highlands, under Scoutmaster F. E. Lichtenhauser. Singing was led by Scouters James Melcher and Cecil Clark, with John Kent, Chairman of the Ship 13, Seascout, Committee, at the piano. Grace was asked by Rev. Raymond Lang.

Following the dinner, the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., reported on the year's work of the Council, for 1931. His report showed 748 Cubs, Scouts and Seascouts in Newton, with active Troops, Committees, and Council administration through various committees. He stated that the entire Council had the challenge before it of making Scouting better, that it should draw more boys, the real and best method of recruiting. The meeting closed with the Council having spent $172.20 less than its budgeted items. The Council voted favorably on the change in the By-Laws, to allow the annual meeting to be changed, to May, with the recommendation that it be held at the Nobscot Reservation, in conjunction with the Court of Honor held there each May 29th.

The meeting then adjourned to the hall upstairs, where the first item of business, the report of the Nominating Committee, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Chairman, was submitted. As indicated earlier in this article, Officers and Board members were unanimously elected as submitted by Mr. Harwood's Committee. Mr. Hutchinson, retiring President, then introduced Mr. Bierer, the newly-elected President, who spoke briefly, thanking the Council for the honor of the office, promising to do his best and indicating what goal the Council had to strive for.

B. & W. Explains Stand On Tracks On New Turnpike

Large Expenditures Made By Company In Past

The following statement was given THE GRAPHIC by Myron E. Pierce, General Counsel of the Boston, Worcester & New York Street Railway. Its purpose is to place before the people of Newton some facts favorable to the company's side in the controversy over the amount of damages which should be awarded by the State if the tracks of the company are removed from the right of way along the line of the Boston & Worcester turnpike from Framingham easterly. In 1903 bonds totalling $2,460,000 were issued by the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Company. In 1927 when the company was reorganized and taken over by the bondholders, a shrinkage of value in the bonds of about two-thirds was taken; the new value being $76,000. The company contends that the holders of these bonds, including widows and savings banks, are entitled to some consideration.

"The Department of Public Works has issued orders that the tracks of the street railway be relocated in the centre of the new Worcester Turnpike.

"In the interest of public safety our Board of Directors have done what they could to have the tracks placed in a safety reservation bordered by a curbing or shoulder of some kind, but without success. We are now, therefore, prepared to comply with the orders of the Department of Public Works and to cooperate with them in moving the tracks to the centre of the new Turnpike.

"To those who have protested against having the tracks left in the Turnpike we can only say that our Board of Directors have acted throughout the whole matter in a reasonable and cooperative spirit. They cannot, however, disregard the fact that their bondholders' money was expended for the grading and widening of Worcester street as it is today. They took a narrow country road and expended their money on it for land damages and for cuts and fills, all of which accrues to the benefit of the state today. In other words, the fact that the Street Railway Company has expended this money makes it unnecessary for the Department to do the work today which would otherwise have to be done, and at a much greater expense. The Company has saved the state close to a million dollars. At the 'Sunk-away' alone, in Natick, where quick sand was found, the Company expended hundreds of thousands of dollars in order to get a roadbed.

"It will not be necessary for the Department of Public Works to widen Worcester street at all in the City of Newton for its three and one-half miles. The state won't have to pay a penny for land damages for that purpose in Newton. Why? Because the Street Railway Company widened it to ninety feet in 1903 and paid the bills—all the land damages and construction cost. They paid the bills for similar land damages and street construction in all the other towns although in none of the others was the street made quite as wide as in Newton. The state now gets the benefit of all these expenditures by the Company."

LACK OF ICE CAUSES CARNIVAL POSTPONEMENT

Lack of ice has forced the postponement of the Ice Carnival planned for Crystal Lake tomorrow by the Newton Civic Arts Association. The Carnival will be held on the first Saturday ice conditions will permit.

Firemen Denied Automatic Raises

Aldermen Make Change In Present Methods

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night an order was introduced by Alderman Ball and passed by the Board which radically changes the method used for years in this city to govern the salaries of policemen and firemen. For several years men entering the fire and police departments of Newton have received $1700 salary the first year and then an increase of $100 each year until the maximum salary—$2100 is reached. These increases in salaries have been automatic.

The order introduced by Alderman Ball reads—"Any schedule of salaries applicable to the automatic increase of salaries in the police and fire departments is hereby rescinded."

Alderman Ball explained that this order will not affect policemen and firemen now regular members of the departments but will apply to men appointed in the future. Recommendations for salary increases for men appointed in the future will come from the Chiefs of the Police and Fire Departments. None of the 19 members of the Aldermen present at the meeting opposed the order and it was passed unanimously.

Glee Club To Give Concerts

The Highland Glee Club has been engaged to give two concerts in February, the first at Lincoln, Mass., this evening, in the Lincoln Town Hall. This concert is made possible by the Bemis Fund which sponsors a series of free entertainments open to the citizens of Lincoln and their friends. Ernest Schleicher, Baritone, is to be the soloist and D. Ralph MacLean the conductor.

The second concert is at the Brae Burn Country Club on Sunday, February 7th, at four o'clock. The guest artist will be Ben Redden, Tenor. Brae Burn has for several years offered its members a delightful series of Sunday afternoon musicals and the Highland Glee Club has been selected for the third consecutive year. The program has been carefully arranged by D. Ralph MacLean, Conductor, to meet the popular and critical taste of the Brae Burn group.

An unusually large and active membership this year in the Glee Club reflects an increasing interest in this local organization, which thus encourages the promotion of good music in the City of Newton. Recent rehearsals have averaged over sixty singing members.

The Glee Club plans a club dinner on the 15th at the Parish House of the Episcopal Church. These occasional dinners offer the members an unusual opportunity for good fellowship and have become very popular.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Charles E. Hatfield, President of West Newton Cooperative Bank; Vice-President, Hon. Thomas Weston, President of Newton National Bank; Secretary, Roland F. Gammons, President of the West Newton Savings Bank; Treasurer, Charles W. Mercer, Treasurer, Newton South Cooperative Bank.

GIRL HURT IN AUTO CRASH

A car driven by Paul Mick of Reading and a truck driven by Francis Franko of Oak street, Upper Falls, collided Wednesday at Washington and Concord street, Lower Falls. Dorothy Stone of Beacon street, Brookline, who was riding with Mick, received slight injuries and was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

George Scarlett, 9, of 36 Henshaw street, West Newton, was slightly injured on Monday when he was hit by a car operated by John Morrill of Randlett park, West Newton. The accident happened at the corner of Cherry and Webster streets.

Mayor Submits Budget Estimates For 1932 About $60,000 Less Than 1931

Reduces Amounts Requested By Department Heads By Over A Quarter Million Dollars

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night Mayor Weeks submitted to the Board the budget for 1932. The recommendations of department heads totalling $4,814,752.22. The Mayor cut these recommendations to $4,547,347.92. Last year the expenditures made in conducting this city's affairs amounted to $4,608,706.21. In addition to the amount recommended by the Mayor in the budget for this year is the cost of running the Water Department, $302,090.08; this amount to be obtained from water revenue.

The estimate of the General Department is $52,008 as compared with $61,369.66 expended under this heading last year. The saving is effected by making no appropriation for the municipal insurance building fund this year. Last year $10,000 was appropriated for this purpose. The Mayor's estimate for the conduct of his own (Executive) department is $10,540. Last year this department expended $18,251.51. No provision is made for expenses of the committee for the relief of unemployed; last year $3,288.96 were spent for this purpose. Last year $2265 were expended for printing a history of Newton; this expense is not repeated this year. Last year $1500 was paid to an expert who made a study of department needs in connection with the building of the new city hall. This sum is saved this year.

The estimate of the Accounting Department is $87,648.34 as compared with $87,565.19 spent by this department last year. The Treasury Department's recommendation was lopped about $27,000 by the Mayor. This was accomplished by reducing the amount specified for interest on temporary loans from $46,000 to $20,000. The estimate of the Assessing Department, $25,247.54 is practically the same as was expended by this department last year—$24,592.76. The estimate of the Law Department—$9,000, is over $7,000 less than was expended by this department last year. Most of this savings is effected because last year $5,000 was given as extra payment to the contractor who built the drain to Cold Spring Swamp.

The budget estimate for the City Clerk's Department is $56,719. Last year this department expended $51,099. The increase is caused by expenses which will be entailed by the national election and State election and primaries this year. The estimate for the Engineering Department, $43,632.70, is about $1000 more than was expended last year. The Mayor lopped $1.25 off the estimate submitted by the Public Buildings Department. This deduction was made from the cost for the care of City Hall. The estimate for this department—$106,731.42, is about $30,000 less than was expended by the department last year. This savings is obtained principally because of appropriations which were made last year for the new police headquarters and the new War Memorial. The estimate for this department—$304,230.48, is $8538 less than was expended last year. This savings is less than it appears. Salaries of reserve officers paid last year $10,500 are not necessary on this year's budget because no reserve officers are provided for. Their services have been dispensed with because 7 automobiles in which patrolmen will ride were purchased at the end of last year, and this motorization of the police department will make fewer patrolmen necessary, according to the belief of the Chief and Mayor. But, the cost of these cars and the radios with which they are equipped, amounting to $4000, while charged to last year's expenditures, really should be charged to this year's.

Nursing Association Seeks More Sustaining Members

The Newton District Nursing Association is the only organization in Newton equipped to give part-time nursing service at a minimum cost to all citizens. Patients pay the cost of the nurse's visit if they can, but if they cannot, they pay what they can. Due to the present conditions, the calls for this service have almost doubled. To meet this increasing demand the Directors of the Association are seeking a larger Sustaining Membership. Everyone can help by sending a contribution, small or large, to the headquarters at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON SIXTH AT N. U. MEET

The Newton High indoor track team, defending champions in the Northeastern University interscholastic meet, placed sixth in this year's annual affair which was held last Saturday at the Boston Y. M. C. A. track. The meet was won by Everett High with 14 points with Medford in second, a half point behind, Lawrence third with 12 points, Watertown fourth with 10½, Brookline fifth with 9 and Newton sixth with 9.56. Other schools to finish in the point division were Malden, Boston Trade, Brockton, Lowell, Quincy, Boston English, and Jamaica Plain.

The Newton points were tallied by the relay team, Captain Jimmy Cahill, Stanley Johnson and Tom Fitzgerald. The relay quartet of Douglas Sloane, Bill Cusumano, Frank Tischer and Jimmy Cahill was clocked in 2m. 21.45 seconds in beating Everett. Medford topped Brookline to set the fastest time of the day in the relay with Newton second, Brockton and Lowell tied for third and Everett fifth.

The Newton-Everett relay was the best race of the meet. Sloane and Committo had a bitter struggle on the first leg with the Everett sprinter handing over a lead of about a yard to his teammate McDonald. Cusumano set sail after the Everett runner and caught him at the first bank. McDonald fell and Cusumano handed over a 15-yard lead to Tischer who held this margin over Bill Piscione. Cahill took up the race and lead Don McKee, Everett anchor, to the tape though McKee had cut down the margin almost in two.

Stanley Johnson was Newton's individual highpoint scorer with a third in the hurdles and a tie for fourth in the high jump with Navin of Boston English and Noonan of Lowell at 5 ft. 7 in. In the hurdles the record of 68.7 in. of which Milton Green, 1931 captain, was a joint holder, was equalled in the final of the five trial heats and in both of the semi-final heats. Johnson licked Crawford of Watertown in the second trial spin and placed second to Donovan of Lawrence in the first semi-final with Crawford third. In the final Donovan set a new record of 5.45 seconds with Crawford picked for second, Johnson third and Niel of Quincy fourth. In the high jump Allen Schwartz of Brookline set a new mark of 5 ft. 11½ inches in winning from Donovan of Lawrence with Bradford Hilliard of Brockton third.

The 300 was run in four heats with McKee of Everett, Cahill of Newton, Willis of Lawrence and Higgins of Medford capturing their races to qualify for the final. McKee and Higgins battled for the lead at the start of the final with the Everett lead finally going out in front and winning by a four yard margin. Higgins took second, Cahill third and Willis fourth.

The 1000 was run in two heats against time with Higgins of Newton in the second heat against Thurber of Watertown and Kozowyk of Medford. Thurber piled up a big lead and Fitz battled with the Medford entry for second place in the heat, losing by a small margin. The awarding of points on the time basis gave Thurber first, Kozowyk second and Fitzgerald and Cullen of Lowell, winner of the first heat, a tie for third.

Doug Sloane and Bill Terry did well in the dash with Sloane getting into the final only to be lost in the shuffle at the tape. Lewis of Malden won by a foot in equalling the meet record but the rest of the field was a blank finish. Sloane and Carpenter of Medford were just out of luck when the judges decision was made known. Terry got a second in his trial heat but failed to place in his semi-final. In the 600 Willie Mullen found the pace too fast in his heat while Tom Malloy saw four other schoolboys toss the pellet over 43 feet.

SPORT NOTES

Country Day Loses
Country Day school was on the short end of a 38-23 to 24-13 score in its track meet with Roxbury Latin school Wednesday at the Newton high track. Bill Schmidt of Country Day won the dash and hurdles for the Newton team's only first places. LaBouchere took second in the shot and thirds in the dash and hurdles to add to Country Day's total. Other Country Day points came from Brown's second in the 300, Robbins' third in the 1000, Nelson's third in the shotput, White's second in the high jump and a triple tie for third in the high jump in which Hill figured.

Fletcher Scores
The Yale hockey team defeated the St. Nicholas Club of New York Wednesday night 4 to 1 with Allie Fletcher, former Newton star, caging the first and final Blue tallies and passing to a teammate for another, Fletcher started the game at centre ice. Joe Gilligan, another former Newton high athlete, is a spare defense player on the Yale squad. Warren Colby, 1931 Newton athlete, is playing a wing position on the Yale freshman team which is undefeated this season.

OUR LADY HIGH FIVE TAKES LEAD

The Our Lady High basketball team stepped out in front of the Greater Boston Catholic High School league race this week by winning both its games from its closest rivals. Last Friday at Waltham the local quintet pinned a 33 to 29 defeat on the St. Charles' team to give the latter outfit its first home defeat in four years. As Cathedral High also won from Mission High, first place was shared jointly by Our Lady and Cathedral. This tie was dissolved on Tuesday when Our Lady outscored Cathedral 35 to 31 at the Newton team's floor and Our Lady High now occupies first place alone with St. Charles and Cathedral deadlocked in second place. Our Lady High plays Mission High this afternoon with the two second-place teams facing each other in the final games of the first round. Our Lady is favored to win as is St. Charles, title winners a year ago.

Last Friday the Our Lady High team led the entire game except for a brief moment in the third period when the score was tied at 20 all. In the final session Charlie Gallagher, league leading scorer last year, ran wild to cage four successive baskets on one-handed tosses from the side. Steve McLean, his forward teammate, passed prettily to give Gallagher many opportunities. Gallagher and McLean totally scored Our Lady's 33 points with the additional counter going to Cummings, right guard, on a free try.

Against Cathedral the local contingent also led all the way with great defensive work by Horne, Cathedral guard, holding back the home team considerably. Gallagher and McLean tallied 23 points for Our Lady with Leo Moran caging 9 and Cummings 3.

SECOND HALF OF BROOKLINE MEET ON CARD

The outstanding schoolboy track affair tomorrow afternoon is the second half of the annual Newton-Brookline dual affair which will be held at the Brookline track tomorrow afternoon. The first half was held two weeks ago at Newton with the orange and black fighting through to a 40 to 37 lead over their rivals in a series of thrilling races. Tomorrow the local contingent will be hard pushed to hold its winning margin with the Brookline athletes competing on their own track. The final outcome is a tossup and the breaks will decide the issue. The Newton team will be without the directing influence of Coach Don Enoch who is recovering from an appendicitis operation which was performed on Tuesday at the Forest Hills hospital. Assistant Coach Charles Cosline will be in charge of the Newton team which has the added incentive of presenting their stricken coach with the victory. This fact alone will make the Newton a doubly hard team to lick tomorrow and if the orange and black athletes can equal their efforts of two weeks ago the victory is assured.

There are likely to be some upsets, however. In the dash the longer distance will be to Sloane's liking and he has the chance to turn the tables on Cohen, Brookline's sprinter. There should be no change in the hurdle finals with Stan Johnson conceding first, and Paisner of Brookline and Bradley of Newton fighting it out again for second and third. Brookline will probably sweep the shotput again and the high jump should end with Schwartz first, Johnson second and Potkin of Brookline third. Johnson conceded a first in the broad jump also but he will be closely pressed by the two Potkin brothers. The biggest upsets should occur in the 300, 600 and 1,000. At Newton Cahill and Sloane tied for the best time in the first named race with Cohen of Brookline third. Bob Hall is the Wealthy Towners' best 300-yarder and may nose out Sloane. At Newton Hall fell and was out of the competition. The 600 will be another battle between Enwright of Brookline and Mullen while the 1000 will see Fitzgerald and Rae in another thrilling duel.

SPORT NOTES

On European Tour
Bill Blaney of Waban, former Country Day school and Williams athlete, is member of the Boston Hockey Club team which has sailed for a European trip. The team will play in several countries before returning in about eight weeks.

Gallagher's Goal Wins
Northeastern and Colby hockey teams staged a hectic game Wednesday night at the Arena with the Hub team winning 5 to 4 in the closing minutes of the game. The tying counter came five minutes from the final whistle and on the ensuing face-off Herb Gallagher of Newton, Husky centre, carried the puck down the ice to tally the winning goal. Henry Furdon, former Newton high athlete, played a spare defense position for Northeastern.

CHANGE HOCKEY SCHEDULE AGAIN

The proposed elimination tournament of the Greater Boston Interscholastic league which was to have begun tomorrow was called off last night at a meeting of the league officials. The plan adopted in its place is to allow only those games which were played indoors to stand and to continue the remainder of the indoor games already scheduled and the total points won by each team in its seven games will be the basis upon which the 1932 title will be awarded. It was also voted to rule out the overtime period which enabled Melrose to defeat Medford high, 4 to 3, and allow the game to stand as a tie. Since that time no other ties have been played off. Tomorrow afternoon's games will bring Arlington against Newton, Stoneham vs Cambridge Latin, Melrose vs Rindge Tech and Belmont vs Medford. Feb. 13th, when the final set of games are scheduled Newton will be paired with Melrose in the headliner, Medford faces Cambridge Latin, Arlington takes on Rindge Tech and Belmont tackles Stoneham. Taking the indoor games played to date and ruling the Melrose-Medford clash a tie gives Newton first place, Melrose and Medford tie for second, Arlington third and the other teams strung out below. Newton must win one and tie the other of its remaining games to be assured of a tie for first place as the standing now is:

	Games	Goals
	W. T. L.	For Agt Pts
NEWTON	4 0 18	6 9
Melrose	3 2 0	15 4 8
Medford	3 2 0	19 8 8
Arlington	1 3 1	13 13 5
Belmont	2 0 3	9 15 4
Stoneham	1 1 3	13 16 3
Rindge	1 0 4	10 20 2
Camb. Lat.	0 1 4	3 18 1

NEWTON FIVE DROPS TWO MORE

The Newton high basketball team dropped two more games the past week losing to Cambridge Latin High 23 to 17 last Friday in a Suburban league game and to Wakefield High on Wednesday, 22 to 19. Both games saw Newton take an early lead which they could not maintain. In the game with the Cantabs Newton started off in front but only for a brief moment. Capt. Rogers of the visitors tallied twelve points to put his team out ahead and keep it there. He was the outstanding star of the game with Taylor and Gulian playing well for Newton. In the preliminary game the Newton seconds won 17 to 11.

Against Wakefield the Newton five enjoyed a 9 to 3 advantage at half time but in the early moments of the final period Wakefield rushed into a three point advantage. Newton got going to tie the score again at 17 each but in a few minutes the visitors built up a five point margin which Newton cut to three before the final whistle blew. Comee of Wakefield counted 12 points and Francis Flagg of Newton 7 to lead their respective teams.

To Speak on "Republican War Horses"

Many residents of Newton are members of the famous Middlesex Club, which will hold its annual dinner in the Statler next Friday, February 12. The late Samuel L. Powers of Newton was long president of the club, and at this dinner, which will be given largely in honor of Robert Lincoln O'Brien, who resigned from the presidency to become chairman of the U. S. Tariff Commission, Mr. Wm. E. Brigham, a resident of Newtonville, will play a unique part. Says the official announcement:

"Special feature artist in person—(William E.) Billy Brigham. A member of our Executive Committee; former president of the Gridiron Club; famous political correspondent in Washington and Boston for years and years, will tell the members some interesting things about Republican notables. Having known all the prominent leaders, both in and out of office, for a great many years, Mr. Brigham will regale the members with anecdotes of the great and near great. He will touch upon some twenty personages, some of a former age, and others who are still with us. Not only that, Mr. Brigham's talk will be illustrated with lantern slides. He has been busy for some time searching in the dusty archives for photographs that will bring back fond memories—for instance, there is one of Governor Wolcott, a magnificent figure on horseback, in the Dewey Day Parade in 1899, and then there is another of Sam Powers and Grover Cleveland fishing from a boat down Buzzard's Bay way. Don't miss Brigham's talk on 'Republican War Horses.'"

Tells of School Work In South

The Woman's Association of the Central Congregational Church met on Wednesday, February 3, at two o'clock. During the morning, the members were busy at work tables, sewing and making surgical dressings.

At one o'clock luncheon was served with Mrs. C. W. Stewart in charge. The tables were beautifully decorated in patriotic colors with small Jerusalem cherry trees for center pieces, suggestive of Washington's Birthday. The serving was in charge of Mrs. Ralph W. Conant and her committee.

After luncheon, Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill sang "My Task." Miss Isabelle M. Chute accompanying. Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden conducted the devotion, after which the routine business of the meeting was transacted. Mrs. A. H. Decatur, the President of the Association, presided.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Charlotte Hawkins Brown of the Palmer Memorial Institute, Sedalia, N. C. Mrs. Brown spoke very pleasantly of her many friends here, and then before proceeding with her address, she and Mrs. Merrill sang "Ain't Goin' to Make War No More." Mrs. Brown related how Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer discovered her just before she graduated from high school in Cambridge, Mass., and made it possible for her to attend the State Normal School at Salem.

On going South to accept work she found herself in an isolated country community where she had some students older than herself and where all were extremely poor. Because of lack of funds, the school was dropped by the American Missionary Association and then Mrs. Brown's struggles began. The community wanted her to stay and she did. Gradually, under many difficulties, she built up a school which now has a budget of $50,000 a year.

Plans for the monster pre-Lenten Mardi Gras Dancing Party to be conducted Monday evening by the members of Newton Council are complete and with one of the largest crowds to ever attend an affair of this sort in the Walnut Park Day School it promises to be an enjoyable evening.

Chairman "Bobby" Driscoll announces several novelties. The Paul Jones dance, elimination dance, "dum-dum" dance, cut-in dance, and Leap Year dance. Paper hats and noisemakers will be distributed and with the Hall beautifully decorated a good time is assured. Anyone may attend the party.

The dancing floor at the Walnut Park Day School, formerly the Flanagan estate, is recognized as being the best in New England. A lively orchestra has been engaged and Mr. George Brophy has expressed his willingness to "call" a few of the old fashioned dances.

The Party is entirely informal. At 9 P. M. it is planned to conduct the Grand Mix-up March. With the Marshals leading different groups around the Hall to the tune of a march, at the signal to dance all join hands and the merriment begins.

Refreshments and checking are provided at no cost. Many are planning to attend and bring their own group of friends.

Representative Leo M. Birmingham of Brighton, Floor Leader in the House of Representatives, addressed the members of Newton Council on Tuesday evening. Mr. Birmingham delivered a stirring talk on vital questions of the present day and held his audience with various stories of interest to the lay man. Mr. Birmingham is a Past District Deputy of the Order and related many happy memories of his experiences while traveling for the Order.

The Winter Carnival Committee reports considerable interest among the members for this annual affair. Reservations may be made for the Carnival February 13th and 14th with John Keefe, W. N. 0446-M, on or before the 10th.

Girl Scouts

The Newton Girl Scouts officers were entertained at dinner at the East Boston Airport last week by the Boston Girl Scouts Officers' Association. During the evening the girls were entertained by speakers who explained the present safety in low flying and the general facilities of the Airport. During the dinner a flashlight was turned on and the girls saw an airplane take off from the end of the room where they were seated.

After the dinner the girls were taken up at a cent a pound, and the number of those who took advantage of the offer showed that Girl Scouts, at least, are not afraid to tell their weights. The planes taxied down the field and out over the river from where the passengers could see a million lights. The experience gave the girls a deeper understanding of aviation.

THE 1932 BUDGET

In line with his announced program of adhering to a rigid policy of economy the Mayor recommended budget appropriations for 1932 totaling slightly over four and a half millions of dollars. His recommendations cut down the amount requested by the various department heads about $270,000 and will mean a reduction of about $255,000 over the amounts appropriated for 1931. This saving of an approximate quarter of a million dollars of the taxpayers' money ordinarily would mean a certain drop in the tax rate. However, there is no certainty of a drop in the 1932 tax rate. Three years ago Newton enjoyed an increased valuation of real estate and personal property of more than eight millions. Since that time each year has seen a considerable reduction in the total increase with that in 1931 showing a gain of about four millions for a total valuation of one hundred and sixty-five millions. The removal of the Saco-Lowell industry and general economic conditions indicate that there will be only a comparatively small increase in Newton's total valuations this year. In addition an increase in the state, county and Metropolitan taxes that Newton pays would not be unexpected. These two factors will tend to offset the gain made in the reduction of the budget and the retention of the present tax rate of $26.60 per thousand presents a difficult problem. We repeat a thought expressed a while ago in these columns that a slight increase in the rate would not be objectionable provided such an increase became necessary in order to carry out local projects giving direct benefit to the taxpayers.

SALARY INCREASES

In the detailed budget figures we note an item of $6,716.67 in the school department figures to provide for increases in teachers' salaries. The amount represents the total sum necessary to raise those teachers receiving less than the maximum salary to that limit, beginning with the opening of school next September and to the end of the year. It is not certain that all of this money would be needed as no individual raises have been considered. It is the usual custom for the School Committee to approve any raises at one of the Spring meetings. The amount involved, however, is beside the question. A majority of the committee evidently believe in preparedness and voted to include this item in its budget. Inasmuch as the school committee can obtain money for such purposes at any time of the year it might have been better to have waited until a more proper time. Mayor Weeks has expressed his disapproval of the request by inserting a note beside the item that "by law teachers' salaries are within the exclusive control of the School Committee." At any rate the situation has given rise to the impression that the teachers are importuning for higher pay. We have a feeling that the teachers would unhesitatingly waive any right to an increase this year in view of existing conditions, were the decision left to them. In recent months many have lost their positions or have had their pay decreased. School teachers certainly have little to fear in this regard. The prospect of better conditions makes it reasonable to suggest that the School Committee might well withdraw its request for this money and toward the end of the year grant such raises as they might then approve as retroactive to the beginning of school in September or delay the raise until 1933 and then make a double increase. It is unfortunate that the public has obtained an incorrect impression regarding our school teachers when the responsibility lies with those members of the committee who voted to include the request in the budget.

SHOULD OPPOSE BILL

One of the bills before the present legislature which we believe should be opposed by our local representatives is House Bill No. 449, which in brief changes the control of money appropriated for school department use to the power of the aldermen or selectmen instead of the school committee as at present. While it might do away with the problem discussed in a previous editorial such control would open the door to the playing of politics. Politics and school affairs do not mix any better than oil and water. The purport of the bill is to prevent exorbitant requests and misuse of funds as has happened on occasions in some cities in the state. We believe that, for the most part schools throughout the state are run honestly and efficiently under the present control and that a change such as provided by this bill is a case of the "remedy being worse than the disease."

BUDGET SUBMITTED

optimists are wrong, and prosperity does not return this spring, this amount will be largely increased during the year. The Playground budget, $88,295 is $72,612 less than was expended last year. This big difference is caused by the fact that in 1931 considerable sums were spent on the Thompsonville playground, work on other playgrounds and building a running track at the high school athletic field. The Library Department budget is practically the same as was expended by

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

A Harvard professor wants all cities and towns surrounding Boston joined together in one big municipality. Naturally, Boston politicians applauded the idea. Motto for Newton—"Hold Everything."

Where Money Grows

"I think the State should appropriate $5,000,000 at once for unemployed relief," declared a speaker before the Ways and Means Committee of the General Court.

"And how would you finance it?" a committee member asked.

"Why, take it out of the State Treasury," came the reply. "We're a rich State."

"And have a tax levy?"

"Oh, no, indeed," the enthusiastic optimist replied. "Don't put it on the taxpayers for we have burdens enough."

He must think Massachusetts has a mint where money is turned out in bales.

How Milk Is Left

As long as the milk and cream bottles are found where they should be on back steps each morning you won't hear anything said. Supposing the milkman slips up some day. Wow! How folks can fuss! Then and then only do we give any thought to the work required to provide daily with a supply of dairy products. I wasn't going into that either, not to any great extent. What set me off was the various kinds of milk delivery trucks and wagons one sees on the streets.

It has puzzled me to observe the faithful horse retained to haul milk wagons. Also I have wondered what the new kind of truck means in the milk business. I refer to the snappy looking truck with only one door and that in the center. You know, built on the lines of the old bakery wagon drawn by a horse whose harness was ornamented with sleigh bells.

Those bells were there Summer and Winter and Spring and Fall. Made you hungry when you heard them.

O, we were talking about delivering milk. I found out some interesting facts by poking my nose into something that didn't provide milk.

I learned that on a milk route where the customers live near together that a horse and wagon cannot be beat. The horse knows the route and drives himself over most of the route. A truck has got to be driven and as there is only one man to deliver and drive that man has got to go back and start the engine. If you could get a truck that would respond to a milkman's whistle you would make your fortune, save the horses and please the drivers. Now trucks are valuable on long routes, I'm told, but they are awkward things to climb in and out of and drive, too. This new fangled milk wagon to which I have referred is said to be ideal. There is a low, single step; the milk is handy and the wheel is right there. All compact, if you ask me. Takes about an hour less, they say, to deliver from this fancy white car because it is arranged so well. But all milkmen agree that for a short route where the customers' houses are close together you've just got to have a horse. Giddap!

Letting Grass Grow

In some ways this may seem an odd time to write of lawns and fields of grass, unless, of course, one goes in for poetry. It was the practical side of the question that started me off in a general canter and specifically the refusal of the Legislature to have State experts investigate means of combating diseases among grasses. Now, please don't say, "Does this mean hay fever?" You know very well I never was more earnest in my life.

It appears that the idea was suggested by the Massachusetts Golf Association and anybody knows that the better the grass the better the game. Sickly grass does not help, although I do not suppose it is responsible for the anaemic playing some folks exhibit. Golf players are not alone in the display of interest regarding grass. All of us like to see a beautiful velvety lawn. Some people, and my hat comes off to them, have a knack of growing grass or making it grow in such a way as to command admiration. In other words the stretch of are within the exclusive control of the School Committee." This $6716.67 is to care for the automatic salary increases. The School Committee was divided on this matter. When it considered the budget, the members voting in favor of these increases were Mrs. Cornell, Messrs. Church, Mather and Butts. School Comm. members Tracy, Amesbury and Fernald. Mr. Tracy would have voted in the affirmative except that the committee voted to cut $5000 from the amount specified for additional teachers, allowing only $6766.67 for this purpose. The teachers, themselves, are not asking for these increases. The budget for the Vocational School, $53,644.31, is about $9000 less than was expended last year.

The Street Department budget, $1,042,145.39, is over $61,000 than was expended last year and $168,542 less than asked for by Street Commissioner Stuart. Mr. Stuart asked $200,000 for resurfacing streets. The Mayor recommends $150,000. The Commissioner asked $27,000 for new sidewalks; the Mayor cut this amount to $13,000. He also halved the Commissioner's estimate for new curbs from $9000 to $4500. He lopped over $17,000 from the $42,273 asked for new equipment. The Mayor reduced the amount asked for the care of trees from $19,000 to $16,000 and allowed $4000 for new trees instead of the $10,000 asked. As the amount estimated for the maintenance of streets, $170,000, is almost the same as that in the 1931 budget, the outlook during the coming year for the 150 employees of the department, laid off last month, is not cheerful.

The Water Department budget is $302,090 as compared with $332,754.98 expended last year. This department will expend much more this year, however, as $200,000 was authorized last month by the Aldermen for the purpose of eliminating "dead-end" mains and laying new mains along Boylston street. Also $23,000 was appropriated last month for more land at Needham.

Under The Gilded Dome

The decision of the State Department of Public Utilities regarding the tracks of the Boston, Worcester and New York Street Railways tracks in Natick and Framingham is looked upon as significant of the department's probable attitude in Newton. Natick and Framingham were not satisfied with the ruling of the State Department of Public Works that the tracks should be allowed to remain in the center of the new Boston and Worcester superhighway without a reservation. They appeal to the Department of Public Utilities not to give the necessary approval required by law. These remonstrators wanted the reservation allowed to remain. The final ruling of the Utilities Board was that the tracks should be allowed to remain in the center of the road and the road built to the ties. The question will come in Newton and if the decision in question is any precedent Newton may know what to expect.

One of the many automobile insurance measures before the Committee on Insurance is a bill of Senator Hollis (Senate 221) providing "that provision be made for merit rating in respect to motor vehicle liability insurance."

The bill to require women to perform jury service, with certain exemptions, was adversely reported by the Committee on Judiciary on the same day on which a hearing was held on the bill. Its rejection this year will not dishearten the petitioners for the bill who have announced they will be on hand next year to renew their efforts.

The majority of speakers at the hearings on bills to reduce State and county salaries were opposed to the plan. Governor Ely first suggested that there be a reduction of the salaries of the State receiving $2000 and over. Later other bills for reduction of salaries of State and County employees were filed. The Governor did not send any specific bill himself nor did he send any representative to speak before the committee. The legislation was heard by the Joint Ways and Means Committee and the Committee on Counties. It would not be submitted as a result of the widespread opposition.

Representative Baker has worked hard on the emergency unemployment relief bill and his efforts have met with marked success. The bill calls for an appropriation of $380,300 and the amounts to be expended will go for clearing forests and parks. All sorts of attempts were made in the House to amend the bill, either by re-lawn is free from weeds, including those persistent and irrepressible dandelions.

A man who knows about such things tells me that there are two ways of keeping grass as it should be. One is plainly scientific and the other is loving care. Whether the former surpasses the latter I do not know.

There are scientists who can make an old lawn look as good as new by "treatment" and there are old-fashioned gardeners who can do the same thing in their own peculiar way. Professional green-keepers, particularly those in the British Isles, are said to be wizards in this line. Generations of them who love their work have accomplished many things.

Still I am wondering just what the idea is in the case of golf enthusiasts and the study of grass diseases. It occurs to me they want to learn the secret of how to tramp constantly on a lawn and spoil it by tennis and golf and yet keep it looking fresh and glorious.

Glad He Was Hurt

A scar on the forehead caused this young man's office mates to demand an explanation. "Come on, how did it happen?" they chorused.

Somewhat sharply the young man replied, "Of course, it's none of your business but if you must know I'll tell you. I was walking on the street."

"O, tell the truth," interrupted his tormentors.

"This is the truth," the other snapped, "and I don't care whether you believe it or not. The fact is I was hurrying along the sidewalk when somebody I knew called me. I turned around to speak to them and started ahead again. Just as I did I ran into one of the 'No Parking' signs on the curbstone. I came against it with such a bang I cut my head. But I knocked the darn thing over and smashed it. If you want to know, I'm sore I was cut but I'm tickled to death I busted the old sign."

The Street Department budget, $1,042,145.39, is over $61,000 than was expended last year and $168,542 less than asked for by Street Commissioner Stuart. Mr. Stuart asked $200,000 for resurfacing streets. The Mayor recommends $150,000. The Commissioner asked $27,000 for new sidewalks; the Mayor cut this amount to $13,000. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 7.

The Golden Text is: "We have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Corinthians 2:12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "That God is a corporeal being, nobody can truly affirm. The Bible represents Him as saying: 'Thou canst not see My face; for there shall no man see Me, and live.' Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warping no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).

POSTAL EMPLOYEES AID RELIEF WORK

The postoffice employees of Boston Postal District had a day's pay deducted from their last pay for the month of January in conjunction with the drive for the Unemployment Relief Fund in Boston. The amount sent to the local committee was contributed by postal employees residing in this city.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS MEN'S CLUB

At the February Meeting of the Men's Club of Newton Highlands held at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Tuesday evening Capt. Percy Redfern Creed gave an address on "A Britisher's View of George Washington." Mayor Sinclair, Geo. members of the Board of Aldermen, the Planning Board, Board of Assessors, and other city department officials were present as guests.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Were you one of the unfortunate autists who tried to operate a car without chains last night or early this morning—and got stalled?

Rear Admiral Yancey Sullivan Williams, in command of the Yangtze River patrol of the United States Navy, now active in the Shanghai trouble is an uncle of Mrs. Harold C. Daniels of 189 Washington street, Newton. Mrs. Daniels is the wife of Major H. C. Daniels, U. S. Marine corps. Admiral Williams' home town is Monetta, South Carolina.

If parents realized how apt automobiles are to skid on snow covered streets, they would prevent children from coasting on streets. Most persons who drive cars have had the experience of attempting futilely to control a skidding car. When children persist in coasting on streets, and a car skids onto them when brakes are applied, any parent who allows a child to indulge in such a dangerous game, is culpable. Not only do many children coast on streets, but they refuse to stand aside when a motorist sounds the horn of his car.

Without a dissenting voice, without a dissenting vote, the Newton Aldermen on Monday night passed an order which, in the opinion of the writer, is a decided step backwards. The order rescinded any existing schedules applicable to automatic increases in salaries to members of the fire and police departments in this city. For years men entering these two departments have received $1700 the first year and then $1800 each year until the maximum salary of $2100 was reached. Alderman Bail, who presented the order, explained that it would not affect any fireman or policeman now a regular member of the departments, but that it will affect anyone appointed to these departments in the future. He also stated that salary recommendations for these future appointees will be dependent on recommendations of the Chief of the Fire Department. The order, therefore, was not passed as an emergency measure to effect any economy this year because of existing conditions.

In theory, vesting the power to award salary increases in the hands of a department head improves the efficiency of that department. Devising public employees are rewarded by salary increases. Incompetent or indifferent employees are punished or stimulated to better efforts by being deprived of such increases.

In practice, experience has proved that a quite different result follows. For many years the writer worked in the United States Postal service. During our earlier years in this service postoffice clerks had no fixed salaries. While, ostensibly the service was conducted on the merit system and efficiency was supposed to be recognized, in reality "pull" rather than "push" counted. As a brilliant attorney once remarked to us "Civil service has become snivel service."

The result was—that capable and industrious clerks worked alongside incapable and lazy clerks who received larger salaries. Ability didn't count; industry didn't count; length of service didn't count. The "sine qua non" was political influence in all too many cases. If a postmaster or a supervisory official desired in fairness to obtain more salary for a deserving employee, he might be able to do so, if any salary increases were available from the appropriation after the clerks who had procured political influence had been cared for. The postal employees succeeded in changing this undesirable situation and had their salaries placed on the basis of mandatory increases. Even though the Chiefs of the Newton Police and Fire Departments would endeavor to increase in the matter, they would learn that pressure would be brought to bear on them to favor men who had the backing of politicians or influential citizens.

The method of giving automatic salary increases may have its weaknesses, but it is preferable to one which encourages the use of political influence, of favoritism, of sycophancy.

Who said we would have no winter?

Rotary Club

Members of the Newton Rotary Club were guests of the Andover Newton Theological School at Newton Centre on Monday of this week. Following the luncheon Richard I. McKenney, a colored student at the seminary, sang several solos. President Frank Richardson introduced Rev. Everett C. Herrick, President of the School, who presented Prof. Harold W. Ruopp as the chief speaker. Prof. Ruopp is a member of the faculty at Andover Newton where he is a teacher of the Art of Preaching.

He gave an interesting talk upon some observations he had made in his personal diary. In opening his remarks he referred to the change of attitude towards the business depression. How at first it was said that it was only a mirage and that it would not last. Then came the time when the evils of depression were uppermost in the public eye but now the attitude has swung towards the values that have come out of the depression.

The first value as Prof. Ruopp pointed out from entries in his diary, is that we have learned there is more to life than dollars and cents.

Talks on Juvenile Courts Before
Central Council

The second welfare conference of the Newton Central Council this season was held at a luncheon in Watertown. Mr. Albert Carter, Assistant to the Commissioner for Massachusetts, spoke on the subject, "Probation 1932."

Probation, Mr. Carter said, is a process in the administration of criminal justice which, in the disposal of the case, gives the judge a chance to figure out the facts. A judge has several alternatives in the disposition of a case; he may impose a jail sentence or a fine; he may place the case on file; he may suspend the sentence; or he may impose straight probation.

In the past 60 years Massachusetts has shown the rest of the United States the value of probation. The leadership of Mr. Herbert Parsons, who is world-famous. Probation is not a form of leniency, but of treatment. The probation officer investigates each case, gives the result of his investigation to the judge with commendations, and the judge is then able to get beneath external appearances and make an intelligent disposition of the case.

It is regrettable that Mr. Parsons must resign his position as Commissioner of Probation in Massachusetts, because he is now seventy years of age. His wisdom and humanitarianism are unique, and no one can hope to take his place. Since 1914 he has built up an elaborate statistical department, so that it is possible to get special information readily. He has been instrumental in having statutes passed, making it obligatory for every court in Massachusetts to send a record of all criminal cases every day, and any court may inquire about a case to find out what previous record an offender may have. No other state and no other country has this service, and it has been made possible because of the co-operation of probation officers.

Mr. Carter also spoke of two juvenile bills which are before the legislature at the present time: (1) the bill providing that the juvenile court age be raised to include the seventeen year old offender, who is at present tried as an adult; and (2) the Juvenile Court Probation Officers' Bill, which provides that any court which has jurisdiction over a population of more than 25,000 must have a Juvenile Probation Officer, and in courts of less than 25,000 population there shall be a Juvenile Probation Officer to be instrumental among several courts.

Mr. Eneages, Probation Officer of the Newton District Court, spoke of the great difficulty there is in collecting money this year in fines, restitution, and non-support because so many men on probation are out of work and cannot pay. If a man does not seem to be making any effort to find work, he is sometimes sent to jail, in which case his wife receives fifty cents a day for herself and twenty-five cents for each child. However, it is often better policy to allow a man to remain outside of jail if he is showing evidence of paying what he can, in the hope that it may be more than the amount he could earn at the rate of fifty cents a day.

Emory Tobin of 85 Pine Ridge road, Waban was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for not slowing his car down when he drove it past a street intersection. Patrolman Marden testified that Tobin had driven to the left of a street car at the intersection of Waverley avenue and Tremont street, Newton at a rapid rate of speed.

James Boyle, Jr., of 97 Langdon street, Newton, age 16, was fined $5 in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car too speedily.

John Cataldo of Revere was in the Newton court last Friday charged with stealing two heaters from a new house in this city. His case was continued until February 5. As a matter of fact, the heaters were installed in the house by Cataldo who never received the $300 owed him for the heaters. Herman Close, the complainant against Cataldo, claims that he holds a mortgage on the house and that he had taken possession of the building before the heaters were removed. Cataldo states that he took the heaters from the house with the permission of the owner, before Close obtained possession of the structure.

Henry Houghton of Robbins place, Waltham, was fined $100 in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday when found guilty of reckless driving. On November 24 a car driven by Houghton collided with a motorcycle operated by Patrolman Hammill of the Newton police, and the latter was injured. In the Newton court on December 16 Houghton was sentenced to serve two months in jail. He appealed and escaped the jail sentence by getting the $100 fine.

Four youths were in the Newton court last Saturday charged with burglaries at West Newton. John Manning, 17, of 57 Border street, West Newton and Eterro DeSantis, 17, of Taylor street, Waltham were charged with entering the Modern Public Market at West Newton on June 30, 1931 and stealing some merchandise. They are also charged, together with Albert Cavallo, 17, of Oak avenue, West Newton, with having entered a freight car at West Newton on June 18, 1931 and stealing a carton of spark plugs, valued at $27 and a can of coffee, valued at $5.40. Joseph Cavallo, 17, of Oak avenue, West Newton is charged with having sold some of the stolen spark plugs. Their cases were continued until February 5. The juveniles, also implicated, will be tried on that date.

Patrolman Arthur Hanlon and Serg. Bannon have been investigating these thefts for several months and their persistence resulted in the arraignment of the alleged culprits.

Gordon Raynard of 8 Sillway street, Dorchester was arrested last Saturday night at West Newton by Patrolmen Lyons and McHugh charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He failed to appear in the Newton court on Monday and a default warrant was issued for his arrest.

Rudolph J. Murray of Court street, Winthrop was arrested early Sunday morning at Newton Corner by Patrolmen Halloran and Marden. In the Newton court on Monday he was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until February 8.

Mrs. Elsie McCabe of 21 Westbourne road, Newton Centre was fined $5 in the Newton court on Monday. Patrolman Hammill testified that while doing traffic duty at the John Ward School he ordered the woman to stop at an angle. She refused to obey the officer's order. She was also charged with driving without having her license or car registration in her possession. These charges were placed on file.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING
CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The regular meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R. was held at the Newton Work-Shop of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on the afternoon of Jan. 26, 1932, with the Regent, Mrs. Albion Brown, presiding.

It was an especially interesting meeting and a large number of members and guests were present. After the salute-to-the-flag had been given, followed by other opening exercises, the business of the day was taken up. The chapter voted to give $10.00 to International College at Springfield, $15.00 to Hillside School, $5.00 to Tamassac College, $10.00 to Mrs. Seaver for Americanization work, $5.00 to Hindman School, $5.00 to Maryville College, $3.00 for Lineage Book and $2.00 for the library at Washington. This makes a total of $86.00 that has been given this year.

After the business had been finished, the Regent introduced Mrs. Lois Lyman Patten of Concord, N. H., ex-Regent of the Matthews' Thomlin Chapter of Nashua, N. H., as the speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Patten is very well known and was most enthusiastically greeted. She had chosen for her subject "Just Women" and spoke for a full hour starting with the woman of the Revolutionary period, her hardship, her bravery, and all she meant and did for her country.

From there Mrs. Patten went through the Civil War citing many instances of its heroic women and so on down to the present time.

She delighted her audience and won the admiration of all who were privileged to hear her.

At the close of the address a group of songs was rendered by Mrs. Haydon and Mrs. Beffre Dowseboth of Sherburn accompanied by Mrs. Wells of Waban.

The members and guests were then invited to partake of refreshments served by Mrs. J. H. Humphreys, Mrs. C. W. Dillaway, Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Mrs. D. E. Story, Mrs. E. E. Fewkes, Miss Fannie Hall, Dr. C. Y. Wentworth, and Miss Marion Morse.

piano. Of particular interest were the two groups of songs by Miss Marie Murray, whose beautiful contralto voice and charming personality were much appreciated.

Under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. Blair, these musical Sunday afternoons, of which there will be two more, are occasions to be anticipated.

Newton Community Club

A meeting of the Newton Community Club was held at the Underwood School, on Thursday afternoon, January 28th, with Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, president, in the chair. The main feature on the program was a talk by Mrs. Anna Tillinghast, United States Commissioner of Immigration for New England, who spoke on "America and the Alien." Her wide experience in American immigration work made the afternoon one of exceptional interest.

Several solos were rendered by Miss Helen Arden, who was accompanied by Miss Gladys Truben at the piano. During the tea and social hour that followed, the pourers were Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., Mrs. George A. Wyman, and Mrs. Frank Denison.

Newton Circle, Inc.

If the first meeting of the Board of Directors in the New Year foretells anything of the work of the Newton Circle, the coming year promises to be the most active one to which the Circle has ever looked forward. On Friday, January 29th, a large and very much interested group met at the Newtonville Methodist Church. Reports from various committees were heard. The committee on the Bazaar headed by Mrs. E. P. Brown brought in the final results, which were far beyond all expectations.

Plans for the Annual Card Party which will shortly take place, were discussed and a committee appointed. Mrs. John T. Lodge, the president, thanked all present for their hearty and loyal support, especially the Bazaar committee, the work of which had extended over months, and which needed untiring patience and devotion.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Friday afternoon, January 29th, in spite of the inclement weather, the auditorium of the Newton Centre Club House was packed to capacity with interested clubwomen to see the three one-act plays presented by the Women's Clubs of Newton Centre, Auburndale, and Newtonville.

The Newton Centre Club, presenting "Let It Go At That," gave a very thrilling performance, with all of the actresses of equal excellence. The play had been coached during the Club's Dramatic Course by Mrs. Maude Tibbets and Mrs. Wilmer Carter.

Helen Brown, playing the part of La Torche, in "A Toast That We Can Drink," given by the Auburndale Club, was most effective. All four members of the cast presented a difficult plot most skillfully.

The part of "Gardella" in the play of that name, presented by the Newtonville Club, was most delightfully taken by Hazel H. Sholley, and Hortense Rallsback gave her usual skillful performance, this particular time as "Marguerita", in the same play, the other members of the cast also, left nothing to be desired.

Those who played the characters were announced last week.

states, and meeting about three times a year; and the Secretariat, composed of approximately one hundred and twenty-five people, and divided into several sections, doing nothing but the work of the League of Nations. French and English are the languages of the Council, and of all other bodies of the League of Nations; the French being interpreted into English and the English into French as the conferences go on. The Committees report to the Council, the Council to the Assembly, and the Assembly to the Governments.

Mr. Manley gave as an example of no permanent international co-operation the conferences of 1862, 1889, and 1925, in regard to Rules of Roads at Sea, and he closed his address with the statement that for the last twelve years the World has proved the method of conducting international co-operation along consistent lines.

The Rev. Charles O. Farrar, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, who has given much time and effort during the last year in Newton Welfare Service, spoke for five minutes on the community service work and the "Open Door," which is being conducted in the Parish House of St. Paul's Church. Mr. Farrar gave an interesting report on the large amount of work that has been done since January 1931 for the Newton Hospital, Newton Welfare Bureau, and for the Newton Red Cross, and appealed to the members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club to come to the Parish House of St. Paul's the third Wednesday in each month, from 2 to 4 p. m., and work for the Newton Welfare Service.

Mrs. Robert Bonner, chairman of the Community Service committee, read the Club Philanthropic disbursements for the year, as apportioned by her committee, and the Club adopted these disbursements.

To Present New Play At Auburndale

Club Players To Stage "For Someone Else"

A new play by a Boston playwright will be produced for the first time by the Auburndale Club Players on Thursday and Friday evenings, February 18 and 19, at the Auburndale Club. The play is "For Someone Else," by Dorothy Abbott, who has given permission to the director of the Players, Ernest Law Johnson, to give its first public performance. At the present time Mrs. Abbott's play is under consideration for production in New York.

The cast that has been chosen includes Dorothy Bates, Helen Brown, Mand Lane, Clifford P. Parker, Francis Peeney, all of Auburndale, and John Scott of Weston. Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Brown will be remembered by Newton audiences who saw the one-act play, "A Toast We All Can Drink," presented by the Auburndale Women's Club in Newtonville, Newton Centre, and Auburndale recently.

"For Someone Else" has a Canadian setting, after the World War, and deals with the strange events in a family group, arising from the conflicting love of two brothers for the same girl.

Because it is anticipated that widespread interest in Auburndale will follow the first performance of "For Someone Else," the Players have announced that a forum will be conducted in the lounge of the Auburndale Club on Tuesday evening, February 23, open to all who attend the play, and are interested in a discussion of it. "For Someone Else" is the second play of the Auburndale Players' season. The first play was "On Approval" by Frederick Lonsdale.

NO ADDITION FOR BIGELOW SCHOOL

Wednesday night at the office of Mayor Weeks a meeting was held by the members of the School Committee and Aldermen who comprise the joint committee on school buildings. The purpose was to discuss the addition asked for at the Bigelow School in Newton by 900 residents of the Newton Corner section. The members of the committee were unanimous in agreeing that the addition is needed, but it was contended that because of existing economic conditions it is questionable if such an expensive project ought to be started now. So, it was decided to defer action until a more favorable time and it was agreed to hold another meeting in a few months to consider this matter further.

MAN BURNED IN TRUCK BLAZE

Early Friday morning Michael Esposito of 63 Lincoln road, Nonantum, was attempting to start the motor of a truck garaged in a shed at the rear of his house. He was being assisted by Julius Bianchi of 20 Quirk Court. The motor backfired and ignited the gasoline along the gas line. Bianchi was badly burned about the hands trying to stem the flames, and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Box 242 was pulled at 4.37 for this fire. The garage was destroyed and the truck badly damaged.

Red Sox Manager To Speak At Legion Meeting

John "Shono" Collins To Tell Baseball Experiences

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will be held in Elks' Hall, Newton, on Thursday, February 18, 1932 at 8:00 p. m. Commander Harold D. Ames will preside.

This meeting will be the first one conducted by the new staff of officers and several important committees will outline their plans for the year. Leon H. Mayer, the Chairman of the Seventh Annual Welfare Concert Committee, will submit his plans for the annual show which is staged by the local Post each spring to raise funds for its welfare work and to assist in its community service program.

The guest of the evening will be a Newton man, John ("Shono") Collins, the manager of the Boston Red Sox who will relate his experiences in the baseball world to the local Legionnaires. Moving pictures, showing the members erecting the Legion Boy Scout Cabin and the dedication exercises at the Nobscot Reservation will be shown at the meeting. Newton Post American Legion Band will provide the music.

CITY WINS $75,000 SUIT

A suit for $75,000 against the City of Newton was won by City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett in the Middlesex Superior Court last Friday. The suit was brought by the heirs of Gaetano Lucianelli of Blue Hill parkway, Milton. In 1927 Lucianelli, while walking along the sidewalk on Manet road north, Chestnut Hill, fell into a depression at the rear of an apartment building and received injuries which caused his death. It was contended that the city was negligent in not having erected a barrier between the sidewalk and the depression. The city contended that as this road was not constructed for public travel, but to afford access to the Newton reservoir, there was no liability.

CITY SEEKS RIGHT TO WIDEN STREETS

Mayor Weeks has filed a bill with the Legislature asking that the City of Newton be permitted to use part of the "triangle" site acquired for the new city hall and war memorial for the purpose of widening Commonwealth avenue, Homer and Walnut Sts. These widenings are desired to provide parking spaces.

Honored For Long Service At Saco Shops

Oscar E. Nutter Tendered Farewell Banquet

The Bowling League of the Saco-Loell Shops met at the Pettie Inn, Upper Falls, Thursday evening, February 4, 1932, for their annual dinner to close the bowling season for the year. The occasion was a farewell banquet given in honor of Mr. Oscar E. Nutter, agent, who has been employed by the Saco-Loell Shops for the past forty-five years and is now retiring.

Mr. Nutter was the guest of honor and the other honor guests were in years of service, Mr. Loren W. Penney, sixty-one, Mr. James Connors, fifty-one, and Mr. Thomas Lombard, and Mr. Adam Dymon, forty-one years each. These men who have served as active heads of their departments are now retired. Mr. Daniel Ford, the oldest active foreman in service with a record of fifty-nine years, who is still active at the plant, was also honored. The members and their guests led by Mr. M. B. Black and Mr. James Stanton held a grand march in the parlors of the Inn towards the large and spacious dining room which had been attractively decorated by Mrs. Arthur Newton, wife of the Keeper of the Inn.

The members and guests were seated at the tables by a novel arrangement of place cards denoting their years of service to the organization which ranged from sixty-one years to two years of service. Mr. W. C. Willard, led the community singing between the courses.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Black introduced the toastmaster Mr. W. H. Howarth. Each guest of honor according to their years of service, was called upon to relate what outstanding incidents if any occurred during their time. Many stories were told by the elder guests, which proved to be very amusing and interesting to the younger members. The youngest member in years of service Mr. G. L. Tucker, entertained the guests with a few magic tricks.

Mr. M. B. Black, Superintendent of the Shops made a farewell address to Mr. Nutter at the conclusion of which he presented, in behalf of the Executives and Foremen of the Saco-Loell Shops, a telechron clock as a token of their respect and admiration. Mr. Nutter responded with his heartfelt thanks in his pleasant and genial manner.

The evening festivities closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne. The music of the evening was enlivened by Chuck Doyle, an employee of the office and his orchestra. Many of the employees expect to accompany the removal of the machinery to Saco, Me., and expect to reside there in the future.

WILL IMPROVE AUBURDALE PARK

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night an appropriation will be recommended of $7316 to drain and grade swampy land adjoining the playground near Islington road, Auburndale. The drain is expected to remove a mosquito breeding menace and the area which will be filled in will add about 5 acres to the playground. It is expected that much filling will be obtained from the excavation necessary to lay the 60 inch water main along the avenue, Webster and Rowe streets next year.

Nearly 300 Given Work Last Month By Committee

Unemployed Relief Committee Issues January Report

Report of the Mayor's Relief Committee of Newton, for the month of January, issued recently by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, discloses that 270 men were employed last month at a cost of $13,726. There are still 850 men, married and single, who are unemployed, of which 345 are classed as "Heads of families in need of immediate work."

Financial report of receipts and expenditures, which is made every month by the Committee, shows that to date, since November, $49,869 has been contributed by citizens to the relief fund and the expenses have totalled $21,878, leaving a balance on hand of $27,991.

During January, according to Leon B. Rogers, Chairman of the Committee, relief was given to 89 families through the Newton Welfare Bureau at a cost of $866. Loans for the month, made after investigation, totalled $2100. On calls from citizens for men to do "odd jobs" 53 men and women earned $762 and 138 cords of wood were delivered to 184 families.

Unemployed men also were put to work by the Committee as watchmen, and for clerical work. Wood was cut, land cleared and municipal fences painted and repaired, making work for others, at the Nobscot Boy Scout Reservation, Lowell avenue, Plainville, Auburndale Park, Thompsonville Playground, Edmonds Valley Park, Commonwealth Avenue and Chestnut streets.

The analysis of unemployment registration given follows:—345 heads of families need immediate work; 40 heads of families need work within two weeks; 235 single men need work when funds are available; 100 families still to be investigated as to real need; 130 families registered who can care for themselves temporarily.

WOULD STOP PUBLIC EMPLOYEES FROM HOGGING JOBS

A hearing was held Monday at the State House on a bill which would prevent laborers, policemen and firemen regularly employed by cities, towns, the State or the Metropolitan District from engaging in any other work for hire. Many complaints have been received in the past few years, with so many out of employment, of firemen, policemen and city and town laborers working at other jobs in addition to their regular employment. The bill was favored by Senator Arthur W. Hollis of this city and by A. Leslie Moriarty of West Newton, President of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees. It was opposed by M. J. McGonigle of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association.

CHARLES RIVER COUNTRY CLUB

The third game of the series of the Duxbury Contract Bridge Tournament was held at the Charles River Country Club on Monday evening. The winners were Mr. and Mrs. John Bollinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. Harry Hutchinson, Mr. Walter and Mr. Fred Godsoe, Mr. and Mrs. Irving C. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Ames and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Mulock.

On Saturday evening, February 20th, the first dinner dance of the season will be held. This is the annual Washington's Birthday dinner dance.

Large Attendance At Meeting Of Welfare Bureau

Over $25,000 Spent for Direct Relief of Families

Many of the contributors and friends of the Newton Welfare Bureau were present at its Annual Meeting on Wednesday afternoon, February 3, at 12 Austin street. They heard reports of the work done during the year 1931 and also a most interesting talk by the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. William H. Pear, General Agent of the Boston Provident Association, on "Trends—Public and Private."

Mr. Elliott B. Church, President, presided and made a few remarks on the facts she brought out. There are four divisions of the work of the Bureau: 1. The Family Welfare Work which has gone on for over forty years, first with the Associated Charities, then for the last sixteen years with the Newton Welfare Bureau.

2. The Christmas Seal Health Fund, spent only for anti-tuberculosis work, supervised by a very strict and watchful Health Committee of which Dr. Cecil W. Clark is Chairman.

3. The Home Service Work of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, done under the auspices of the Bureau, by Miss Esther Mayhew Walker, who has been doing this type of work since the War Days of 1917.

4. All unemployment cases in need of direct Home Relief, co-operating with the Mayor's Relief Committee and being reimbursed by this Committee for all unemployment relief money expended.

Among other things, Miss Chapin drew attention to the fact that although the budget expenses of the Bureau were only $20,127.00, altogether over $41,000.00 had passed through the Bureau and was disbursed during the year 1931. This money was divided as follows:

Newton Welfare Bureau

Expenses — $20,127.32

Mayor's Relief Committee

Relief — 11,491.45

Mayor's Relief Committee

Salaries — 2,137.50

Health Fund — 7,533.23

Total — $41,289.50

Of this amount, over $25,000.00 went for direct relief of one kind or another into families which is about 61% of the total.

Nine hundred and eleven families were assisted by the Bureau during the year, as compared with only 534 in 1930, and 408, 404, 340, in the three years previous—so that the work has practically doubled in two years and tripled in five years. A corresponding increase is shown in the camp work during the summer months,—169 sent on vacations last year, and during the previous three summers 157, 124, 63.

Thanksgiving and Christmas work has also increased steadily each year. Milk bills were unusually large, $4420.00, being spent during the year. Over 14,000 articles of clothing, mostly second hand, some new made by churches and schools, were given out through the Clothing Chest by members of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

One cannot hear the statistics of the Bureau without realizing that many serious and involved family situations must come to the attention of the Bureau during the course of its work—474 Medical Cases, 67 Legal Cases, 36 Dental Cases, Children Placed, People Admitted to Institutions, etc., etc., through the whole gamut of human experience.

Mr. Pear took the subject farther afield, showing by charts how relief totals had increased, not only in various localities but throughout the United States. He showed that human suffering had increased in places where sufficient relief was not given, and also that it was costly to society in the long run in decreased physical vitality and stamina, rickety and undernourished children, increased drinking among the men, etc. Massachusetts, in his opinion, and in the opinion of many, has met the present burden of unemployment relief as well as any other state in the Union, because of the whole gamut of human experience.

Noted Chinese Orator To Speak At Newtonville

Rare Opportunity To Hear Of Sino-Jap Disturbance

Residents of the Newton will be afforded a rare opportunity to hear about the Sino-Japanese disturbance and its allied problems at a "Chinese Night" to be held on Friday, Feb. 26, at the Newtonville M. E. Church under the auspices of the Clafin Men's Club. Dr. Tehyl Hsieh, noted Chinese diplomat, scholar and orator extraordinary, will be the chief speaker at the affair. With all the world wondering as to the outcome of the disturbance in the Far East, the opportunity comes at a most propitious time. No other man in this country and perhaps in any other country is better informed or more capable of giving the real facts and true prophecy of the future of China than Dr. Hsieh, who has become known as the "Teddy Roosevelt of China."

It has been said of Dr. Hsieh that he is the "national interpreter of Chinese aspirations, philosophy and hopes." He is a brilliant orator, a master of the English language and a student of world affairs. He was China's first representative at the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, where he was regarded as one of the outstanding speakers. He is managing director of the Chinese Trade Bureau in Boston, the only Chinese member of the American Branch of the International Law Association, a graduate of Cambridge University and for a long time has been prominent in Chinese diplomatic service.

Preceding Dr. Hsieh's address, which will be given in the auditorium of the church, the committee in charge of the Clafin Club meeting is arranging a dinner to be served at 6:30 in the assembly hall of the church. A Chinese dinner with Chinese waiters, a Chinese orchestra, a Chinese string ensemble, Chinese soloists and other equally effective features will have their part in the program. The small admission charge will be solely to cover expenses and provide a small surplus to go to the Chinese Students' Fund.

cause of its well organized and well administered system of Public Welfare Departments. Mr. Pear said he felt that the only way to guard against this great and increasing amount of relief money being imposed upon and also undermining our proud New England heritage of independence and self-reliance,—was to disburse it by careful, well analyzed case-work, individualizing needs in families instead of doling money out to masses.

Mr. William M. Cahill, Treasurer, gave a report of the money received and expended, the accounts of which had been duly audited by Mr. Thomas R. White.

Dr. Cecil W. Clark gave a very excellent report of the work of the Christmas Seal Health Fund.

The following Officers and Directors were elected for 1932:

President: Mr. Elliott B. Church.

Vice-Presidents: Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mr. Leon B. Rogers, Mr. Fred H. Tucker.

Treasurer: Mr. William M. Cahill.

Clerk: Miss Dorothy Simpson.

Directors for Three Years: Mrs. Norman Bingham, Dr. George F. H. Bowers, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, Rev. Dwight Bradley, Mr. Grosvenor Calkins, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Mr. James P. Gallagher, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr., Mrs. Gifford LeClerc, Mr. Michael Madden, Dr. Edward Mellus, Dr. Boynton Merrill, Mrs. Marcus Morton, Rev. John S. Moses, Mrs. Charles A. Riley, Miss Callista Roy, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mr. Herbert P. Wasagatt, Mr. Clarence Weaver, Mr. Ulysses G. Wheeler, Mr. Palmer York.

Dr. Griggs To Give Read Fund Lecture Course

"Divine Comedy of Dante" to Be Subject This Year

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs will be the speaker for the free lecture course under the Read Fund again this winter. Beginning February 19th, he will give a series of five lectures on "The Divine Comedy of Dante." As usual, the lectures will be held at the Underwood School Auditorium on Vernon street on Friday evenings.

The lectures will be as follows: February 19, "The Life and Times of Dante and the Problem of the Divine Comedy"; February 26, "The Spiritual Meaning of Sin: the Inferno"; March 4, "The Mountain of Purification: the Purgatorio"; March 11, "The Earthly and the Heavenly Paradise"; March 18, "The Poetry of the Sublime: The Beatific Vision."

These lectures will be the forty-eighth series under the Read Fund. Dr. Griggs is a well known and popular speaker in Newton, he having given the series for quite a number of years. It is expected that the auditorium will again be crowded to capacity each night by lovers of classic literature.

NEWTON CITIZENS' CLUB

About the first of this year a new civic club was organized in this city for the purpose of promoting good citizenship and furthering interest in good government. It is known as the Newton Citizens' Club and its officers are—John Finelli, president; Simon Grinspoon, vice-president; Constantine Lupo, secretary and James Dangelo, treasurer.

A committee on naturalization is studying the marital status of the members to determine the eligibility of wives or husbands of members to citizenship. Classes in American government will also be conducted to prepare non-citizens for naturalization examination. All services rendered in such preparation will be gratis.

The need of starting such an organization is shown by the fact that although this organization is only a month old, over 400 citizens of Newton have already applied for membership. With applications coming in daily from heretofore disinterested citizens, the organization seems to be assured of a successful achievement of its purpose.

TO PRESENT COMEDY TO AID UNEMPLOYED

On Saturday and Sunday evenings, February 27 and 28, at the Waban Neighborhood Club, "Behold This Dreamer," the comedy in which Glenn Hunter starred a few years ago, will be presented under the combined sponsorship of the Waban Woman's Club, the Waban Improvement Society and the Waban Neighborhood Club, the proceeds to go to Waban's quota of the Mayor's Relief Committee.

This play was recently given in Newton Centre by the Newton Dramatic Club and scored a tremendous success.

The cast includes Messrs. Don Charlton, John Hillier, H. J. Pettengill, Jr., and Harry Cummings of Waban; Miss Muriel Pearce, recently of Waban but now of Newton Centre; together with Messrs. Robert Reed, Edgar Swale, A. Hurford Crosman, Miss Mariada Comer and Mrs. Elsie Walsh of Newtonville. Mrs. Everett W. Varney of Newton Centre, director of productions of the Newton Dramatic Club, is the producer and coach.

The committee in charge representing the three Waban societies sponsoring this presentation is composed of Robert W. Moore, Henry W. Robbins, Philip Verplank, H. J. Pettengill, Jr., Lewis E. Day, Mrs. S. Bruce Black, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Vernon Durbin and Mrs. Marjorie Mason.

Several local youths now attending various colleges will compete against some of the club stars from the Pacific Coast at the annual B. A. A. games tomorrow evening. Carl Pescosolido and Hamilton Kollmyer will be competing for Harvard; Curtis Scott, Jimmie McCrudden and probably George Lamb will represent Northeastern University on their favorite events; and Tom Clausen of the B. A. A. and others will be on hand. The presence of a number of star athletes of the Los Angeles A. C. and other leading track athletes such as George Spitz, world record holding high jumper, Leo Lermond, miler, Gay Chapman and George Bulwinkle, 1000-yard runners, Joe McCloskey and Gus Moore, distance runners and many others make this year's meet the most colorful in recent years.

Garrison Stars

John Garrison, West Newton youth, on the U. S. Amateur Olympic hockey team playing at Lake Placid, has been one of America's outstanding players. He has figured in several scores while the team was winning from Germany and Poland this week and tallied the only goal in the game in which Canada defeated the U. S. last Saturday 2 to 1.

HOCKEY TITLE AT STAKE IN FINAL GAME

The championship of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League will be at stake tomorrow afternoon in the final games of the season at the Boston Garden. Newton, Melrose and Medford all have a chance to win the title which has been won for the past several years by Melrose. As Newton will meet Melrose in the feature game of the four scheduled the final outcome of the race will depend largely upon this game. Medford, a newcomer to the league this year, is a heavy favorite to defeat the last place Cambridge Latin sextet. At present Newton high holds the lead with 11 points by virtue of five victories and one tie, the latter with Medford. Melrose and Medford occupy second place together with 10 points, each having won four games and tied two. With only one game left with a total of 12 points by winning from the Cantabs, Newton can exceed this total only by defeating Melrose, thus totalling 13 points. Melrose, even though winning from Newton can do no better than tie Medford with 12 points. Should Newton and Melrose tie it will leave Newton and Medford deadlocked at the top of the circuit. As its only chance to win the title lies in defeating Melrose the Newton sextet will be out to do or die and as no overtime sessions can be played because the teams must leave the ice in order to prepare the surface for the evening professional game the affair is quite likely to reach no final decision. Should two of the teams find themselves tied for first place there will be no playoff game.

Coach Dr. Martin's Newton team maintained its slight hold on first place last Saturday by defeating Arlington High 4 to 2. Dick Kelley tallied the first Newton goal in 21 seconds taking a tricky pass from Al Carvelli to turn the trick for the only tally of the first period although Newton continually peppered the Arlington goalie. In the second period the orange and black took a 3 to 0 lead. Charlie Houghton made Newton's second counter on a solo dash. The Newton second line made the third tally with "Bud" Manning passing the puck to Al DeGeorge who caged it while Arlington was caught up the ice. In the final session Arlington got in some fast hockey with Phil Lane scoring the first tally to save a shutout. Al Carvelli scored Newton's final tally while shot came from an Arlington defense man and into the net. Hicks of Arlington took a pass from Lane for Arlington's second tally and the final of the day.

In other games Medford topped Belmont 3 to 2 in a hectic struggle, Melrose had a tough battle with Rindge but the latter team faded in the final period while Melrose swept through with a 5 to 1 victory, and Stoneham edged Cambridge Latin 5 to 4.

NEWTON QUINTET WINS TWO GAMES

The Newton High School basketball team won two games the past week defeating Quincy High 22 to 16 last week Friday and annexing its first Suburban league victory of the season by turning back Somerville High, 25 to 17 on Wednesday afternoon. Both games were played at Newton.

The victory over Quincy came with a late second half rally that wiped out the visitors' lead. At half time Newton was on the short end of 15 to 12 count. Quinlan starred for the orange and black caging five goals from the floor.

The victory over Somerville came as one of the upsets of the current schoolboy basket season. Warren Huston, ineligible from sickness, was back in the game for the first time in a month and his presence was a main factor in the improvement of the Newton's play. About a month ago Newton was trounced by the Somerville team at Somerville 25 to 6 and Wednesday's victory was doubly sweet. Newton got off to a 7 to 3 lead in the first quarter and Somerville never quite caught up. At half time the Newton lead was 15 to 10 and in the third period the locals matched basket for basket and in the final session increased their margin.

Huston and Flag tallied seven points each to lead the Newton attack. The victory put Newton in a tie with Cambridge Latin for third place in the league standing and it also prevented Somerville from climbing to a deadlock with Rindge for first place. This afternoon Newton goes to Cambridge Latin for the return game and hopes to leave the cellar berth in the Cantabs possession.

NEWTON LOSES FIRST MEET IN FOUR YEARS

Newton High school's four year string of dual indoor track meet victories was ended last Saturday afternoon when Brookline High outscored the Newton tracksters on the Brookline track 40½ to 36½. This score added to the score of the meet at Newton two weeks previous, which is the usual custom in indoor track meetings between the two rivals, gave Brookline a 77½ to 76½ margin as Newton had taken a 40 to 37 point lead on the Newton track. The Newton team, led by Captain Jimmy Cahill and versatile Stanley Johnson, outdid themselves in striving to maintain the edge but athletic accomplishments faded before the combined contributions of a slippery track and the fallings of the starting gun. The circumstances were unusual and it was only a misfortune that prevented a Newton victory of nine points instead of a defeat by a single point. Individual accomplishments by several Newton lads brought the affair to the closing event, the relay race, with Newton leading by one point for the afternoon, 36½ to 35½.

Douglas Sloane of Newton and Moss of Brookline got on their marks for the start of the relay with the Brookline youth on the pole. Anxious to get away Moss jumped the gun and the starter attempted to fire again to call the runners back only to have the gun fail to discharge while the runners continued on with Moss a yard in the lead. Sloane attempted to pass as the pair came off the start but slipped on one of the many wet spots on the track and fell. Regaining his feet he made a gallant pursuit of the lost cause but to no avail. Before he had completed his two laps he had taken another spill on the opposite corner of the track and from then on it was a hopeless affair although Bill Cusumano, Frank Tuschler and Stanley Cohen led the Newton team. The Wealthy Towners considerably despite the fact that Cahill also fell. Following the event which swung the tide of victory to Brookline cries of protest went up from the Newton supporters at the failure of the officials to halt the race after the gun failed to go off for the recall but it was apparent nothing could be done about the unfortunate affair.

There was nothing that could lick the Newton team but some unforeseen circumstances as those which took place. The orange and black athletes were fighting for victory as they never fought before. Coach Enoch was convalescing in the hospital from an appendicitis operation and his charges were doing their best for their coach and his assistant Charles Considine.

The hurdles were the first event and after the trials had been held Stanley Johnson defeated Palsner of Brookline in a close brush to the tape in the final. Elliot Bradley of Newton took third to duplicate the point division at Newton in the previous meeting.

The dash put added hope into the Newton youths as Sloane edged Stanley Cohen in a close race in the finals with Bill Terry taking third. At Newton Cohen had been the victor over both the Newton runners.

The athletes then went to the gymnasium for the shotput and the 100 yard race. Newton won at Newton with Schwartz, Lourie and Hall finishing in that order.

Outside again the 300 was the next event with two runners in each heat and the best times to count. Captain Cahill won the first heat handily and Sloane took the second heat. Frank Tuschler and Stanley Cohen opposed each other in the third heat with Cohen getting off in the lead. Tuschler was on Cohen's heels all the way and coming off the last bank started a drive that carried him to the front to win by inches. On the basis of times Cahill and Tuschler tied for first with Cohen and Sloane tying for third. Newton won at Newton with Schwartz, Lourie and Hall finishing in that order.

Inside again the high jump was held and once again Johnson came through to clear the bar on his final try to take second place over the Plotkin brothers of Brookline who tied for third. Schwartz cleared the bar at 5 ft. 10 in. and Johnson tallied twice before coming through. As Johnson wished to save himself for the broad jump and as Schwartz is a consistent 5 ft. 10 in. performer the Newton youth conceded first place making Schwartz a double winner for Brookline and that team's high point scorer with 10 points.

The 600 yard run was the next event and as Willie Mullen and Joe Pescosolido had gone on probation for infraction of school rules earlier in the week Newton was without an experienced entry at this distance. Captain Jimmy Cahill showed his gameness by shouldering the Newton responsibility in this race and stepped out into the lead from the start. Enright, Brookline captain and star 600-yarder, let Cahill set the pace for a few laps and then took the lead. Cahill kept a few strides behind Enright and on the last lap started a finish that thrilled the spectators. On the home stretch Enright had just enough left to stave off Cahill's spurt and save the third for the Wealthy Towners. Palsner of Brookline took third. At Newton first place was all Brookline got in the 600 so that Coach Hines' team picked up a point here which would have been valuable to Newton.

The standing broad jump was won by Johnson of Newton with a leap of 9 ft. 10½ in. Enright, Brookline, taking second and third. The result was similar to the jump at Newton. Johnson's first place gave him 13 points to make him high scorer of the meet again.

In the 1000-yard run Tom Fitzgerald of Newton stepped into the lead with the gun and never headed, winning by nearly 10 yards from Rae of Brookline with Palsner of Brookline third.

OUR LADY HIGH STILL WINNING

The Our Lady High School basketball team annexed two more victories in the Catholic High School league race by topping Mission High of Roxbury, 47 to 16 last week Friday at the Roxbury court and overwhelming St. Mary's High of Brookline, 61 to 16 on Tuesday at the Newton floor. In both games Steve MacLean and Charlie Gallagher tallied the greater part of the scoring. Against Mission the pair of star forwards caged 39 of the 47 points with MacLean counting 23 and Gallagher 16. In the St. Mary's game MacLean scored 18 points and Gallagher 15 for more than half Our Lady's points. Baccari, who relieved Gallagher for a time tossed in five baskets.

Meanwhile St. Charles of Waltham also won both its games to cling close to the Newton sextet, defeating Cathedral and Immaculate Conception by comfortable margins.

SPORT NOTES

Spain Aids Green

Yale's hockey team upset Dartmouth for the third time this season by winning from the Green at Hanover last Saturday 7 to 4. The Green was unable to stop Allie Fletcher, ex-Newton star, and his teammate, Ed Fletcher, figured in four of the Blue's goals, caging two and passing to Todd for two others. Frank Spain, another former Newton star, was the outstanding Green performer with three goals. Tivon, ex-Newton athlete also took part in the game as spares. Joe Gilligan played wing for Yale and Bob Bennett defense for Dartmouth part of the time.

Gallagher Figures

Herb Gallagher, local youth on the Northeastern University hockey team, figured in three of the Huskies tallies which enabled the Hub team to win from New Hampshire Tuesday at the Arena 6 to 2. Henry Furdon, another local youth on the Husky squad, was out of the game with a sprained ankle.

SEARS-KIMBALL

Miss Elizabeth Josephine Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brewster Kimball, was married to Richard Frederick Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Sears of North Attleboro, on Saturday afternoon, February sixth, at the home of her parents, 350 Chestnut street, West Newton. The ceremony was performed by Archdeacon Ernest J. Dennen of Cambridge. The couple knelt on a prie-dieu covered with white satin pillows before a background of Old Italian gold and silver brocade. Easter lilies and ferns, the approach to which was between aisle posts covered with white satin and banked with hyacinths, greenery and Easter lilies. Candle-light glowing from old candelabra furnished the lighting effect.

The bride wore a gown of white satin modeled with a train and long sleeves. Her veil of old rose point lace was caught with sprigs of lilies-of-the-valley, freesia and gardenias. She was presented in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Welles Everett Holmes of Waban as matron of honor and Miss Helen Martin Sears of North Attleboro as maid of honor. They were gownned alike in eggshell crepe with tucked jackets of orange crepe and carried shower bouquets of tallisman roses, freesia and sweet peas. The groom was attended by his father, Frederick W. Sears. The ushers were Peter Cook and Robert Blackington of Providence, Rhode Island, Warren Carley of North Attleboro and Welles E. ROGER J. GARDNER LUMBER

Kiwanis Club

Lincoln's life and the lessons it teaches were advocated as an antidote for the depression by the Rev. Maurice Bullock, speaker at the regular Tuesday noon-day luncheon of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

Disheartened men who are struggling to keep business alive would benefit greatly, more at this time than any other, the speaker said, by the inspiration to be gained in a study of the great commoner's life.

Rev. Mr. Bullock, who is a student of Lincoln lore, sketches the life of this great American from the day of his birth, 123 years ago this very week, through the years of his legal and political activity and his struggles for abolition of slavery. It was one of the best Kiwanis addresses of recent times.

"One person more than any other moulded the Lincoln mind," said Rev. Bullock. "She was a frail little woman, a delicate little girl, but she—Nancy Hanks—his mother, taught him to say his prayers, taught him to read, set his mind and made such an impression on him that although she died when he was only nine years old, he declared to the whole world in a sentence that never will be forgotten:

"All that I am and all I ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." In his life there is strange application to the ancient Mohammedan saying that "what's taught before seven, will be remembered in heaven."

Lincoln was described as a "normal product of his time." Other boys besides Lincoln were born in a log cabin, the speaker pointed out, but they were reared under primitive conditions, but this boy had the will and the capacity to develop those gifts impressed upon him by his mother. He was all through his life "part and parcel of his time," and the problems of the century presented a tremendous challenge to him which he accepted.

"What was there about him that made him so great," asked the speaker. Then answering his own query he described the characteristics of Abraham Lincoln, told stories of his simplicity and his honesty, disclosing his greatness. "There is a tendency," he said, "among modern biographers to tear down our great heroes, to drag great names in the dirt. One not so long ago told us that Washington owned slaves. These modern biographers belong to the scandal school of writers, but not one of them has been able to write that kind of a book about Abraham Lincoln. They can't tear Lincoln down, because he has always been down, he had always been a common man, a simple man. His greatness, in part, lies in the fact that he was a common man."

In the opinion of Rev. Bullock there never has been an occupant of the White House who was as truly religious as Abraham Lincoln, although Lincoln never was a member of any church. None of the Presidents ever better expressed their belief in God or displayed a finer Christianity than Lincoln. He was, the speaker said, truly religious, in the real sense of the word.

Finally, as a stimulus to business men, harassed by the depression the speaker advised the reading of Lincoln's life. He declared that a study of the commoner's efforts will prove inspiring to men of today.

The meeting was presided over by Charles A. Mahoney, president of the club. Numerous guests were present to hear the speaker, who was introduced by Attorney James P. Gallagher, Kiwanian Lieut.-Governor of the Fifth Division.

Rotary Club

At this week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday, a delegation of members of the Zonta Club of Newton and of the Rotary Clubs of Concord and Needham attended as guests. This was the first opportunity that the Rotarians had of getting acquainted with the Zonta ladies whose organization is along the lines of the Rotary Club. Twelve of the 22 members were able to come and their president, Miss Fuller, spoke briefly in response to Mr. Richardson's welcome, as did also the president of the Needham Club and the vice-president of the men from Concord. Mr. Leland R. Wood, the present governor of the 31st district, to which the local club belongs, was also present and spoke briefly. The chief address was given by a former president of this district, Mr. Bruce McCullough, of Pawtucket, who spoke in a very interesting and informing way of the duties of the club members in regard to the international activities of Rotary. Mr. McCullough gave a fine account of the many contacts made in Europe last summer, contacts which destroy the misunderstandings with which we are apt to be possessed. He spoke of the internal difficulties under which the different European countries are laboring and the very great difficulty Americans have in understanding various situations. Many Europeans feel that only America can help them out of their troubles, and so there is a great responsibility resting upon us. Interesting was an account of a visit to the plenary session of the League of Nations when Dr. Curtius of Germany was the speaker. Mr. McCullough feels that the League, even though weak, is already doing a great work in its dissemination of information on world affairs and as a substitute for the old worn-out diplomacy of the past.

MID-WINTER CONCERT

The annual mid-winter concert of the Newton High School Band and Orchestra last Friday evening in the high school assembly hall attracted an audience of several hundred people. The orchestra offered the first part of the program of several numbers including feature solos by Edward Sargent on the trumpet and Elmer Vaughan on the piano. The band took the stage for the second part of the program which included a solo on the baritone by Mary Pattee and a violin solo by Anna Kovitz. The band and orchestra combined to bring the program to a close with three numbers, one of which, "Cherrytime" was composed by Charles R. Spaulding, director. The entire concert showed a deep appreciation of music by the young musicians and reflects great credit upon the work of Mr. Spaulding.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA

We have received a communication from a Newtonville resident who agrees with us upon our recent suggestion to make Washington street a boulevard type of highway and who also approves the plan for rotary traffic at Commonwealth avenue and Washington streets as recommended by the Planning Board. In addition the caring of traffic at the junction of Commonwealth Avenue and Walnut street by means of a similar traffic circle is advocated. Our correspondent urges that while the city is widening Walnut and Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue in connection with the new city hall project, that the present is the time to take this matter under consideration. Walnut street is now one of the secondary State routes and there seems little doubt but that the traffic on this route will be considerably increased when the new Hammond Wood Parkway is connected with Beacon street or Commonwealth avenue. The idea is excellent but in view of the necessary economy that must be practiced in municipal expenditures it is most likely that such a project will be pigeonholed.

Under The Gilded Dome

Business has been handled with greater dispatch by this year's Legislature as compared with the General Courts of 1931 and 1930. The figures show that in spite of the commendable swiftness there is still a number of matters pending in committee. Last year at this time there had been 158 matters reported by the various committees. This year at present there have been 233 matters reported, indicating a decided improvement. Still, the committees are wasting time over some of the bills. For instance, there are 428 matters which have been heard publicly and which await final disposition by the committees. There are 508 matters assigned for future hearing and 310 matters not yet assigned for hearing. To date (figures issued officially this week) there have been assigned for hearings 1269 matters and of these 233 have been reported.

As a matter of fact the Legislature is going along at a remarkably even and satisfactory rate of speed. One or two criticisms have been offered by speakers who have said the same thing in previous years. The usual talk of "undue haste" is not taken very seriously by those familiar with the facts. A certain amount of this business of making charges is pure political strategy and intended for local consumption, which means campaign purposes.

Conditions seem fair for a comparatively early adjournment. There is always something to delay things, but the general opinion seems to be that prorogation can be reached early in May without trouble. As a matter of fact, the Legislature will have to finish sometime in May in order to allow members to attend the National conventions of the two great parties in June. These are to be held in Chicago and Democrats and Republicans will want to be on hand. That makes it practically certain that the Legislature this year will not be in session after the middle of May.

Apparently the Joint Ways and Means Committee is first going to get the budget settled before taking up the matter of salaries and their possible reduction. The budget, which is really the general appropriation bill, is now in the hands of the Joint Ways and Means Committee, which is striving in every way possible to cut down all departmental expenses. When this job is completed it will consider the suggestion of Gov. Ely and measures of similar import, providing for a reduction of 10 percent in salaries of State and county employees receiving $2000 a year and more. Public hearings have been held by this same committee and the next step is a report to the Legislature. The committee, having decided to finish first with the budget, would seem to be eager to know just where the State stands financially before digging into the question of salaries.

Compulsory automobile liability insurance legislation has attracted only a small following. Last fall the subject was considered of such vast importance that a special session of the Legislature was called. Long, largely attended hearings were held, there were days and days of debate and finally the Legislature adjourned without having done hardly a thing. In spite of this there was a deluge of bills this year to amend the compulsory insurance law. Public hearings, however, have drawn only a handful of spectators. Indications are that the 1932 General Court will follow the example of the special session and adjourn without meddling with the existing law in any way.

Both branches this week accepted the adverse committee reports on bills to provide that women be eligible for jury service. This apparently disposes of the matter for the present session. There is no question but what its supporters will be on hand next session with a similar bill. The first annexation measure has been reported adversely by the committee and the report upheld. It provided that Revere be annexed to Boston. Little support was found for the idea.

The Massachusetts Department, American Legion, was unsuccessful in its efforts to have legislation passed providing that unauthorized persons be prohibited from wearing any portion of the uniform of the Legion while selling merchandise on public ways.

Legislation intended to allow school committees of cities and towns to expend money for athletic equipment of pupils has failed of passage this year. An aggressive effort will be made this year to have some sort of legislation passed that will legalize betting on horse races. For some reason or other those in favor have an idea that it is a particularly favorable session for the passage of such legislation. There was an all-day hearing Tuesday before Committee on Legal Affairs at which much was said on both sides. The absence of more important legislation places this bill among the principal pieces of legislation this year.

By L. D. G. Bentley

Wasn't it because we were short of everything else that we thought we wouldn't have much snow this winter?

Just Listen To This

When I first heard the phrase "radio etiquette" I was puzzled because it had never occurred to me that such a thing existed. My ignorance was due to the fact that I had never been associated with the studios of broadcasting stations. Apart from three or four flights on the air my dealings with the microphone and announcers was limited. Some of my closest friends are radio officials and artists. From them I learned that "radio etiquette" has to do with the attitude of announcers towards their unseen audience, the introduction of speakers or performers and in general the gracious display of good manners and good taste in connection with the presentation of a program.

The knowledge of these things started me to laughing—laughing at myself, mark you—for I had a hazy idea that "radio etiquette" meant the use of a set in one's home. I thought, of course I wasn't sure, that when you wanted to hear a certain thing and gave way to somebody else who wished to tune-in on a different program you were displaying "radio etiquette". Now I am prepared to say that if there isn't a code of ethics in regard to the loud speaker at the family fireside there should be.

A man and his wife went to call on some neighbors. These families were not especially intimate and their visits were infrequent. The man and his wife would have liked to have a neighborly chat but their host and hostess had the radio going full tilt and made a move to shut it off. At least they might have asked if their callers objected. But, no, the blasting continued throughout the evening and as a result, I happen to know, it will be a long time before this man and his wife "drop in" again on these neighbors.

I myself have happened in to call on friends only to find that some radio program in which they were interested was at that hour in progress. I politely begged them not to shut it off and as I recall they didn't. Once I had to listen for a full hour to a speaker who was making a sort of assertion, wild and woolly, just because one member of the household was keen to hear it.

What then can be done about it? As far as my narrow and myopic eyes can penetrate there is no solution. People who have a yearning for things that come through the loud speaker, regardless of the lack of artistry, the subject or the performer, are just going to have their own way about it. They won't shut it off as long as it pleases them, no matter what their guests may think. And that's that.

Pictorial Keepsakes

The individual who collects photographs of his family and himself and who has a number of flashlights taken at public dinners, college reunions, notable gatherings, etc., has my admiration. Of course, I have my own accumulation of pictures, but there is nothing orderly in my methods. For that reason I envy the friends who can tell me exactly where this picture was taken, the date and the occasion. He is quite likely to have indexed his collection or placed on the back of his each picture complete information for his descendants. Naturally, he assumes that the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren are as much interested and absorbed as he is. Let us not question his faith, but applaud his enthusiasm, industry and optimism.

At the same time, this kind of man is really acting as a family historian. It really never occurred to me until I was made aware of certain things by Dr. Leicester B. Holland, Chief of the Division of Fine Arts of the Library of Congress, that little will be left to the imagination of the historian of the future in reconstructing the events of the present era, providing he has the patience.

It appears that the Library of Congress has a unique collection of thousands of photographs of persons and events which dramatically preserve contemporary civilization. The range extends from Presidential inaugurations to sports and comprises almost every human activity in our civilization. These pictures were until recently placed in storage at the Congressional Library but are now being sorted in appropriate groupings, indexed and cross indexed, so that anyone interested in a special phase of political or social history may obtain views of what he wants or something analogous.

If the Government thinks enough of photographs to dignify them with a place in the Library of Congress, there seems to be no reason why the enterprising individual may not continue collecting personal negatives. He is doing something interesting and worth while, which is not always the way people dispose of their time.

Attention, Old-Timers

It is permissible, sometimes, to turn back the years. Or, if it isn't permitted it is done, nevertheless. So, let's recall a barber shop of 20 or more years ago. We didn't see any women patrons then, did we? Nor did we observe a display of all sorts of fancy toilet articles for men and women. But we did see a copy of the Police Gazette, an illustrated weekly printed on pink paper. This was the only journal to use that color of newspaper and for that reason it could be identified across the shop. The Police Gazette occupied a conspicuous place on the table amid the collection of reading matter provided for customers. It seemed to belong in a barber shop and nowhere else. At least you wouldn't expect to find it in any other spot unless it be a poolroom.

The Gazette was the forerunner of the tabloid daily, although published

She joined the First Congregational Church in 1877 and was president of the Women's Society at the church for 7 years. She was a charter member of the Newton Centre Women's Club, served as its secretary and historian and wrote the history of the club on its 40th anniversary. Her funeral service was held Saturday, February 6, Rev. Dwight Bradley of the First Church officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mrs. Harwood is survived by her husband; a son, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., and two grandchildren.

MRS. OLIVE C. MARSH

Mrs. Olive C. Marsh of 319 Highland avenue, West Newton, wife of Edward A. Marsh, died on February 6. She was born in Chicopee 93 years ago and had resided in this city for 48 years. Mrs. Marsh and her husband, who is 94, were married 70 years ago last June at Springfield. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Henry Talbot of 319 Highland avenue and Mrs. A. L. Fisher of Highland Park, Michigan; and two granddaughters, Ruth and Helen Fisher. The former resided in this city for several years and graduated from Newton High School. Funeral services for Mrs. Marsh were held at her late home on Monday, Rev. Boynton Merrill of the Second Congregational Church, of which Mrs. Marsh was a member, officiated. Cremation was at Mount Auburn.

MRS. CARRIE G. EDWARDS

Mrs. Carrie G. Edwards of 77 Kirkstall road, Newtonville died on February 10. She was the widow of P. Corning Edwards and was born in North Troy, New York 74 years ago. It was the same size as those lurid newspapers that print nothing but pictures and headlines on the front page. And the Gazette was full of spic reading, dealing largely with murders, divorces, prize-fighting, horse-racing and theatrical news. Compared to the modern "tab" it was conservative, but in those days one was apt to blush if caught reading it by some of the more sedate and dignified members of the community. A furtive perusal of the Police Gazette was as much a part of youth's haircutting experience as the clippers and the bay rum. The three sort of went together. Those boys who were caught reading this pink paper were warned against a terrible future, including prison and possibly hanging, if they persisted in their fiendish desires. How amusing it is to compare the old Police Gazette with the dizzy tabloid and how eminently respectable does the Gazette show itself to have been. None of this would come to my mind had not I learned that the Police Gazette has lost its pink. Moreover, it has become a rotogravure publication. As Newsdom says, "Dressed in sepia and white, the oldest illustrated weekly in America now rests sedately on the newstands and is not easily recognized by passersby."

Do you wonder what this change means? Well, here at least is what Newsdom says. "The rotogravure treatment is a great improvement on the pink pages, but one has to look hard and long to find the old favorite of the barber shops among the more highly colored magazines on the stands."

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The latest fad is to refer to the Sino-Japan quarrel. The ordinary person, who does not wish to "put on the dog," will continue to say "China."

Representative Arnold Leonard of Watertown, who is so assiduous in his efforts to reduce the salaries of State employees 10%, is one of the members of the Legislature who voted to pay themselves an additional $400 for a comparatively small amount of extra Legislative work just a few months ago. Funny, isn't it?

If the police enforced the city ordinance which specifies that in many sections of the Newtons sidewalks must be cleared of snow and ice within 24 hours following a storm, some work would be obtained by the regiment of unemployed in this city. And there would be fewer claims made against the city by persons who received injuries by falling on icy sidewalks. Said claimants invariably discovering to their surprise that the city is not responsible.

A petition signed by 182 children residing in the vicinity of Boyd Park Playground was presented to Mayor Weeks on Tuesday asking that the playground be flooded so that skating can be enjoyed there. The petition read:

"During the Revolutionary War, the children of Boston petitioned the British General Gage to allow the use of Boston Common for coasting and skating. Now, we, the children of our city of Newton, petition you as Mayor to furnish us skating facilities in Ward 1, at Boyd Park, now unused."

By according to our petition you will save us a long cold winter from this section to Bullough's Pond and will be thanked by both us and our parents."

Smaller children residing near the playground also seek the use of it for coasting.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Events For Saturday, The 13th

Reminder is given of two interesting entertainments which should not be overlooked for Saturday, the 13th, details of which were given last week.

"The Whole Town's Talking" is the play being presented by the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:45 o'clock, in their Clubhouse. This comedy promises much amusement and should be a successful drawing card. Dancing will be enjoyed by the younger group after the play.

"A Trip To The South Pole With Richard Byrd" is the attractive offering for the Junior Entertainment by the Waban Woman's Club, for Saturday morning, in the Albert Angier School, at 10:15 a. m., with Norman Vaughan the speaker.

Shakespeare Club

Miss Mary L. Sweeney, 20 Columbus street, will be the hostess for the Shakespeare Club on Saturday, February 13th, at 2:15 p. m.

Miss Ethel L. Hall will have charge of the work, which will open with the reading of Act III of "The Tempest", and a general quiz of the two preceding acts, bringing out Shakespeare's ability in this purely romantic drama, which begins with a very striking instance of the great accuracy of Shakespeare in a professional science, showing his knowledge of new improvements, as well as of doubtful points of seamanship.

Waban Woman's Club

"Rhythm in the Dance and in Everyday Life", a Lecture-Dance-Recital by Catherine Beatrice Rapp, is the unusual program to be presented at the regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, on February 15th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Neighborhood Club House, Miss Rapp, who is connected with the Noyes Group in New York City, will give the audience a deeper appreciation of the "Art of the Dance" in its relation to the other Arts, and particularly to that of Greek sculpture; and convey to them a sense of the practical application of rhythm, that quality which everyone today knows to be essential in all that we do. To illustrate various points during the lecture dances will be given in costume.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, the 15th, Mr.
Carl L. Schrader, of the Massachusetts Department of Education, will be the speaker at the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club. This is to be an open meeting and all parents are especially urged to attend. The Education committee, with Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott as chairman, will be in charge of the program.

Auburndale Review Club

An Afternoon meeting, with an address on "The Life and Times of George Washington," has been arranged for the next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, on Tuesday,
February 16th, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs.
Richard O. Walter, chairman of the Program committee, will be the hostess, at her home at 10 Fern street, and Mr. Walter will give the address.
Music will be furnished by Mrs. E.
Dana Kendall. Tea will be served.

Woman's Club Of Newton Highlands

The Annual Dramatics of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will take place Tuesday evening, February 16th, at 8 p. m., in the new John W. Weeks Junior High School Auditorium, under the direction of the Dramatics committee. Mrs. Herbert J. Odell, chairman.
A three-act play, "Skidding", will be presented by the following cast: Miss Geneva Brown, Mrs. John Haughey,
Mr. Robert Holdsworth, Mrs. Herbert
Odell, Mr. Jack Purple, Mr. Henry Shute, Mrs. Henry Skelton, Mrs. Gustave Sonnenberg, Mr. Edgar Swail, and Mrs. Lloyd Yeager.

Guest tickets at 75 cents, may be obtained from Mrs. Herbert J. Odell or Mrs. Harry Bradford.

Husbands of members of the Executive Board have been invited to act as ushers.

A most delightful evening's entertainment is assured to all who attend.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Tuesday, February 16th, at 10 a. m., Miss Miriam Skirball will speak on "The Correspondence of Ellen Terry and Bernard Shaw", before the Literature Class of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Miss Skirball possesses an unusual gift of presenting her material in a very vivid and dramatic way, and her book reviews in this series have been very much enjoyed.

On Thursday, the 18th, at 10:15
a. m., under the auspices of the International committee of the Club, Dr.
Clifford C. Hubbard will give a talk on "Current Problems of the British Dominion". Dr. Hubbard is a graduate of Brown University, where he taught political science. He also did graduate work at Harvard, and is at present Professor of History and Political Science at Wheaton College.

In 1931 he was president of the New England History Teachers' Association. As a student of modern history, Dr. Hubbard is well qualified to speak on this vital subject.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will hold a musicale at the home of Mrs. Free-lan O. Stanley, on Wednesday, February 17th, at 10:30 a. m. The artists will be Gertrude Wit, playing the viole d'amour, and Mrs. Isabel French, Soprano.

Auburndale Woman's Club

An Earthquake Bridge, the last in the series of entertainments offered to the Auburndale Woman's Club by the Activities committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Wells will be held in the Club House on Wednesday, February 17th, at 2 p. m. An afternoon of surprises, fun, and favors awaits everyone. This will be free to Club members, who may bring a limited number of guests at 50 cents each.
As this event takes the place of the dance which had been scheduled for an earlier date, Club members will be notified by cards, and are requested to reply promptly to the president, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, West
Newton 0655-R.

Community Service Club Of West Newton

"Adventures in Literary Journalism" will be the subject of an address by Miss Isabel Wentworth Lawrence at the meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton, on Wednesday, February 17th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Unitarian Church. Book reviews and special interviews have been a feature in the Boston Transcript for which Miss Lawrence is well known.
In her lecture she has woven interesting plots from the unrecorded incidents of her interviews.

The afternoon's program will be followed by a social hour, with tea served by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. S. Marden.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Because of a conflict in dates the Garden Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club will meet on Thursday, February 18th, at 10 a. m. instead of on the date given in the Club Bulletin.
At this meeting, Mrs. J. Walter Allen, of 488 Watertown street, will be the hostess. All Club members are cordially invited to attend, as much practical garden experience is exchanged and helpful garden notes are discussed.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart will lead the discussion, her subject being "Hotbeds, Cold Frames, and Glass Houses." Mrs.
J. Walter Allen will talk on "Flowers and Gardens of Eastern Virginia."

Newton Community Club

The Garden Group, under the Newton Community Club Conservation committee, will provide an illustrated talk, by Mrs. Alice Harrington, her subject being "Birds and Gardens", for their meeting at the home of Mrs.
Fred Loveland, 20 Ruthven road, at 10 a. m. on Thursday, February 18th.
Community Club members and their friends may attend.

State Federation

MIDWINTER MEETING. The Midwinter Meeting of the State Federation, which might be called "Legislative Day", since this is the time each year when matters of legislation are considered, has many interesting items of business to be brought before the delegates. A somewhat different method of "endorsement" of measures has been inaugurated this year, following the method adopted in the past few years of "no endorsements"; and yet not returning to the old method so long used of endorsements, which method was repudiated by consensus of opinion of the Federated Clubs, as dangerous, due to lack of knowledge of underlying motives of those presents the measure, or of the facts of the workings of the proposed measure itself. This year the Executive Board of the State Federation sanctioned the legislative policy which the chairman of that Department, Mrs.
Fred V. Hart, of Lynn, has brought before the attention of the individual Clubs. Two measures were chosen for study, and four for action, after study, with printed material giving information, for and against, furnished to the individual Clubs. For several months the Clubs have been giving their attention to these matters, and the opinion of the Clubs is to be registered with the State chairman, Mrs. Hart, BEFORE the Midwinter meeting; the request of the Executive Board being that the Clubs vote upon their opinion of the four measures for action, and send the result of this vote to Mrs.
Hart. She will report at the Midwinter Meeting how this vote stood as a total for the State.

The two measures FOR STUDY only are:

1. Mass distribution, stressing the principles of added taxation for the chain stores.

2. Plan of Pre-primary Convention for selecting candidates for State office.

The four FOR ACTION are:

1. Bill to License Local Health Officers and Agents.

2. Bill relative to Raising the Maximum Age Limit from 17 to 18 years in respect to Juvenile Delinquency and Waywardness.

3. Bill relative to the Prosecution and Trial of Persons charged with Contributing to Juvenile Waywardness or Delinquency.

4. Amendment to act which makes the Mayflower the official state flower. That the Commonwealth signifies its acceptance of the Veery as the State Bird.

Besides the Legislative program, there will be offered for vote several Revisions of the By-Laws, as follows:

Article IV

Section 1. Strike out "a Fourth Vice-President."

Section 2. After the first sentence insert "No officers except the Treasurer shall be elected to serve more than two successive years in the same office."

Article V

Section 7. The officers shall constitute the President's Council. It shall appoint Advisory Chairmen of Departments, also chairmen and members of Division Committees and other committees, and it shall perform such duties as will promote the welfare of the Federation.

Article VI

Section 1. Strike out "to appoint such Advisory Chairmen of Departments, Division Committees and such other committees and more."

Article IX

There shall be eight Nominating Districts determined annually by the President's Council. At each annual meeting representatives from the eight Nominating Districts shall be elected, and these eight members, together with a chairman appointed by the Executive Board from its retiring members, shall constitute the Nominating Committee for the ensuing year.

At each annual meeting the Nominating Committee shall present a printed ballot for the ensuing year containing a list of officers and directors, and a list of names of the Nominating Committee, one from each of the eight Nominating Districts. A copy of the ballot with the official call for the meeting shall be printed in the official organ, "Federation Topics," at least four weeks in advance of the annual meeting.

The meeting will bring many hundred delegates from all corners of the State. It will be held on Thursday, the 18th, at the Hotel Bradford, Boston, which is opposite the Metropolitan Theatre; with the morning session at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon session at 1:45 o'clock. A pleasurable feature opening the afternoon will be an organ recital by Lloyd del Castillo, Governor Ely will give "Greetings from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts," at the morning session. Mrs. Arthur Devons Potter, of Greenfield, director from this state, recently returned from executive sessions of the General Federation at Washington, will tell of the program of national activities.
Other speakers have already been announced in this column. Luncheon tickets must be obtained before the 14th, from Mrs. William H. Salter, 7 Peaver street, Dorchester, to whom check for $1.50, and self-addressed, stamped envelope should be sent.

Junior Advisers' Conference

Mrs. I. William Crowell, State Chairman of Junior Membership, invites all advisers of Junior Membership to a Junior Advisers' Conference and Tea at Federation Headquarters, 657 Boylston street, Boston, Wednesday, February 17th, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Carl L.
Schrader and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett,
State advisers, will be guests of honor.

The committee suggests that each Junior Club have two advisers, one the choice of the senior Club's Executive Board; the other the choice of the girls—both sanctioned by the senior Club Board.

The State Federation is offering two prizes to Juniors—one for the best all-round program for 1931-1932; the other for the best play produced by Juniors for the senior Club. For further information consult your chairman or district representative.

The music for the Junior Chorus at Swansea will soon be ready and sent to the various Clubs, each club to devote a part of every meeting to the songs. A rehearsal with Mrs. Schroeder will be announced in April or May.

RADIO. For the weekly broadcast of Saturday morning, the 13th, at 11:30 o'clock, from WBZ, Mrs. Isabelle D.
MacLean, supervisor of Americanization in the Lynn Public Schools, will be presented as guest speaker. Mrs.
MacLean, speaking for Mrs. Lawrence
C. Putnam of Peabody, director of the North Shore District, will consider "Enrichment of Adult Life through Inter-racial Unity". Mrs. Thomas J.
Walker, of Whitineville, State vice-president, will talk on "Books". There will be music by Mrs. Frederick E.
Chick, Soprano, president of the Malden Musical Club.

On Saturday, the 20th, Mrs. Frank
P. Bennett, will speak in recognition of the Washington Bicentennial, in tribute on the topic "Why We Honor George Washington". Miss Phoebe Lee

W. C. T. U.

The Newton W. C. T. U. held a well attended meeting Feb. 5 in the First Baptist Church, Newton Center. Dr. Arbuckle, pastor of the church, gave a cordial address of welcome, saying that reforms have to come gradually and prohibition should be regarded as one of the steps toward making the world sober.

Regarding a referendum, Dr. Arbuckle said that although he was not afraid of one, he was opposed to it because of its effect on Constitutional Law.

Mrs. Arbuckle led in the Devotional exercises. The topic "The Real Alcohol Problem" was ably presented by Dr. Marietta Putnam Reid, of Newton. Dr. Reid said that medicinally there are four great scourges of mankind—Tuberculosis, Venereal Disease, Cancer, and Alcoholism. The first three may be regarded as humanity's misfortunes, while alcoholism is man's own fault. It is very important to educate people to the knowledge that alcohol is not a food but a poison. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Mrs. Grassby sang three delightful solos. Mrs. Sidney Porter was hostess and served tea after the program.

Notice was given of the National Regional Conference, Feb. 16-17 in Boston at the Hotel Statler, Georgian Room.

BOILER GETS TOO HOT

Engine 1 was called on a still alarm at 12:50 a. m. Tuesday to the home of Elsie McDonald at 85 Park street, Newton. Occupants of the house were awakened by the hissing of steam when the safety valve on the hot-water boiler in the house went into operation. Fearing the boiler would explode, a telephone message was sent to the fire department. No explosion resulted. The boiler became overheated because a gas burner under it was not extinguished when the family retired.

LASELL SEMINARY

Questions Price Of Land At Water Works

The last meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night, Feb. 1, at 8:30. Two members of the Board were absent. Alderman Howlett was seriously ill and Alderman Hart's business interests in West Virginia have prevented him from attending a number of Board meetings in recent months.

A number of perfunctory hearings were announced on petitions of the Edison and Telephone companies to legalize pole locations on streets formerly unaccepted, but recently improved and accepted.

Alderman Temperley sounded the only jarring note to disturb the harmony of the brief public session which lasted but 50 minutes. Mr. Temperley referred at some length to the purchase of land by the city for additional territory at the water works reservation in Needham. He said that at the preceding meeting of the Aldermen the Board had voted to appropriate $23,000 for the purchase of 22½ acres of land for water supply purposes at Needham and although a hearing is now announced at this meeting to authorize the taking of this land, it is primarily in the possession of the City of Newton. The ward 5 alderman commented that on the surface Newton appears to have acquired very valuable real estate, as he had learned that its value seems to have increased very rapidly of late. He remarked that at the preceding meeting he had voted with the other members to appropriate the money for the purchase of this land because he had supposed it the right thing to do, but since subsequently learning of the price paid for this land, in comparison with the assessed values of adjoining parcels of real estate, he believed that if the matter was before the Board at this meeting, he would have been more careful before voting.

Mr. Temperley said that in 1928 the Town of Needham assessed the 11½ acres of land owned by the Needham Sand & Gravel Company at $15,400 and in 1921 this area was assessed for $5200 when owned by Julia Danton. It included the 22½ acres purchased by the city. That was valuing the land at about $100 per acre, a parcel of land adjoining, owned by Vincent Butta and containing 20 acres, was assessed for $1200, nearby land on Greendale avenue, Needham was assessed as follows—15½ acres owned by Philip Simon, $1600; 24 acres owned by Emma Brion, $3600.

According to Mr. Temperley's viewpoint the land purchased by the city had been used as sand and gravel pits and had been "mined out." Assuming that the assessed value of $1000 per acre had been placed on this land before it had been denuded of its deposits of sand and gravel, now, when it consists of gaging holes, perhaps it is worth only half of what it was before. He referred to the fact that in recent years the water department and the select committee of aldermen on the water supply had seriously considered abandoning the big wooden conduit which for the past 50 years has been used to gather water from surrounding territory. It was to increase the amount of water seeping into this conduit that the additional land was purchased. He believes that the conduit should not be abandoned.

Alderman Gallagher, a member of the Committee on water supply, stated to reply to Alderman Temperley, but President Connelley of the board suggested that City Solicitor Bartlett first give an explanation regarding the purchase of the land. Mr. Bartlett said he appeared before the Finance Committee of the Aldermen at the preceding meeting when the appropriation of $23,000 for the purchase of the land was made. He had explained why this land was wanted and why the price was set at the figure paid. In 1928 the 11½ acres owned by the Needham Sand & Gravel Company was assessed for $58,000; in 1930 and 1931 the assessed valuation was increased to $17,000, or about $1000 per acre. He said he had told the Finance Committee that he did not know the value of gravel land, but he had made inquiries and was told that $1000 per acre was a fair value. The Water Commissioner had stated that if Newton did not acquire this land, the city would be forced to get its water from the distant Metropolitan Water System. If the land were not purchased, the city would have to dig more artesian wells at the reservation on the other side of Kendrick street in Needham. The water obtained from these wells might be good and might not. Referring to the statement made by Mr. Temperley that the several hundred acres of land heretofore owned by Newton in its water reservation at Needham are taxed at but $50 per acre, Mr. Bartlett explained that this valuation was set when Newton acquired this land nearly 50 years ago and has not since been changed.

Mr. Bartlett continued by saying that Newton needed this extra land; the law provides that the average assessed value of property for the past three years can be taken as a fair valuation estimate; that if Newton waited until April 1st to take the land, it might be assessed more, and if the city got into an argument with the owner of the property regarding the price paid for the taking, legislation might be necessary to enable the city to acquire this property. If Newton went to the Legislature, State officials might say that the city could not take more water from the river. Mr. Bartlett continued by saying that Water Commissioner Ellis had stated that the 22½ acres is well worth to the city the price paid for it. In answer to a question by President Connelley, Mr. Bartlett replied that ordinarily he consults the assessors when the city acquires land. He also said that as building land, the 22½ acres perhaps might not be worth more than $200 per acre.

NEWTON AUTO SALES GETS ROCKNE AGENCY

Newton Auto Sales, Incorporated, one of this city's oldest and best known automotive concerns, has been given the Newton agency for ROCKNE SIX automobiles. This new line of cars, manufactured by the Studebaker Company, has created a sensation in the New York and Boston automobile shows. Low in price, ranging from $295 and up, the cars possess the power, stability, chassis and body engineering expected only in cars selling at much higher prices. Like the man for whom they are named, they are designed to lead in the low-price field. The ROCKNE sales and service in this city will be under the personal direction of Kenneth B. Turner, president of Newton Auto Sales, Inc. He will be assisted by Ralph W. Turner. ROCKNE purchasers in Newton and vicinity will have the benefit of the 18 years experience which is afforded by Newton Auto Sales, Inc.

CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE

A car driven by Dana Olson of Arlington and a truck driven by Orestes Incorvati of 304 Watertown street, Nonantum collided last Saturday at Hammond street and College road, Chestnut Hill. According to the report made to the police by Olson, three persons riding in his car were injured. They are Annie Clark, Anthony Clark and Elizabeth FitzPatrick, all of Arlington.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the West Newton Union will be held Monday evening, February 15th at 7:45 o'clock. This is the Patriotic and Roll Call meeting and will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Cresset street, Auburndale. Mrs. Alice MacRae will assist Mrs. Beardsley in conducting the meet. It is hoped that every member will be present so far as possible.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Reading Campaign of the District Council of Religious Education is under way. One church school in Watertown has registered 100%. This includes pastor, superintendent, all officers, all teachers. They are using their own church school teachers' library, and have added six or eight recent books.

Other schools are registering, anywhere from one person in a school up to 50%. Our goal is every church school represented. One person in the church school entitles a school to be represented. Schools with 33% of their workers enrolled are entitled to place on the District Honor Roll at the Convention on April 9.

The Young People's Council of the District met last Saturday evening in Needham. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Ram Ugrah Singh, a young man from India, who has completed his work at the Harvard Law School and will return soon to occupy an important position in the government of his province.

CHILDREN, MATCHES, HOUSE BURNED

Children playing with matches caused a fire which burned the front of the house at 64 Grosvenor street, Lower Falls, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The damage is estimated at about $1000. The house is occupied by Anthony Zawasky and his family. When the firemen arrived they found a brisk fire in the living room and the flames spreading to other rooms.

The fact that the surface of the 22½ acres had been leveled by the digging of huge pits where sand and gravel had been excavated by Mr. McNamara would save the city thousands of dollars because it will save the expense of the city putting big shovels in the area to excavate the basins into which water must be pumped. According to Mr. Gallagher, the water supply will be increased from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 daily as a result of the acquiring of the land. He asked City Solicitor Bartlett if this land can be used only as a water basin by the City of Newton and was told that such a restriction does not apply.

Mr. Temperley said that he understands the existing basin in the newly acquired area is too near the river to permit of the proper filtration of water and another basin must be excavated. Alderman Ball also a member of the committee on Water Supply, contradicted this supposition and said the existing basin has been already used for many months through the courtesy of Mr. McNamara. Mr. Temperley also commented that if the city in the future desires to acquire additional land from the erstwhile gravel pits, the high price paid for the land just taken, would have put a greater value on the remainder of the property.

On the recommendation of the License Committee the Board voted to grant a common victualler license to Leong Wah Ham at 280 Centre street, Newton; a permit to Mrs. Beatrice Weeks at 97 Valentine street to store 300 Gallons of gasoline; a permit to Newton Centre Motor Sales to sell second-hand automobiles at 718 Beacon street; Herbert Boudrot, permit for 2 additional pool tables at 299 Watertown street; John J. Frazier, permit for 3 pool tables and 4 bowling alleys at 357 Watertown street, this being a change in ownership.

The License Committee's recommendation was accepted and the Board voted leave to withdraw on the following petitions—Henry Daley, 4 pool tables on third floor of Bacon Building, 277 Washington street; Frank McDermott, dining car permit at Needham street, Newton Highlands; Antonio Esposito, common victualler license at 152 Adams street, Nonantum. Chief of Police Hughes did not approve the Daley petition as pool rooms on floors above street level were considered undesirable. McDermott's dining car has not arrived on the locus sought; Esposito requested the withdrawal of his petition.

The License Committee had also reported adversely on another petition from Jacob Kligman for a gasoline filling station at 456 Watertown street. Alderman Holden asked that this matter be referred back to the committee. Mr. Holden said that it has been the practice of the Aldermen to grant hearings on petition and as Mr. Kligman had something new to offer he should be granted another hearing. It was voted to grant a hearing at the next meeting, February 15th on the petition of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company for a permit to erect a service station at 770 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

The Aldermen voted to approve the following reappointments made recently by Mayor Weeks—Lewis H. Bacon, Chairman of Board of Appeal, Building Laws, 3 years; Members of the Planning Board for a 3-year term each: Herbert J. Kellaway, Dr. Edward Mellus; Clarence W. Randlett, Forest Warden and Inspector of Petroleum, 1932; George E. Stuart, Superintendent for Suppression of Gypsy and Brownish Moths for year 1932; Assistant Assessors for term of one year from February 2, 1932: Ralph T. Laffie, Frederick L. Smith, William E. Flynn, Oscar S. Reed; Florence S. Fitzgerald, Director of Public Welfare for one year; Dr. C. Arthur Boutelle, Inspector of Animals for one year; Albert H. McLaughlin, Member of Board of Assessors for three years.

Appropriations made by the Board included $2025 for water mains and $50 for land damage to Mary Walsh in connection with the widening of Needham street. It was voted to approve recommendations made by the trustees of the Horace Cousins Fund on loans for real estate mortgages.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, February first, The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club celebrated its thirteenth birthday with a party in the Club rooms at Emerson School. At the same time, the Bicentennial of George Washington on the life of Washington were read by Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, and Mrs. Joseph H. Connors. The rooms were appropriately decorated with flags and pictures of George Washington and of his many associations. Games were played and an enjoyable evening passed. The Hospitality committee served delicious refreshments. Miss Doris Hardy was chairman in charge of the program.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Before an audience of members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, which she held spell-bound, Miss Miriam Skirball, on February 2nd, reviewed Eugene O'Neill's latest play "Mourning Becomes Electra". This was the third talk in her series on Book Reviews. Miss Skirball said that it was a thrilling experience to see this remarkable play, for it has a combination of moods which grips the audience, being at the same time coldly austere and warmly passionate. Critics are using the word masterpiece to describe it, and they consider it the culmination of O'Neill's art. He is possibly the greatest living dramatist, and his great success is due partly to the fact that he was a child of the theater, born and brought up under its spell, and partly to his experiences, for he mined for gold in Honduras, worked as a dock laborer, and sailed as a common sailor, going to Africa and around the Cape.

He has become consciously an experimenter in dramatic material and technique, using at times the monologue as the basis for a play, as in "Emperor Jones", and again the spoken thought soliloquy, as in "Strange Interlude".

In the present play, however, Miss Skirball brought out that he has taken some of the oldest dramatic material, the basic Electra story of Homer, which was used by the three great Greek dramatists, Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides, only that he has created a modern family, who are not victims of the Gods, but each of their own personality, which they have repressed under the influence of their Puritanical environment, so turning it on itself and thereby creating a strange family relationship. The father is so brutal and critical that the mother is not happy with him, and turns to her son; and the daughter turns to the father, and hates the mother. The scene of the play is laid in New England at the time of the Civil War, but the names simulate the Greek as nearly as possible. As in the Greek tragedies, the author uses three plays, which he entitles "Home-Coming", "The Hunted", and "The Haunted". The plot centers around the murder of Ezra Manon, the father, by his wife, Christine, and her lover, Captain Adam Brand. Lavinia, the daughter, is also in love with Adam, and determines to revenge her father and punish her mother. She influences Orrin, the son, against his mother, and together they go to Adam's ship, where Orrin kills him. The remainder of the play is given over to the psychological study of Orrin and Lavinia. Orrin is so haunted by memory and remorse that he finally commits suicide, and Lavinia is left at last in full realization of the criminal part she has played. The play ends on a note of expiation, which is so true of the Greek tragedies, and the emotions have been purged by pity and terror in the same way which the Greeks sought in their plays.

Community Service Club Of West
Newton

The second of the "Community Service Days" of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held at the Unitarian Church, on Wednesday, February 3rd, when a large number of the Club members met in a friendly, social way, and under the direction of Mrs. Gardner I. Jones, accomplished satisfactory results in sewing for the Red Cross and for the Newton Hospital. During the forenoon session, Mrs. Roland Barnes, of the Red Cross Motor Corps, told of the worthwhile and much needed work contributed by volunteer drivers for the Red Cross, particularly in the transportation of patients for necessary hospital treatment, or occasionally a group on a rare and much appreciated trip for entertainment.

After a delicious luncheon in charge of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott and Mrs. Ethel Leach, the afternoon session included a brief talk by Mrs. Carl H. Gove, president of the Newton Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, who told of the good accomplished by the Guild by contribution from each member of two or more new garments, which are distributed among charitable institutions where most needed. A new and promising branch of the Needlework Guild has recently been organized in West Newton by Miss Marion E. Marsh.

DAY JUNIOR HIGH

The regular assembly on February 3 was dedicated to Henry W. Longfellow. The 100th psalm, read by Billy Daniels, was chosen because it was mentioned in "Courtship of Miles Standish." After Janet Mattson had led the flag salute and the singing of "America", Frederick Fairfield read a paper about Longfellow's life. Slides of "Evangeline" followed, which were described by Margaret Clark. A second set of slides, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," was shown by Ruth Jean Erret.

On February 3 the Day girls' basketball team played the Warren girls at the Day gymnasium. The Day seventh and ninth grade teams emerged the victors, while the eighth grade team came out on the small end of the score. The ninth grade game was especially exciting, since neither team could hold the lead until the last two minutes of play.

On the same day the 8th grade boys' varsity team traveled to the Bigelow where the first team captured a 23-20 victory, although the score stood 16-4 against it at the end of the first half. "Happy" Goldsmith was the featured speaker at the assembly on February 9. In a most entertaining way he told about the kinds of food one should eat in order to be healthy. Constance Brickett introduced Mr. Goldsmith.

The moving picture committee was responsible for obtaining the film, "Salute," which was presented in the school auditorium on February 9.

WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

Athletics

On Wednesday, February 3, the Warren basketball team played the Days at home. Warren won with a score of 32-7. Marrazzo, Myers, and Moore were the outstanding players for Warren.

Assembly

Mr. Cronin of the Newton Library visited the assembly this week, and told the story of "Drums," a tale of Revolutionary days. After the story, he sang some sea chanteys, and at the end the entire school joined in the singing.

League Meeting

For the first time since the "Transmitter" has been a member of the Eastern Massachusetts League of Junior High publications, the meeting was at our school. The meeting was attended by representatives from ten schools. A member from each school took the magazine from another school and gave helpful criticisms. Mr. Tucker, the assistant business manager of the "Transmitter," was the speaker for our school.

A Valentine supper was served in the cafeteria. After supper an hour of dancing was enjoyed. There followed an entertainment by Mr. Elliot Smith, a magician.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH

The children of Room 11 were much interested in the launching of the S. S. Quirigua, because one of their classmates, Cheyita Doswell, was sponsor at the launching last Saturday morning at Fore River.

The Science Department has been studying textiles. They are learning how to determine whether materials are mixtures or 100% one fiber, to appreciate dying and bleaching processes, and to learn the hygienic value of materials from which clothing is made. A small group has been studying the experiment of dying various types of materials with different dyes, in order to determine which are the most practical. Opportunity is given for carrying on simple experiments at home, among which are those of removing stains from cloth, such as: rust, coffee, chocolate, fruit, ink, paint, mildew, grease.

In a recent game with the Day, the girls' basketball team won with a score of 20-4.

The Monday afternoon Musicales at

WATERTOWN

Newton theatre-goers will have a new opportunity to see motion pictures when the new Watertown Square Theatre opens its doors to the public tonight. The new playhouse has been built on the site of the old Strand Theatre building at the foot of Galen street, since the old theatre was destroyed by fire.

The new playhouse is the last word in modern theatre construction. Unlike older theatres, it has been constructed for the purpose of presenting talking pictures, and to accompany this end, sound engineers have worked in conjunction with the architects to provide a theatre that is acoustically perfect. The policy will be to present the newest motion pictures at popular prices, and to bring within the reach of Newton many pictures which they otherwise would not see.

The Watertown Square Theatre is being operated by the E. M. Loew management, owners of a large chain of theatres in New England. It has been built in the new stadium type of architecture, with no balcony, no stairs to climb, and giving every seat a full and undistorted view of the screen. Superb service will be available at all times, and there is plenty of parking space. Double feature talking pictures will be the policy, together with carefully chosen short subjects.

The opening program includes Jean Harlow in the "Platinum Blonde," Columbia's biggest hit of the season, with Loretta Young and Robert Williams, Bill Boyd in "Big Gamble" supported by an all star cast, including Dorothy Sebastian, James Gleason, Warner Oland and Zasu Pitts, also a comedy, a Mickey Mouse Cartoon and the latest Fox Newsreel.

Police News

John Cataldo of Revere was found guilty in the Newton court on Saturday for larceny of two heaters from a house on Freeman street, Auburn-dale. Cataldo had installed the heaters and had not been paid for the job.

Herman Close, who held a mortgage on the house, complained that Cataldo removed the heaters after the mortgage had been foreclosed. Judge Bacon continued the case for a week for disposition. Tuesday the judge was informed that Cataldo had replaced the heaters.

Daniel Gratti, 24, of 193 Adams street, Nonantum, was arrested Monday night for stealing a cash register from the pool room of Benny Romano at 210 Adams street. Gratti had formerly worked for Romano and when the latter's cash register disappeared he was suspected by the police and questioned. He admitted the theft and showed the police where he had hidden the register in a dump behind the pool room. In Newton court Tuesday Gratti was found guilty of having taken the cash register and stealing about $20 which it contained. He was sentenced to two months in jail.

The "daylight robber" who has burglarized more than a dozen homes in the Newtons was arrested on February 4 at Belmont when he was caught leaving the home of Harold Taylor on School street in that town.

A neighbor saw a strange man enter the house in the absence of the family and phoned the police. Officers caught the intruder as he left the house. He proved to be William Miller, 38, who has been residing at Westland avenue, Boston. A search of his apartment there revealed about $2500 in loot. Much of this has been identified by owners of the Newton homes recently burglarized. Miller, a slick appearing, smooth talking individual, has been riding around in an attractive car posing as a salesman, and entering houses which appeared to have no occupants at home.

The police of Newton and other places in Greater Boston are searching for loot supposed to have been pawed by Miller and also for a girl accomplice he had. He was released from Massachusetts State Prison last July after having served a long term.
He had previously served terms in this State and also served a sentence in England. He is being held for the Grand Jury.

Lewis V. Burgess of Cherry street, Waltham, was found not guilty in the Waltham court last Thursday of driving to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was the driver of the car which hit Patrick Commiskey of Falmouth road, West Newton, on the night of January 29; Commiskey receiving fatal injuries.

Manuel Dias of Somerville was arrested Wednesday by Special Officer
Mullen charged with larceny of $15.
Dias made out two checks for that amount on the Newton Trust Company and gave them as loans to a Wenton lawyer who cashed them at Danglemeier's drug store in Auburn-dale. The checks bounced back to Danglemeier, whose account at the bank had to stand the gaff. Dias appeared in the Newton court yesterday and his case was continued until February 25.

Another victim of the impostors who have been collecting money for advertisements in a book alleged to be published by the Federation of State, City and Town employees was revealed when the firm of Allen & Collens, architects, on the new city hall, informed local officials that they had paid $25 for an advertisement in the supposed publication. Contractors on the new city hall were also approached but did not bite.

AUTO HITS BOY COASTER

Calvert Stanley, 8, of Chilton place, Newton Upper Falls, was severely injured last Thursday afternoon while coasting on Oliver road in that village. He collided with an automobile driven by Richard O'Rourke of 949 Chestnut street. Mr. O'Rourke took the boy to the Newton Hospital.
Young Stanley received a fracture of the right leg and other injuries.

Aldermen Conduct Routine Business At Regular Board Meeting Monday Night

Grant Several Petitions—Make Appropriations—Draw Jurors—Confirm Appointments

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night started in good season, at 8 o'clock. All the members were present except Alderman Howlett, who is seriously ill. The hall was filled with citizens from the Hunnewell Hill district at Newton who were present to protest against a petition to extend Hunnewell avenue to the Brighton line. A detailed account of this matter is printed elsewhere in the GRAPHIC.

The first matters on the docket were hearings on petitions of the Edison and Telephone companies for pole locations. Mr. Peppard of the Edison Company explained that locations for 3 new poles are desired on Cherry street near Raymond place to give service to the latter street.

On the hearing of the petition of the Atlantic Refining Company for a permit to establish a filling station at 325 Boylston street, Newton Centre, no one appeared to favor this petition, but several appeared in opposition. When a similar petition from this company was given a hearing late last year, the only objector was Dominic Malocco of John street, whose home is quite near the proposed locus. Monday night the opposition included the Newton Centre Savings Bank, Mr. Malocco, John J. Hickey of Beecher place and other citizens who do not reside very near the proposed locus, but some of whom said they formerly did. A couple of objectors asserted the proposed filling station would endanger the safety of the many children residing in the Thompsonville section. One of these objectors read a list of persons injured by automobiles at or near Thompsonville in recent years, and made the strange contention that these accidents had been caused by filling stations.

No one was present to object to the petition of the Colonial Oil Company for a service station at 770 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

On the favorable recommendation of the License Committee the Board granted the following petitions—Garden City Taxi, 1 express license at 233 Washington street; Thomas Noonan, 30 Auburn street; Bruce Davis, 30 Pembroke street, auctioneer's license; A. Lazerus, permit to use radio at lunch room, 291 Washington street; Edison Company permit to build underground conduits, Homer street to Commonwealth avenue, 540 feet; Lowell avenue near Foster street, 310 feet; Standard Oil Company, an additional 1000-gallon tank and pump at 1100 Beacon street; Standard Oil Company, an additional 500-gallon tank at 58 Winchester street. The Board accepted the majority report of the License Committee to grant a hearing to Jacob Kligman on his latest petition for a gasoline station at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville. Alderman Hawkins was opposed to this action. The Aldermen refused the petitions of Dominic Proia for a permit to operate 3 petrol tanks at 1261 Washington street, and Antonina Kulesza to run a lodging house at 25 Mechanic street.

Much Interest Manifest In Talk on China

Expect Capacity Attendance To Hear Dr. Hsieh

The tremendous public interest in the present Sino-Japanese situation indicates that a large audience will greet Dr. Tehyi Hsieh when he speaks at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening, February 26, at eight o'clock. Tickets for the Chinese supper have already been sold out. Dr. Hsieh will speak in the main auditorium of the church and in order to take care of the overflow amplifiers will be installed in the Assembly Hall. More than 1500 can thus be accommodated.

Coming at this time of tense situation in the Far East, when Japan by force of arms has taken over the control of a large number of important commercial centers in China with little opposition from the Chinese National Government, and when Chinese apparent lethargy in meeting its invaders is an enigma to Occidentals, renders the lecture exceedingly timely. It is a rare opportunity to get a clear understanding of the actual facts in the situation and the Chinese viewpoint from one who is recognized as the leading Chinese scholar and orator in America today.

Dr. Hsieh's brilliance is backed up by a broad education and experience in representing his government in missions for better understanding of the aims of young China and for the fostering of a closer relationship between this country and his own. He is a graduate of Cambridge University and has three times served on special missions from his government to the United States. He has been recognized as the leading oriental speaker at the Williamstown Institute of Politics. At present, Dr. Hsieh is Executive Director of the Chinese Trade Bureau of Boston.

The following excerpts from newspaper comment where he has spoken are convincing proof of his brilliance as an orator and interpreter of the new China: "His message with all its captivating gaiety, was serious and appealing," Orlando Sentinel; "Wants foreign hands off China's affairs; asks Christian dealings from other countries," New York Times from address before American Division of International Law Association; "He proved conclusively that China is advancing to take her place among great nations," Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham; "His timely message he delivered at St. Anne's Church in a sincere and masterly manner seldom attained by speakers in this city," Lowell Courier-Citizen.

The lecture is presented under the auspices of the Claffin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Church, and is open to the general public of the Newtons. There will be a nominal admission charge to defray expenses and to provide a small surplus to go to the Chinese Students' Fund. The lecture will be held in the main auditorium of the church at eight o'clock. Added attractions will be a Chinese string ensemble and a Chinese soloist.

Reception Is Planned For B. C. President

Knights of Columbus Will Participate in Affair

On Sunday afternoon, February 28, the Rev. Louis Gallagher, S.J., President of Boston College, will be tendered a reception by the Knights of Columbus. Father Gallagher is one of the most prominent Jesuits in New England. His service in Russia has acquainted him with all phases of life in this nation and his articles on the Five Year Plan, etc., are widely read.

Knights of Columbus from every city and town in the State will be present. It is expected that the Supreme Knight of the Order, Mr. Martin Carmody, will come from Grand Rapids, Mich. Several of the Supreme Board of Directors have signified their intention of coming to Newton for this occasion. The State Council will attend in a body and all District Deputies have been instructed to be present.

Grand Knights from Greater Boston will act as ushers and already the response from many of the Grand Knights indicates a large attendance from their respective localities. The Past Grand Knights of Newton Council will serve as a Reception Committee to the various visiting officers.

Although this affair is being conducted under the auspices of Newton Council, in substance it is a State-wide Knights of Columbus tribute to Father Gallagher. The State Council is cooperating in making their reception one of the outstanding K. C. activities of the year.

Mr. Louis A. Watson, Master of the Fourth Degree in Massachusetts, has issued a call to all Fourth Degree members to attend in full uniform to act as escort of honor to the new college president. It is planned to have the Fourth Degree Knights march from the Administration Building to the Auditorium.

Mr. Daniel J. Gallagher, Past State Deputy, and first Grand Knight of Newton Council, will present Father Gallagher with an engrossed certificate bearing the greetings and offer of co-operation from the organization.

Any friends of members of the Order may attend providing they are accompanied by members. This restriction is made in order to facilitate handling the large group who have expressed the desire to be present.

Grand Knight Walter J. Connor of Newton Council has been given charge of the Reception by the State Office and inasmuch as Boston College is located in Newton preparations are being made for handling a large delegation from Newton.

Hunnewell Hill Residents Oppose Laying Out of Street As Far As Brighton Line

Attorney For Petitioners Claims Social Distinctions Are The Reasons for Opposition

The largest delegation of Newton Corner residents to appear at City Hall for many, many months gathered in the Aldermanic chamber on Monday night to give visible protest against the petition which asks that Hunnewell avenue be laid out, graded and accepted from Elmhurst road to the Boston line. This petition is presented by Charles A. Fawin of Brookline, Mrs. Alice W. Scofield of 18 Vernon street, Newton and John W. Webster of 11 Washington street, Newton. These petitioners represent the Whiting estate.

Philip Nichols of 234 Park street, Newton, former prominent member of the Newton Aldermen and tax expert, appeared as attorney for the petitioners. His address to the Board was quite pointed and he did not mince his words. Differing from "Tubby" Rogers of M. I. T., Mr. Nichols accused the Hunnewell Hillites of snobishness. The former Alderman who was quite conservative while in the city government wielded a verbal cudgel in behalf of democracy.

Mr. Nichols described the Whiting property, the location of Hunnewell avenue and the proposed extension of this street. He expressed surprise at the size of the opposition to a perfectly normal and reasonable petition, and he commented that if enough activity is used by persons who wish to block any petition, they can stir up considerable opposition. He informed the Board that the Whiting estate is 163 feet wide and a fifth of a mile in depth, extending from Washington street to the Boston & Albany railroad tracks over the north slope of Hunnewell Hill. It is located on the Boston-Boston line. On this estate is a large, unoccupied house, the former homestead of the Whiting family. The north slope of Hunnewell Hill has been well built upon except for the land of the Whiting estate and to develop this property it is necessary to extend Hunnewell avenue to the Boston line. On the west side of the Whiting property at Hunnewell avenue extension is a strip of land 7 feet wide owned by the proprietor of an abutting estate. This narrow strip between Hunnewell avenue extension and their land prevents the Whiting heirs from building a street through their property which will afford egress to Hunnewell avenue. Therefore, the city is asked to take the land necessary for the extension by right of eminent domain.

Mr. Nichols asserted that the Hunnewell Hill residents who are opposing the petition do so because they consider themselves socially superior to people residing on Hunnewell avenue on the Brighton side and want the Brighton residents kept from travelling through Hunnewell avenue on the Newton side, which would result if the extension is built. Mr. Nichols argued that if Newton is so socially superior to adjoining cities and towns, a protective belt should be made all around this city, just as Cape Cod towns establish fire protection belts. But, if such a social barrier were created, which would make Newton the laughing stock, it ought to be done at public expense and not by confiscating the right of private persons to use their property, such as is being attempted in the case of the Whiting estate. Mr. Nichols contended that the opponents would deny that their desire to exclude Brighton people is their real reason for opposing the petition and that they would cover this by arguing that the proposed extension would turn Hunnewell avenue into a main traffic highway, over which many trucks will travel. He ridiculed this argument by stating that the fact that each end of Hunnewell avenue enters a side street, would preclude through traffic between Newton and Brighton from using it. He cited Nonantum street, which runs from Brighton to Newton as proving that the fear of contamination by contact with Brighton people is too silly for words to express.

He said that the Whiting house is unoccupied and the rear land of the estate has become a "No Man's Land" frequented by tramps and malefactors of all kinds. The Newton police cannot stop such use of this land because it slopes so rapidly and the weeds have grown so high that intruders cannot be observed. He told the Aldermen that if the petition is denied and the Whiting heirs refused the right to make profitable use of their land, this property can be taxed only at a nominal value. He said that if the petition is granted at least 4 attractive houses will be erected on the land and the petitioners will be willing to pay for the entire cost of building the street extension. He concluded by saying the opponents ought to have hesitated before appearing against the petition. Asked by someone if Boston would continue the extension from the Newton line to Burlington, he said:

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

OUR LADY HIGH WINS TWO MORE LEAGUE GAMES

The league leading Our Lady High school basketball team continued to set a fast pace in the Greater Boston Catholic High School league circuit with one-sided victories over St. John's High of Cambridge, 54-23 and Immaculate Conception high of Revere, 56 to 23. St. Charles of Waltham, title defenders, kept right on the heels of the Newton quintet by winning from St. Clement's of Medford and St. Mary's of Brookline. In the latter game on Tuesday the Waltham team set two new scoring records. The score of 96 to 14 broke the previous high total held by the Our Lady five at 78 to 10 while Captain Everett Gallant's 22 baskets from the floor and two fouls for a 48 point total established a new individual mark for forwards.

In the Our Lady victories the Gallagher, MacLean, Moran continued on their scoring rampage. Against St. John's Gallagher, at forward and Moran at centre each tallied 16 points with MacLean getting 14. MacLean was the high scorer in the win from Mission High with a total of 29 points. Gallagher accounted for 22 and Moran for 21. MacLean's total kept him in the lead for individual honors despite Gallant's 48 points against St. Mary's.

The Our Lady and St. Charles teams are making a runaway of the bid for honors with Cathedral High of So. Boston making a gallant effort to keep in the race. This afternoon and next Tuesday the Our Lady team takes on St. Clement's and St. Mary's while St. Charles is meeting St. John's and Immaculate Conception. The following week will see the final games with St. Charles and Our Lady High meeting on the Newton court in the battle for the title. Unless some upset occurs in the coming games it begins to look as though the Newton team will have a half game margin prior to the game with St. Charles. If such is the case the local five is assured of a tie should St. Charles win and will have the chance at a playoff.

WINTER SPORTS SEASON NEAR END

The high school winter sport season is rapidly approaching the end with the hockey team having completed its schedule last week Saturday at the Boston Garden in third place in the Greater Boston league. The basketball five travels to Watertown this afternoon in the closing game of its schedule. Coach Simmons' 1932 outfit has fared better than any of its predecessors in the four years since the sport was re-established at Newton high in 1928.

The track team will compete at the annual Andover Academy interscholastic meet tomorrow but is not regarded as a likely contender for the title which it won a year ago although the orange and black will score enough points to make the going interesting for those schools which are figuring on winning the team honors. Newton's one possibility of going through in a successful defense of the title is dependent upon the "breaks" as well as a record-breaking performance in the standing broad jump by Stanley Johnson. Johnson is a great competitor and it would not be surprising to see him going beyond the mark set last year by Howard Niblock of Lynn Classical at 10 feet 2 1/2 inches. Johnson has done 10 feet 1 inch this winter and if he can better the present mark tomorrow the three extra points which are given for a new record will help the Newton cause immeasurably.

Next week Saturday the track team will close its indoor season with an attempt to capture the annual State Meet which will be held at the Boston Garden this year instead of at the East Armory. Coach Enoch has his eyes on this title, the only one that Newton High has not won while he has been coach. In this meet the smaller schools are in Class B while Newton is in with the Class A schools such as Brookline, Boston English, Lawrence, Medford and others and while star performers of the smaller schools do not cut into the larger schools' point as in other meets it is no easy task to win either team title.

As soon as the track team has concluded its practice sessions in the old drill shed Coach Jeff Jones of the 1932 baseball team will call out the battery candidates and get them started for the coming season. Although there are but few veterans from last year's nine available the orange and black should have a good pitching staff with Tommy Rhodes and Phil Giles, sophomore stars last year, as a nucleus.

NEWTON LOSES IN BATTLE FOR ICE LEAGUE TITLE

Newton High's hockey team lost to Melrose in a 3 to 1 game last Saturday at the Boston Garden and also lost out in its first real bid for the Greater Boston Interscholastic league title since 1928 when Captain Jimmy Brown's sextet annexed the honors. Throughout the several changes in the league schedule made necessary by the lack of outdoor ice the Newton team had led the remainder of the circuit all the season and had been undefeated in its indoor games at the Garden surface. The one smirch on the orange and black record was a tie game with Medford. Going into the game on Saturday the Newton team with 11 points had a one point margin over both Melrose High, defending champions, and Medford High, newcomers to league competition this year. With Melrose winning the decision and Medford defeating Cambridge Latin 5 to 2 these two sextettes passed Newton to wind up in a tie for the league title. As the league has ruled there will be no playoff, the deadlock will not be broken. Newton is ensconced in third place with Arlington, Belmont, Stoneham, Rindge Tech and Cambridge Latin following in that order. The three leading teams stand out far above the fourth place Arlington outfit which scored but 7 points.

The Newton-Melrose clash was a battle of speed with the way with the Melrose flash, Paul Guibord, outstanding in scoring all three of the winners' goals. The sturdy Newton defense which was thought to be strong enough to withstand the Melrose attack could not hold the fort after Charlie Houghton of Newton was sent to the penalty box. Until that incident desperate work had saved the orange and black but with one man shy Newton could not handle the situation. Melrose piled in and Guibord sent home a rebound of his own shot to open the scoring in the first session. Guibord counted again before the period was over while Houghton was again in the box. This time it was a high shot from the blue line that whizzed past Jack Skillings, Newton goalie, shoulder high. In the second period Guibord made it 3 to 0 with a shot from a stiff angle near the boards. Skillings apparently saved but the puck dropped to the ice, hit Skillings' stick and rolled into the net. Shortly after Lucey of Melrose went to the penalty box and Newton strove to tally. Dick Kelley took a shot and Al Carvelli was right on the spot to snap home the rebound and prevent a shut-out. From that point on it was a case of Melrose playing cautious hockey and protecting its lead.

Medford High School team ran up against a surprise for the first two periods in its game with the Cantabrigia and had but a scant 3 to 2 margin going into the final period when the Cantabs weakened and Medford crashed through to win, 5 to 2. In the other games Arlington topped Rindge 5 to 1 and Belmont defeated Stoneham 5 to 2 to make the final standing as follows:

Team	Games	W.	L.	T.	Goals	For	Against	Pts
Medford	5	0	2	3	27	12	12
Melrose	5	0	2	3	23	6	12
Newton	5	1	1	3	25	11
Arlington	2	2	3	0	20	18	7
Belmont	3	4	0	1	16	20	6
Stoneham	2	4	1	20	25	5
Rindge Tech	1	6	0	12	30	2
Camb. Latin	0	6	1	9	28	1

ANOTHER WIN FOR TRACK TEAM

The Newton high track team defeated the Country Day school team on the Newton track Tuesday afternoon in a specially arranged dual meet outside of the regular schedule, 48 to 24. Captain Jimmy Cahill and Stanley Johnson were double winners for the orange and black while Newton leader winning both the 300 and 600 yard runs and the Newton versatile star, Johnson, taking both the high and broad jumps. This biggest upset of the meet was the defeat of Johnson in the hurdles when he got away to a poor start and was beaten to the tape by Green of Country Day.

SPORT NOTES

Brown Elected Captain

Jimmy Brown, former Newton high school hockey star, was elected captain of the Brown freshmen hockey team this week. After graduating from Newton High the Newtonville youth went to Worcester academy for two years, entering Brown last fall.

Harvard Tops Green

Harvard's varsity hockey team defeated the Dartmouth sextet last Saturday night at the Garden surface, 5 to 2. Despite the fact that the Green was crippled the Harvard team found itself behind for about half the game. Finally the Crimson struck its stride and went out into the lead. Early in the second period Wilson Crosby, West Newton youth and Harvard regular defense player, received a cut over his eye when thrown against the board and he had to leave the game. Dartmouth was without four regulars, three of whom are former Newton High players. Frank Spain, centre, and Bob Bennett, defense were pinned under the faculty ban two days before the game while Langdon Powers, a wing, of Newton Centre was in the Dartmouth infirmary with a heavy cold. All three of these Newton youths are Dartmouth sophomores.

Newton Girls Win

Newton High girls' basketball teams won two of three games with the Cambridge Latin School girls yesterday afternoon at the Newton high gym. The Newton juniors won 22-20, the sophomores won 22-21 but the Newton seniors were on the short end of a 27 to 26 score.

GREATER BOSTON INTERSCHOLASTIC ALL STARS--

Newton High placed two of its regulars on the annual All-Scholastic team chosen by the vote of the coaches of teams in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League circuit. The team is chosen for the Boston Transcript and represents the consensus of selections of the eight mentors, none of whom names players on his own team.

Four of the six selections were unanimous and the remaining two, both of which went to Newton youths, were close decisions. The orange and black players, who kept the team right at the top of the league all season until the final game last Saturday, were the only team to get two places while one each went to Melrose, Medford, Belmont and Arlington high schools.

The local youths selected were Natale Sostillo and Jackson Skillings. Sostillo developed rapidly this year as a hard skating defence player after considerable experience last year. He stands 5 ft. 9 in. and weighs 175 pounds. His outstanding weakness is his awkwardness in getting off a drive while going at top speed although he packs one of the hardest shots of any of the Newton team. He is taking a business course at high school and will join his father in the contracting business when he graduates. Sostillo was a promising end in football until a slight case of water on the knee caused him to give up the sport.

Skillings was a transfer to Newton high from Brookline a couple of years ago. He is 5 ft. 9 in. tall and weighs but 125 pounds. His agility has made him an able goaltender as evidenced by the low total of goals scored against the Newton sextet this season. He is also a tennis star, holding the school championship, and a good baseball player although he has never played on the Newton nine as he has chosen to cast his lot with the tennis team.

Sostillo received five votes for a defence position on the All-League team nosing out Foley of Medford by one vote. The other defence position went to Phil Lane of Arlington by a unanimous vote of the seven other coaches in the league. Skillings tallied three votes for the goalie's job against two each for Pounder of Belmont, Egan of Medford and one vote for Rossio of Rindge Tech.

Paul Guibord of Melrose, Bob Peckham of Medford and George Ford of Belmont were unanimous selections for the forward line positions with the Belmont star at centre. No other Newton players received a vote.

This sextet along with several spare players will meet a team of Rhode Island schoolboys on the Boston Garden surface Monday afternoon in a game which replaces the feature attraction of the past two years, the All-Boston vs. All-Greater Boston contest. Among the spares selected were Dick Kelley, wing and Charlie Houghton, defence, from the Newton first team.

On the Boston Post all-scholastic team chosen last week Charlie Houghton, regular Newton defence player, was selected as a first team choice while Sostillo drew a place on the second team along with Dick Kelley at a wing berth. Al Carvelli of Newton was given honorable mention.

Sostillo was the sole Newton representative on the Globe all-team which was a duplicate of the coaches choice except for the goalie's berth which Jerry Nason, Globe writer, awarded to Pounder of Belmont.

The scoring records of the Newton players show Dick Kelley and Al Carvelli among the first ten in the league. Kelley is fourth and Carvelli tenth. On the basis of two points for a goal and one for an assist Kelley has an 8-1 mark for 17 points. Carvelli a 3-5 rating for 11 points while other Newton scorers are Sostillo 5-0-10, Houghton 4-0-5, Duane 2-2-6, and Champagne and DeGeorge one goal each.

as $5000. Mr. Weeks has only been taking $3000. Brennan asks that the ordinance be amended to read "the maximum salary of the Mayor shall not exceed $5000 a year." This would enable a non-wealthy Mayor to obtain the specified salary, and have a budget conform with the city ordinances in a case where a Mayor refused to take the full salary.

Fletcher Scores Only Goal

Princeton defeated Yale at Hockey last Saturday, 2 to 1, with Allie Fletcher, former Newton high star, opening the scoring in the first period by Yale's only tally of the game. Fletcher was on the job to ram home a rebound of Todd with whom Fletcher has teamed prettily on many occasions.

Newton League Bowling

In the howling matches in the Newton league Wednesday night all four of the winning teams took three out of the four points from their opponents. The Maugus Club added to its lead at the expense of Middlesex while the second place Newton club five was on the short end of its match with the Hunnewell Club. The latter team climbed into a tie for second place with the Newton Club and next week may go into second place by turning back the University Club should the Newton Club falter. In the other matches Commercial won from Waban and Weston won from University. Hunnewell got away to a slow start in its match at Newtonville with Ford's 120 the only string above the century mark while the Newton Club bowlers with one exception ranged from 101 to Carter's 115. Green's 130 helped to give Hunnewell a 49 pin margin on the second string and the third string came Hunnewell's way by 14 pins on Ford's 116 and Colburn's 114 as the Newton bowlers failed to hit a 500 total.

Gatchell Puts Team In Lead

Craigton Gatchell, former Newton high athlete, now a senior at Bowdoin where he is active in athletics was largely responsible for the victory of the Bowdoin relay team in its triangular race with Williams and Amherst at the B. A. A. games. Gatchell ran the third leg and was in second place when he took over the baton. Near the end of the first lap he saw his chance to jump the leader on the inside and when he completed his leg was several strides in the lead. Bowdoin was never headed from then on although the Williams anchor man ran almost shoulder to shoulder with the Bowdoin runner.

Residents Oppose Street Extension

ton street in Brighton, Mr. Nichols answered that he does not know.

Judge Thomas Weston of West Newton, also a former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen appeared as attorney for the opponents. He said he represented 163 citizens and taxpayers. He stated that of the 31 Whiting heirs who petition for the street, one lives in Boston, one in Brookline and the other 12 live away from Hunnewell Hill. He said that a similar petition had been presented 3 years ago to the Planning Board, had then been opposed by 139 citizens, and the reason this petition had not been first presented to the Planning Board is because the petitioners feared to take such action. Judge Weston asserted that in 1894 owners of property abutting Hunnewell avenue extension, then built, had deeded land to the city; that the city had not confirmed its title to this land and that since then an abuttor had taken legal action to evince his ownership of the land on which part of the present street is located. Therefore, if the city attempts to build the present proposed extension, it will be faced with a legal suit. He said that it is the first time in over 30 years that the city has been asked to take land for a street by right of eminent domain. He argued that Hunnewell Hill in Newton is a single residence zone; on the Brighton side are 2 and 3 family houses, and if the street is put through, petitions will follow to allow two family houses on the Newton side. He regretted that Mr. Nichols had seen fit to bring in the issue of the supposed social inferiority of Brighton people.

He said the proper way to develop the Whiting estate, and one for which a plan had been prepared, is to build a street from Washington street paralleling Elmhurst road. Mr. Weston stated that the real purpose of the proposed extension is to develop the extreme rear of the Whiting estate on the steep slope towards the railroad tracks. He contended that while the Whiting estate of 4 acres, which land is assessed at about $15,000 would be benefited by the new street, the remainder of Hunnewell Hill, assessed at about $1,500,000 would be injured.

Ex-Alderman Howard Norton of Hunnewell avenue said the section is now protected by the fact that Hunnewell avenue does not extend through. If the extension is made, many trucks will use the street, as is Newton a dead end street. David Black of Grasmere street said he was not misguided when he signed the petition in opposition, as asserted by Mr. Nichols. He believes that the street, if built through, will be used by many truck drivers and is a prejudicial against Brighton people. Mr. Arthur Kendrick of 45 Hunnewell avenue said that she hopes no person residing on Hunnewell Hill feels superior to people on the Brighton side. She stated that if the extension is built, trucks will use the street and the safety of the many children in the neighborhood jeopardized. Judge Weston asked for those present who oppose the petition to stand. About 40 persons arose.

In rebuttal Mr. Nichols said that two of the petitioners—Mr. Webber and Mrs. Scott—are Newton residents. He asserted the Newton Planning Board had, in the past, approved of the proposed extension as is shown by dotted lines on the city atlas. He deprecated Mr. Weston's threat of a law suit and argued that the City of Newton is sufficiently stable and the City Solicitor competent to overcome a 7 foot obstacle. He cited the Underwood School suit as a precedent. He agreed with Mr. Weston that the Aldermen ought to visit the locus and he asked them not to be influenced by a truck bogie or any other bogie.

FIRE RECORD

Patrolman Taffe discovered a fire in a pile of rubbish at the rear of Nonantum Block, 255 Washington street, Newton, at 11:55 Monday night. He pulled Box 15 and the crew of Engine 1 quickly extinguished the flames.

At 6:35 Monday evening a still alarm brought Engine 9 to Commonwealth avenue near Lake street to put out a blaze in a Cadillac sedan owned by Benjamin Stern of 53 Commonwealth avenue. The car was considerably damaged.

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club held its regular dinner meeting at the home of the President, Marion Fuller, on Monday evening, February 15. The spirit of Saint Valentine graced the dinner party with its decorations.

Miss Florence Piper Tuttle, of Lynn, Lecturer, gave an inspiring talk on "The Modern Girl". Her key note was "What could you expect of the Youth of today?" In her opinion today's youth are vigorous and have fine sensibilities and a fine sense of proportion.

She stated that upon us is the responsibility of inspiring these young women to do the right. She touched upon her experiences from contacts with girls in all walks of life; the factory girl, the reform girl, the farm girl and the college girl. She gained an ever deepening conviction that girls as a whole are more normal, more capable and better balanced than ever before.

The American girl is going to seek service because she believes in life and because she wishes to contribute to the life of the world through her own service.

The regular business meeting followed. Inter-city meetings at Arlington and Salem are scheduled for February.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Leadership Training School at Newtonville closed its six-evening winter term last Monday. At the Assembly Period, Rev. E. L. Shaver, Dean, made a brief report of the meetings held recently in Chicago by the International Council of Religious Education. One fact of importance was the increasing number of pastors who are attending these national religious education meetings each year, to consider the minister's share in this movement and in leadership training especially.

Mr. Shaver led the school in a Consecration Service which was impressive, making all present feel the greatness and also the privilege of their church school work.

The Annual Convention of the Norumbega District Council was announced as coming on Saturday, April 9, afternoon and evening sessions, to be held at the Payson Park Church in Belmont.

Seventeen church schools have definitely enrolled in the Reading Campaign to date, and a considerable number of others have reported that their enrollment blanks will be sent in the near future.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The annual meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R. was held on February ninth at the home of Mrs. Philip Horne, 9 Barnes Rd., Newton. The regent, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, presided over the meeting and order and accepted with the salute to the flag followed by the singing of one verse of "America".

A letter from an Americanization teacher in Newton was read asking for clothing for babies and children to be given to needy cases. A motion of the executive board was read and accepted providing for the gift of $15.50 for second citizenship papers to a worthy man unable to stand the expense himself, $5.50 is to be given him at once and the remaining $10 within 60 or 90 days. The chapter has purchased twenty-five flags to be given to members of the citizenship class of the Newton High School upon their graduation. In case there are any extra, they are to be given to Miss Estelle Seaver for use in her mother's classes in the grammar schools.

The park commissioner has granted permission to plant trees around the D. R. memorial at Valley Forge but the exact place is uncertain as yet.

Mrs. Henry Cross told of receiving letters of acknowledgment for the boxes sent to Newton boys and two nurses in veterans' hospitals. Also a note from the matron of the Stone Institute for Aged Ladies for remembrances at Christmas time.

The annual reports of the recording and corresponding secretaries and historians were read and placed on file. The reports of the treasurer and auditor were accepted.

The following officers were presented by the nominating committee, voted upon and elected, Regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook; Vice-Regent, Mrs. Henry Cross; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Frederic A. Gilroy; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Donald Gibbs; Treasurer, Mrs. Richard Brown; Historian, Mrs. Thomas Cleveland; Counsellors, Mrs. Robert Chellis and Mrs. John Merrill.

The following delegates and alternates were elected for the national convention to be held in Philadelphia in May; alternate for the regent, Mrs. E. P. Leonard; delegate, Mrs. Robert D. Chellis; alternate, Mrs. John H. Field, Jr.; delegate, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer; alternate, Mrs. Ross Furman; delegate, Mrs. Walter MacAdam; alternate, Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

The March meeting of the chapter was set for the eighth at the home of Miss Barbara Estabrook, 37 Beechcroft road, Newton.

Mrs. Edgar Wilson presented a strong box to the chapter to be used by the treasurer, Miss Barbara Estabrook, in behalf of the chapter, gave the retiring regent, Mrs. G. Police News

Early last Saturday morning Patrolman Hoyt found a truck wrecked against a tree at Commonwealth avenue near Phillips street, Auburndale. The truck was the property of the Gamewell Company of Newton Upper Falls and was reported as having been stolen from Waltham from near the home of Alphonse Penketham, 19 Dennison street, in whose charge it was. Shortly after the truck was discovered, Leo Kiley of 41 Holbrom street, Boston was arrested nearby and charged with drunkenness. He was then surrendered to the Waltham police on the charge of having taken the truck without authority. He was released by the Waltham police as Penketham refused to prosecute. The tree was badly damaged.

Patrolman Charles Walker disguised as a thirsty citizen went to the home of Silvestri Bartoli at 184 Newtonville avenue, Newton, last Thursday night and purchased some wine from Mrs. Bartoli. As a result, the house was raided and the following seized—100 gallons of wine in barrels, 79 quarts of wine in containers, 199 quarts of beer, a quantity of empty bottles. Bartoli and his wife were arrested. In court last Friday Bartoli was fined $50 for keeping liquor for sale; Mrs. Bartoli was fined $50 for making an illegal sale.

Rudolph Murray of 182 Court street, Winthrop was fined $100 in the Newton court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor and $10 for drunkenness. He appealed. Patrolman Halloran and Marden notified about 3 a. m. on January 31 after their attention had been attracted by the manner in which Murray drove through Nonantum Square, they chased his car to Arsenal street, Watertown.

Four boys, 10 to 12 years of age, residing in the vicinity of Adams avenue, West Newton, gave the impression of lack of training by tearing a number of clapboards off the home of Joseph Landry at 104 Adams avenue, just for amusement. Landry complained to the Newton police last Saturday that the boys had torn about 100 square feet of clapboards from the front and side of his house. The damage was estimated at about $20.

Philip S. Carson of 28 Gale street, Malden was found guilty by a jury in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Carson was arrested in this city on December 14 after his car had collided with one driven by Wallace DeWolfe of 246 California street, Nonantum. In the Newton court on January 4 Carson was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail for driving under the influence of liquor and fined $15 for being drunk at the time of his arrest. He appealed.

At the trial in Cambridge on Friday, DeWolfe, called as a witness for the prosecution, would not testify that Carson was under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred. Questioned by Asst. Dist. Attorney Volpe, DeWolfe admitted that he has received $150 for damages done to his car by the collision. Volpe asked Judge Butterworth to issue a bench warrant charging DeWolfe with perjury because of the latter's action in changing his testimony since the trial of Carson in the Newton court. Judge Butterworth complied and DeWolfe was arrested and held in $500 for the Grand Jury. Carson's attorney filed a motion for a new trial.

John J. FitzPatrick, 20, of 24 Maguire court, Newtonville, and Joseph Coletti, 18, of 8 Jackson terrace, Newton, were arrested for drunkenness at Walnut street, Newtonville, on Sunday evening by Patrolman Manter. The two started a fight with the policeman and the three were struggling on the street when Patrolman Hartford, who was off duty, happened along and went to Manter's aid. Hartford seized Coletti and while subduing him was pushed through a plate glass window at 309 Walnut street. While Manter was placing handcuffs on FitzPatrick, the latter sunk his teeth into the policeman's right hand and also tore the officer's uniform. When the patrol auto arrived the pair continued to fight while being placed in the wagon. In the Newton court Monday Judge Bacon sentenced FitzPatrick to serve 6 months in jail and Coletti 2 months. He also fined each $10. Both appealed.

Sergeants Leehan and Cullen with Patrolmen Walker and Reagan raided the house at 147 Waltham street, West Newton, Monday afternoon. The house is occupied by Charles L. Stevens and family and the attention of the police was directed to it recently. In the house the police found a 150-gallon still in operation in the attic, 40 barrels of mash, estimated to contain about 2000 gallons, and 4 gallons of alcohol. When the police entered the house the only occupant was a small child; later Mrs. Stevens came home with two other children. Monday evening Stevens was arrested charged with keeping liquor for sale. In the Newton court on Tuesday he was fined $100. The Federal officers were notified about the still.

LODGES

On Feb. 14 several Past Grands of the Odd Fellows Lodges of Newton met at L. O. O. F. Hall and formed an association to be known as The Garden City Association, to comprise members of the various lodges in the Newtons and any Odd Fellow residing in the Newtons belonging to a lodge outside of the Newtons.

The object of the association is to promote and further the activities of the order in the Newtons. The life membership fee is $1.00 and 13 of those present signed up as Charter Members. Grand Master Geo. W. Chandler was the first to register. Bro. Edmund L. Buell was elected president, Bro. Ralph L. Fox as Clerk and Bro. Charles W. Fewkes, treasurer.

It is the intention of the association to visit one of the Newton lodges in a body each month. A degree will be formed for the working of the Initiatory degree. The Association also hopes to plan forms of entertainment which will tend to increase the interest in Oddfellowship.

$36,968 VERDICT NOT ALLOWED

On Tuesday Judge Burns in the Suffolk Superior Court set aside verdicts totalling $36,968 awarded Agnes Colaluco of Allston against Howard J. Bushway of Prince street, West Newton, and his chauffeur, Belton Boutee. On September 22, 1928, a car owned by Bushway and driven by Boutee collided on Western avenue, Allston with a car driven by Mrs. Colaluco's husband. The woman was severely injured and her husband received fatal injuries. A Suffolk jury found her in a suit.

The articles were found in a room on Columbus avenue, Boston, occupied by a girl friend of Miller's. They included jewelry, silverware and a fur coat.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FOR ALL CLUBWOMEN. The Newton Federation has received the wool to be made into children's sweaters for the Welfare Bureau Clothing Chest. Volunteer knitters are urgently requested to apply for material and directions to Miss Miriam Drury, 334 Franklin street, Newton, Tel. N. N. 3880-M. The wool is of fine quality, and costs only 25 cents a skein, a price made possible only because of the large quantity obtained.

This cooperation in service is in accordance with the plan brought to the attention of delegates and Clubwomen at the Executive Board meeting of January 25th, and is excellent opportunity for worthwhile assistance.

COMING EVENTS

ATTENTION OF CLUBWOMEN. NOTICE OF CHANGE OF DATE. Clubwomen and their friends who have been invited by the Newton Centre Woman's Club to attend the Colonial Tea, Art Exhibit and Play, which will feature George Washington, appropriately in keeping with the Bicentennial, should note that the date for this interesting affair has been changed from Sunday, the 21st, to Monday, the 22nd. See notice following.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Of timely interest, will be the Colonial Tea and Art Exhibit which Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell and other members of the Art committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club are planning for Monday, February 22nd, from 3 to 5:30 p. m. A short play of ten minutes duration, entitled "When Martha and George Return" will be given at 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock. Members of the Art committee, who are hostesses for the occasion, will be in period costumes, and the refreshments will be old-fashioned in character.

THIS OCCASION IS ANOTHER OPEN HOUSE AFFAIR, AND ALL ARE WELCOME. Of outstanding interest, and in keeping with the celebration of the Bicentennial of Washington's birth, will be the exhibition of pictures of the grand old mountain which bears his name. The exhibit will continue for one week. Mr. Leroy R. Woodward is a young artist who has attained considerable reputation for the vigor and beauty of his mountain paintings, and his work has been particularly identified with Mount Washington. After studying at the Boston Museum School he went to the White Mountains and served as Hutmaster in one of the huts maintained by the Appalachian Mountain Club. He has hiked and climbed and learned to know and love the mountains as only one who lives among them can. He has had exhibitions in the rooms of the Appalachian Club both in Boston and Springfield.

Mrs. John R. Capron, the president, will preside at the regular monthly meeting of the Club, at 2:30 o'clock on Friday, February 26th. The speaker for the afternoon will be Hon. Emma Fall Schofield, whose subject will be "Woman and the Law." Judge Schofield is remarkably well qualified to speak on this subject, as she has served her native city of Malden in many capacities. She was also the first woman to be appointed a Commissioner of Massachusetts and the first to serve as Assistant Attorney-General of the Commonwealth. In 1931 she was appointed Associate Justice of the First District Court of Eastern Middlesex County.

The Club will have as guest of honor, Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, treasurer of the State Federation. The hostesses will be Miss Elizabeth Bartlett and Mrs. Arthur H. Shannan.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Grace Morrison Poole will give the third lecture of the Current Events series on Thursday, February 25th at 10:15 a. m., in the Central Congregational Church. These lectures are open to Club members, and guest tickets may be procured at 50 cents each.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Day, will present Rabbi Harry Levi as speaker at the next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, February 23rd. Rabbi Levi, who is well-known to Women's Club audiences, and whose voice is frequently heard over the air, will take for his subject "Education for Life".

The Hospitality committee, under the direction of Mrs. George W. St. Amant, will dispense tea at the close of the program.

Social Science Club

Mrs. William Hollings will read a paper on "Margaret Fuller" before the Social Science Club, on February 24th, at ten o'clock, in the Channing Church Parlor.

Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell and Mrs. W. C. Wrye will act as hostesses.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, February 25th, the Newton Community Club will observe the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, by presenting an original play "Two Women and Washington", written by Gladys Black Wilcox. Had Washington married his early love, Mary Philpse, he might have returned with her family to England at the outbreak of the Revolution. Act one portrays the Mary Philpse story, and subsequent events as they might have happened. Act two portrays the historical story of George and Martha (Custis) Washington with a special scene at Valley Forge. The cast consists of the following people: George Washington, Mr. Edward N. Griffin; Mary Philpse, Mrs. Raymond H. Green; Hannah, Mrs. Wallace Wales; Martha, Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg; and a Revolutionary soldier, Mr. Raymond H. Green. The minut will be danced by Miss Edith Pike, Mrs. Marguerite Tyler, Mr. Daniel Goodridge, Jr., and Mr. Henry Hewitt. All young people who are studying American History will enjoy this play and it is hoped that many will be in the audience. The Art committee is in charge of the settings and the Social committee is planning special features.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"The Art of Table Setting and the Romance of Silver" is the subject to be presented at the next meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Friday, February 26th.

Because of the holiday, the meeting of the Travel Club has been postponed from the 22nd to the 29th of February. Mrs. Starr A. Burdick, of 287 Waltham street, will entertain the class at her home, assisted by Mrs. Louise A. Bacon.

Papers on "Buenos Aires" and "Northern Argentina" will be read by Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, and Mrs. William C. Church respectively.

The play, "The Three Pigs", which was recently given with much success by the Service Club of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, will be repeated Thursday evening, March 4th.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club has charge of the tickets, and will share the profits with the Service Club.

State Federation

YOUTH CONFERENCE, March 10th and 11th are the two days which will be given over to interesting features of a Youth Conference, with speakers upon various home and educational problems, under the auspices of the Division of the American Home of the State Federation. Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, chairman, at the Hotel Statler. The morning session of each day will open at 10 o'clock; luncheon will be served at 12:45 each day in the Ballroom; and on the first day, the 10th, there will be an afternoon hour of talk from 3 to 4 o'clock.

The program of the 10th will include for subjects the trend in religious education, vocational guidance, problems of reading matter for children, for sex character education, and in the afternoon music of interest to children and persons of problems of men and women. The Luncheon speaker will be Dr. Gary Cleveland Myers, on the topic, which for its sense of humor augurs an interesting presentation, "Problems Adolescents Have With Their Parents".

A more complete list of speakers and topics will be given later, but this should give Clubwomen some idea of what is promised on the two days, so that, if they are unable to attend both, they may choose which they prefer to attend. Luncheon tickets, which are $1.50 for either day, must be ordered before March 5th. Registered fee is 50 cents. Order, stating date of luncheon ticket desired, with self-addressed, stamped envelope, should be sent to Mrs. Allen E. Newton, 258 Court road, Winthrop.

NEW CLUB. Not content with the three years of service for war veterans, the committee for the Co-operation with War Veterans, retired committee members have banded together to work for the boys "on their own". They have formed a club which will gradually grow as retiring members become eligible, thus sustaining a live interest in activities for the veterans.

The new club, known tentatively as "Past Members, Cooperation with War Veterans Division", was presented at the Midwinter Meeting of the State Federation, February 18th, at Hotel Bradford, Boston. Quite appropriate, Mrs. Pauline Peters of Falmouth, beloved organizer and chairman for several years, will do the honors as president. The club has also become affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

This new group was organized, November 13th, 1931, at the home of the present chairman, Mrs. H. H. Woods, of Brookline. It was the suggestion of Mrs. R. K. Miller, Jr., of Winchester, in order that former members might retain interest in the work. Mrs. John J. Osborn is vice-president; Mrs. Warren B. Wiley, secretary; and Mrs. Charles S. Marsh, all, treasurer.

Many plans are afoot for giving cheer to the boys. Among them, Mrs. Wiley has already made ten picture puzzles for the United States veterans' hospitals in the state.

RADIO. The George Washington Bicentennial, which is being widely observed by the Clubwomen of Massachusetts, will be further recognized in the weekly Saturday morning broadcast of the State Federation, February 20th, at 11:30 a. m., over WBZ. Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Radio director, announces a special program in celebration of the Washington holiday. Mrs. Frank E. Bennett, State first vice-president, will speak to the title, "Why We Honor George Washington". Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer, State chairman of Literature, will present a program of "Poetry", and Mrs. Margaret Richardson, president of the Boston Music Lovers' Club, a group of piano selections.

On Saturday, the 27th, Miss Ada E. Baldwin, director of the third district, will speak on "Utilizing Leisure in My District". Miss Elizabeth E. Webb, publicity director of Boston Y. W. C. A., will speak on her chosen topic, "Are You Downhearted?" and music will be furnished by the West Roxbury Woman's Club Chorus, Florence W. Shields, director.

Appropriately of radio programs, Miss Helena B. Shipman, State chairman of International Relations, is urging Clubwomen to listen in whenever broadcasts come from the Disarmament Conference at Geneva. She believes it an opportunity of a lifetime to hear direct from the assembly of 64 nations gathered there for one of the most stupendous tasks in history.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

A Musicales, in charge of Mrs. Walter A. Beedle, afforded a most delightful afternoon for the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club and their many guests, on Friday, February 12th.

Miss Pearl Bates Morton, dramatic soprano of concert fame; Mrs. Edgar Isherwood, tenor soloist of the First Church of Boston; and Mrs. H. M. Gulesian, well-known composer and pianist, were the entertaining artists.

The program was well chosen, and the audience most appreciative. Miss Morton received much applause for her rendition of the "Jewel Song", in which her beautiful voice showed to excellent advantage.

Mr. Isherwood delighted the audience with his selections from "Marina", the opera by Mrs. Gulesian and Mrs. Larz Anderson, in which he recently scored a brilliant success as the "Prince", at the Colonial Theatre.

When Miss Morton and Mr. Isherwood sang the duet "Open the Door of Your Heart", composed by Mrs. Gulesian, the applause was so enthusiastic and so continued, that the number had to be repeated.

Mrs. Gulesian accompanied the singers, and, at the special request of the president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett played the "Victory March", which she composed and dedicated to Grace Morrison Poole.

An attractive tea was served during the social hour by Mrs. George D. Thomas and her committee. Mrs. Herman R. Place and Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson were the hostesses.

Newton Community Club

The Thursday afternoon meeting of the Newton Community Club, on the 11th, opened at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the president, presiding.

The Conservation committee arranged a beautiful display of fruit and dried flowers.

Mrs. James Moyer gave one of her most enjoyable talks on "Lohengrin". Selections, illustrating the opera, were played by Mrs. Moyer. In spite of the weather the meeting was well attended.

Tea and a social hour followed. The pourers were Mrs. H. C. Daniels, and Mrs. H. L. Walen. The table was most attractive with Valentine decorations. A gum-drop tree was used as a centerpiece which was arranged and designed by Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson, chairman of the Social committee.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Before a most enthusiastic audience, and one which filled every available seat of their Clubhouse both Friday and Saturday evenings, the play "The Whole Town's Talking", was produced with remarkable finish and artistry, under the auspices of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The comedy itself is a very entertaining one, but the members of the cast brought so much skill and zest to the playing of their roles, that the whole production went off with the dispatch and completeness of a professional production. The names of the cast have already been given, and it would be impossible to single any one member out for individual commendation, each did so well.

Many people enjoyed the dancing after the performance on both evenings, and the light refreshments served.

The very fine program book was a wonderful testimonial to the work of Mrs. George H. Crosbie and her able assistants, especially in this year of (Continued on Page 9)

Last Week of Travel Contest Promises Much Competition

Merchants To Offer Double Votes

The Travel Contest being conducted by a large representative group of the merchants in the Newton's and the Paramount Theatre comes to a close within a week, after five weeks of considerable competition as to who the favorite person will be who wins the coveted prize.

The contest has been conducted on the popularity idea, and the votes have been given with every purchase. The popularity plan has been encouraged inasmuch as one person could solicit these votes from their friends, and this has been done to a considerable extent.

The prize consists of two tickets on a fourteen day cruise to the West Indies aboard the Steamship Lapland sailing from Boston March 15th and it is understood that absolutely all the expenses of two persons will be paid right from Newton all around the cruise and back to Newton.

The arrangement of giving two tickets to one winner is more or less of an innovation in the allotment of prizes but it is bound to be a welcome one to the winner inasmuch as it makes it possible to bring one's favorite friend along, and enjoy their company, and also eliminates the dread of travelling alone.

During this last week of the contest the merchants who are members of this contest announce that double votes will be given until the last day, and this will encourage some people who entered the contest at a late stage to do much soliciting among their friends and the member merchants should prove pretty popular

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Directors of the association was held in the new headquarters on Monday of this week. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Harold A. Marvin, the first vice-president was in the chair. The usual reports were received. The Publicity Committee reported the details of its work in connection with the drive for Sustaining Members. Too much credit cannot be given to all those who co-operated in this work and especially to the various newspapers which are giving so generously of their space to tell of the work of the association. Although the folders had been mailed only a few days previous, contributions had begun to come into the office.

The Nursing committee reported the places for discussion as to who the lucky person will be, during this last week.

The winner will be announced from the stage of the Paramount Theatre on Monday, February 29th.

meeting of the newly-appointed Medical Advisory Committee. At this meeting questions were discussed relating to the nursing policies of the association and the promotion of closer co-operation with the medical profession in Newton.

The Welfare Conference committee reported further developments of its plans as suggested at the meeting of the Medical Advisory Committee and asked for the approval of the board of Directors.

The following-named doctors resident in Newton have agreed to serve as members of this committee:—Drs. Cecil W. Clark, Frank R. Clark, Francis G. Curtis, Irving J. Fisher, Egon E. Kattwinkel, Henry F. Keever, Edwin H. Place, J. Herbert Young.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The February mixed bridge party at the Hunnewell Club was held on Wednesday evening with Mrs. Ralph C. Emery the hostess. Ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. D. M. Goodridge and Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson. The men's prizes went to Edgar M. Horne and Thomas F. Murray.

Rotary Club

Dr. A. Eugene Bartlett was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Dr. Bartlett gave an intimate word picture of "Johnny Bull—Close Up" and told many interesting things about English customs, the role, the observance of Sunday and the English attitude toward America. Referring to the unemployment problem he stated that the role system made a successful start but that hard times had made the problem extremely serious.

In connection with this problem he mentioned how it has been said that America is just beginning the "dole." England is halfway through while Germany has finished. In Germany to be eligible for a form of unemployment insurance the worker must be out of work for 26 weeks during which time he gets 6% of his former wage which has been contributed by the state, town and the employer. If unemployed longer than that he is eligible for an extension of 26 weeks and if then still idle is eligible for the dole. The dole has been abused in England as the men of the house frequently stay idle in order to draw their weekly dole while the women of the house go out to work and the family income is greater than if the man alone was working. The greatest difference in the German dole system is that the unemployed must first have to have been employed to become eligible.

In closing Dr. Bartlett stated that England's attitude toward the League of Nations and European affairs. Modern times are bringing us closer all the time and if the Anglo-Saxon race is to prevail we ought to understand and be brotherly with England.

Police News

Three Waltham youths and one from West Newton were in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with trespassing on the property of the Fessenden School. They were fined $5 each. The boys were among a group coasting on the slope of land owned by the school above Alhambra road on the night of February 9, and school officials complained to the police. Patrolmen Charlton and Hanlon went to the place and took the names of a number of the coasters. F. J. Fessenden, head of the school, had complaints issued against the four who were over the juvenile age of 16.

Judge Hammond in the Superior Court on Tuesday saved Philip Carson of Malden from serving 30 days in jail when he ruled that the conviction of Carson in the Newton court on the charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor could not be ruled as a second offence because the first time Carson was found guilty of such an offence he was given a suspended sentence, which was subsequently placed on file. He fined Carson $100.

George Diab and John Kadra of Framingham, arrested several weeks ago at Newton Lower Falls by Patrolman Jenkins as suspicious characters, were tried in the Superior Court on Tuesday before Judge Hammond. Diab, found guilty of having burglar's tools and narcotics in his possession, was sentenced to serve 3 years in the county jail. Kadra, who has a criminal record, was found guilty of having a pistol in his possession. He was sent to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation, and if found sane, will be sentenced to the State Prison.

Arthur Gately of 110 Thornton street, Waltham was in the Newton court yesterday and was found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. He was the driver of a car which ran into the traffic signal at Centre street and Commonwealth avenue a couple of weeks ago. Anna McDevitt of Waltham, who was riding with Gately, was seriously injured and is still at the Newton Hospital. Judge Bacon continued the case until Feb. 25 to ascertain the extent of the girl's injuries.

William I. Brown, 17, who murdered his stepfather, Richard B. Wilson at 263 Church street, Newton on December 28, will go to trial before a jury at Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge next Tuesday. Brown will be defended by Richard S. McCabe, former assistant District Attorney for the county. The prosecution will be conducted by Asst. District Attorney Crafts.

Would Curb County Officials

At the meeting of the Newton Aldermen on Monday night a letter was received from the City of Melrose urging the Newton government to join in securing legislation which will limit the right of Middlesex County officials to undertake big projects which involve huge expenditures on the cities and towns in the county. The cause of this action on the part of Melrose officials is the new Middlesex County tuberculosis hospital at Waltham, recently completed at a cost of more than $1,250,000. Newton's share of the cost of this hospital is $300,000; the largest of any unit of Middlesex County. The resolution submitted by the City Government of Melrose reads as follows:

"Be it resolved: That we, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Melrose, do humbly petition the Great and General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the passage of the necessary legislation amending Section 14 of Chapter 34 of the General Laws as pertains to the erection of tuberculosis hospitals by counties, so as to provide that in all instances where the total cost of construction of Court House, Jail, Tuberculosis Hospital, and other necessary public buildings, or of additions thereto, will exceed two hundred fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars, no act passed by the General Court appropriating money for any of the said purposes shall become effective except after the acceptance thereof by at least three-fourths of all the cities and towns of the county in which the building is to be erected, such acceptance, in the case of cities, to be by vote of the council, with the approval of the mayor, and, in towns, by vote of a town meeting and provided, further, that no construction as aforesaid shall be started nor expense incurred until after acceptance as hereinbefore provided, and

"Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the government of each city and town in the county of Middlesex, earnestly urging support of the proposed legislation."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

The Newton School Committee held a regular meeting on Monday night. Committee members present included Tracy, Church, Fernald, Amesbury, Mather and Butts. Mrs. Cornell of Ward 5 was absent.

The request received from the Newton High School Athletic Association last month that if be allowed to use its funds to build a high wire fence around the running track at the high school athletic field, was laid on the table, as the special committee appointed to investigate this matter was not prepared to report.

Permission was granted Newton Post, American Legion, to use the high school auditorium on the nights of April 13, 14 and 15 for a minstrel show.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The Annual Meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held on Wednesday, February 10th, at the home of Mrs. John G. Godding, of Newton. Inspiring reports of officers recorded patriotic work accomplished during the past year; gifts to charities and to unemployment fund and patriotic needs totaling over $300, assistance to immigrants and to other methods of awakening to good citizenship; and gifts to the aged and to "our boys" in hospitals and to their families; all of which gave ample proof of the place in community and state circles which this patriotic organization is filling adequately.

The regent, Mrs. John F. Dunton, presided, and after reports of the other officers had been accepted, gave a report of her activities in various fields, and read one of the prize winning essays written by a Junior in a Newton High School on the topic "How Can I Be a Better Citizen?"

The Historian, Mrs. John G. Godding, gave an interesting resume of the adventures and achievements of members, which adds yearly to the annals of the business accomplished.

Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, as chairman of a temporary Finance committee, appointed to study and to make suggestions for financial procedure, brought in recommendations, among them one that will be voted upon at the March meeting in amendment of the By-Laws, in regard to payment of hostess fees annually.

Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, chairman of Junior membership, reported various problems before this group at present, and it was voted to leave decision and settlement of this in her hands.

It was also voted that delegates and alternates to the National convention be appointed by the Executive Board. A decidedly novel and interesting feature was a Roll Call of members by the recording secretary, during which members responded with quotations, messages, and suggestions, which was greatly enjoyed for its personal interest.

Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, chairman, reported the ballot for the Nominating committee, composed also of Mrs. William L. Ratcliffe, Mrs. Everett W. Crawford, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, and Mrs. Charles L. Pearson. The regent appointed Mrs. Franklin E. Smith and Mrs. Ralph C. Emery as tellers. The following ballot was unanimously elected to serve for the coming year: Mrs. John F. Dunton, regent; Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, vice-regent; Miss Emma D. Coolidge, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, corresponding secretary; Dr. Marietta P. Reid, treasurer; Mrs. John G. Godding, historian; Mrs. Fred L. Trowbridge, auditor; and Mrs. C. M. Henry and Mrs. Arthur D. Weston, councillors for two years.

Following adjournment, the members enjoyed a box luncheon, hot coffee and frappe; and the afternoon was given over to further sociability in bridge and friendly groups.

"Wet" Problem at Weeks School

Last week a conference of building experts was held at the new John W. Weeks' School to study a problem which is of serious import. This imposing school, which was erected at a cost of more than $750,000 has no basement. Its foundation walls in part, seemingly do not extend below the water line of the surrounding land. As a result, the excavated area under the northerly part of the school has become quite wet and the moisture is rusting the structural steel work and the pipes which are under the building. Also, water is seeping into the boiler-room at the school. A large fan has been installed under the building to blow hot-air in the hope that this may dry out the moisture. Unless the condition now existing can be corrected in the near future, it seems that the city may be put to considerable expense to make the Weeks' School free from the "wet" menace.

MORE CITY LABORERS LAID OFF

Last Saturday 46 more employees of the Newton Street Department were notified that there would be no employment for them until further notice. This brings the total number of employees laid off the past month or so, to about 200.

INTERESTING FIGURES

Interesting figures regarding municipal costs in Massachusetts are given in a bulletin recently issued by the Division of Municipal and Industrial Research at the Mass. Institute of Technology. As this bulletin points out the increased cost of city and town government is not a type of extravagance peculiar to the present economic conditions but has been built up over a period of several years. This increase in costs seemed of little importance during the prosperous years which saw considerable additional revenue for practically all municipalities. The share of personal income and corporation taxes distributable to cities and towns this year is expected to be $18,000,000 less than in 1929 (the last year in the period the bulletin covers). Thus, if municipal expenditures are not curtailed increases in taxation or indebtedness must inevitably follow. The bulletin contains a number of tables of figures showing various phases of municipal costs in regard to communities as groups in order to furnish a method of approach to the problem of municipal deflation. One of these tables shows the average annual per capita payments for maintenance purposes of cities from 1921 to 1929 inclusive. In order that Newton taxpayers may learn how their money is distributed we list the figures for this city:

General Govt.	$ 2.90	Libraries	$ 1.33
Protection	9.61	Recreation	2.46
Health and San.	5.07	Pensions	1.02
Highways	9.25	Unclassified	0.32
Charities		Water	2.94
Soldiers' Benefits	0.17	Cemeteries	0.02
Schools	20.20
		Total	$56.59

Compared with other cities of approximate size such as Quincy, Malden, Haverhill and Medford, the costs for Newton are about double for highways, libraries and recreation; from fifty to sixty per cent higher for schools; about forty per cent higher for fire and police protection; about two or three times the per capita amount for pensions; more for water; general government and health; and considerable less for charities, soldiers' benefits and cemeteries. Our pension cost is second only to Boston with its $2.24 cost per capita while we are followed by Cambridge with 92 cents, Melrose 67 cents and Lynn 66 cents. Our total cost per capita of $56.59 is the second highest of the thirty-nine cities in the state. Boston tops the list with a per capita cost of $60.66. Holyoke has a cost of $59.71 but $15.20 of this amount is for electric light. Other cities which exceed the $50 per capita mark are Springfield with $51.02 and Peabody with $53.14, of which $10.50 is for electricity. Despite the fact that it costs more to live in Newton we agree with the large majority of Newton citizens that the Garden City is the best place in which to live.

WHAT PRICE SHALL WE PAY?

After a careful and thorough consideration of the plan we suggested a few weeks ago to divide traffic on Washington street by means of a reservation in the centre of the street we have been advised that the plan is impractical. We accept the verdict, as we realized from the beginning the possibility that going deeper into the problem might uncover impractical phases. But we cannot state too strongly the need for some plan to reduce the danger to pedestrians who are obliged to cross this broad street. The fatal and near fatal accidents in the past few years at various points on Washington street indicate the present danger. Old people and small children are in constant danger while the more agile and quicker-thinking citizens often experience considerable difficulty in making the crossing. The completion of the resurfacing will mean that automobilists will increase their speed. Increased speed will mean increased danger. The additional cost of providing some safety precaution for the pedestrian is small compared with the price of the lives at stake.

WOULD CUT CITY EMPLOYEES

Although Mayor Weeks in his inaugural address stated that he would not advocate reductions in the salaries and wages of city employees, and although Alderman Bail, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen spoke in the same vein when he introduced the order which rescinded automatic increases in salaries for policemen and firemen, some members of the Board of Aldermen are advocating, so it is reported, persistently, 10% reduction in the salaries of members of the police and fire departments. It was planned by the Finance Committee of the Aldermen to bring in the budget recommendations on Monday night at the meeting of the Board, but this was not done. According to reports, the delay was occasioned by the Aldermen who are endeavoring to effect the proposed salary cuts.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

Village Players is a little theatre organization in Newton created for the purpose of affording opportunity for self-expression in the allied arts of the theatre. The players are all amateurs and their voluntary efforts are inspired by the love of creative work and the stimulus of united effort in producing plays of merit.

The association has been in existence nine years and is now producing two or more three-act plays each season and also preparing in its workshop and presenting each month, three one-act plays. During the past two years, eight of these one-act plays were written by members of the organization and interest in this experimental work is rapidly growing in the community.

The opportunity of seeing original plays by local playwrights, the inspiration of producing, managing and studying the artistry of stage production attract those who love the active work as well as those who are interested in observing the development of histrionic art.

Encouraged by the apparent interest in playwrighting and by the quality of some of the work, Village Players announce a playwrighting contest with a prize of $20 for the best one-act play submitted by a resident of Newton for production next season. The winning play will be considered for publication under contract with the author. Plays will be submitted before Sept. 1st without the author's name, the latter being enclosed with the play in a sealed envelope bearing only the name of the play. The judges will be Prof. R. E. Rogers of M. I. T., Theodore Johnson of the Walter H. Baker Co., Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, former president of the Drama League of Boston, and Mrs. Frank A. Mason, president of the Village Players.

FAREWELL PARTY

On Thursday evening, February 18, members of about twenty-five families who have been associated with the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Newton Upper Falls, and who are about to take up their residence in Maine on account of the removal of the Saco-Lowell Shops to that state, were tendered a farewell party in the parish hall by the Wesley Bible Class and the Ladies Aid Society. The program consisted of selections by the church orchestra, community singing, readings by Miss Dorothy Kennison and solos by Mr. Fritz Graf. In behalf of the guests Mr. James Tully expressed their appreciation of the courtesy and good will of the assembled gathering and Mr. Herbert E. Locke responded in behalf of the Community and the Church. Refreshments were served by members of the Ladies Aid.

By L. D. G. Bentley

Hoarding money is hoarding happiness. The steady smile goes with the ready purse-strings.

Winter Dreams

Whether the present generation of youngsters delight in studying frost formation on the window pane I am not prepared to say. For my own day I recall that it was a treat to gaze upon the marvelous pictures prepared by Nature from such simple materials. The designs, as I remember, were the most fascinating and one's imagination went winging into a forest of crystal or over an ocean of white, traveling ever and ever so far until something brought one suddenly back to earth again. The art of Jack Frost was discernible more particularly on coldest mornings and if one wasn't up fairly early the heat would have passed through the house and taken the frosted sculpture with it.

During these days of 1932 the temperature is more even. The day doesn't begin as it used, with a snappy, biting frost that one could step upon and lose no time in getting pretty well clothed. The youngsters of my day always had a desire to see what sort of designs had been placed on the window pane through Jack Frost's magic. It was good for a thrill and no end of discussion and gleeful comment. All the more interesting, no doubt, because it was mysterious and unexpected.

Just what the boys and girls today think of it I am not competent to state. I do know that some of the grown-ups have gone as far as to make scientific studies of the frost covered objects. Dr. W. J. Humphreys, meteorological physicist of the Federal Weather Bureau at Washington, has assembled photographs to show how frost and ice form. Through photographs obtained with a microphotographic camera by an expert are shown the characteristics of sleet and hail.

It has been my privilege to gaze on a number of these pictures and it was an opportunity I should have gladly shared with my friends. Instead of peering through the window as a boy here I was looking at pictures and seeing the same things. I felt no older than a child. Different manifestations of the development of frost on verdure, frozen raindrops or sleet and snow crystals! More, indeed, than one could see in a year in one's own home or dooryard, but showing how effectively the beauty of Nature is bestowed through ice and snow.

It wasn't the scientific side, the artistic appeal or the skilled photography that got to me. No, I was swept across the years to those earlier winters of my life when the wonders of the world were unfolding themselves in a variety of ways and when Jack Frost was to me a real person, full of many amazing accomplishments and leader of children's winter sports.

Putting-Off the Day

Business is pretty good in filing income tax returns. If you don't believe me then drop in at either the State or Federal offices where they are assisting citizens to make out their returns. I understand that it doesn't necessarily follow that the profits this year, I mean the receipts, are going to be large. In fact, both State and Federal officials are ready for a slump and a considerable one.

Procrastination somehow more closely associated with the filing of income tax returns than with certain other things. Although people realize that there is a time limit and that they may well avoid a terrible rush on the last days—well, they put it off just the same. Do not for a moment think that I am gloating over the fact that I have managed to file my returns. The only reason I complete my tax returns early is that I hate crowding. I am as fond as anybody can be of procrastinating, but not as far as taking my punishment in a mob.

The line now at the desks where income tax blanks are made out and filed is fairly large and steady. Conditions might be called comfortable. The people who are so prompt can't all be filing small returns.

What might explain their desire to get their statements in early. Neither are those who wait until the last minute those, who expect to pay the highest tax. There's one thing about this exquisite delight of putting off the evil day—rich and poor alike enjoy doing it.

Check, Please

People go to the theatre or concert or whatever the entertainment may be and if they possess a certain kind of temperament they find the whole evening spoiled because of the wraps and rubbers and umbrellas which they are called upon to manage. There are individuals who avoid the check-room as if it were a machine gun nest operated by the enemy. These are the folks who are willing to carry their overcoats and mufflers and overshoes and hats and everything else. The fact that other people are annoyed doesn't make any difference. They have no hesitation in dragging their articles of apparel across the laps or over the heads of the people nearby.

Already this winter—and I haven't been in the audience as much as I have on the stage—things have happened to me out in front. Not so long ago at a theatre a young man dragged a coat over my head and nearly smothered me. The joke of it was he was so interested in the young woman with him that he had no idea what he was doing. He sat in the row behind me at about the centre. Well, not only your correspondent but everybody else on my right, and there were six or eight, had to sit there while the coat was wrapped around their heads, one by one. I felt sorry for the young woman whose hair was disarranged and I didn't like the ruffling-up that I myself received.

There was nothing to be done about it except demand an apology from the offender. That was done and was promptly forthcoming. I think it should have followed up with a request that the man check his coat but if he had done so then more than half the audience should have been ordered to do the same thing. It appears to be the notion of a lot of people that they are better off if they carry their wraps and hats. Maybe they think it's safer. And perhaps it is, who knows?

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

In the surge for economy the printing of dockets for the meetings of the Board of Aldermen has been abolished. Instead the docket is typewritten and then mimeographed copies made.

Residents of Jackson road have been protesting against the dumping of snow in front of their houses on city owned land adjoining Laundry Brook. Following the recent heavy storm a large quantity of snow was dumped on this narrow strip of land. This snow, collected from Washington and other streets, was mixed with dirt and litter and presented an unsightly appearance. The Street Department was asked to send some men to shovel the dirty snow into the brook, but the answer was made that there were no men available. In view of the fact that 200 employees of the Street Department have recently been laid off, the residents of Jackson road were not satisfied with this reply.

Washington street, west of Adams street has been so dug up lately that automobiles proceeding westerly have been forced to travel over the narrow strip of roadway adjoining the site of the former car tracks; this site also impassable because of the filled-in trench where the big water main was laid. Thus, only one narrow lane was available for heavy traffic proceeding in both directions on this main street. Which necessitated the stopping of cars until vehicles coming the opposite direction had passed through the neck of this bottle. If this condition is not corrected accidents are apt to follow.

The "billiard table" surface of Washington street has necessitated us taking our automobile to the repair shop again. This time only 5 leaves of the front spring were broken—and the other front spring well flattened.

The 900 Newton Corner residents who signed the petition asking that an addition be built at the Bigelow School in Newton to provide better facilities at that school will not entertain over the action of the Joint committee of Aldermen and School committee members who in conference with Mayor Weeks decided to sidetrack this matter. Admitting that times are hard, that cities cannot afford to be extravagant now, the fact remains that the depression was well on when this city appropriated nearly $1,000,000 for the new city hall and war memorial. And business conditions were not rosy when about three-quarters of a million dollars were appropriated a couple of years ago to erect the Weeks junior high school.

The children of the Newton Corner district are entitled to consideration even as are children residing in other sections of the city. It was understood some years ago that a junior high school in the Bigelow district would be erected following the erection of the Frank A. Day School. This plan was sidetracked and the magnificent Warren junior high at West Newton was erected instead. Again the junior high at Newton corner was sidetracked and the palatial Weeks junior high was built at Newton Center.

In 1928 a sop was given to Newton Corner parents when the Bigelow School was evolved into an apology for the junior high school. Last year a wing was added onto the old school building to provide a gymnasium and it was stated that with this addition complete junior high facilities would be afforded children in the Bigelow district. But such was far from being the case. Children of the 9th grade in the Bigelow district must travel to the High School at Newtonville. If you want to see a contrasting condition visit the excellent Day junior high school, next inspect the ultra-modern Warren junior high school and then feast your eyes on the de-luxe Weeks junior high school. And having viewed these costly edifices with their elaborate equipment for teaching the young, with their costly appointments for the comfort and recreation of the pupils attending them, make a visit to the Bigelow School and marvel at the patience displayed by citizens of Wards 1 and 7 whose children are not getting a square deal.

A peculiar aspect of the situation is that the Newton Corner section has had six members in the Board of Aldermen and two members in the School committee, a larger representation than any other village in the city. And despite their numerical strength they have sat complacently by during the years and allowed the district to receive less consideration than has been accorded the other sections of this municipality as regards educational facilities.

To A Friend

Good fortune reveals itself in many ways. Material prosperity, social success, political prominence—any number of things that we prize may come into our lives, set us high among our fellows and give us the satisfaction of having attained that which others seek but have not. After all, is there any gain comparable with the richness of true friendship? What more precious possession than unfailing fellowship and loyalty throughout the years!

A devoted reader of this column has passed on. He not only was always ready with helpful suggestions and hints but gave us encouragement and made us believe in ourselves. A staunch friend, who, when he found me cheerfully of his time and assistance. His sterling qualities were for those he loved and respected. It was a privilege to have known Leslie Herbert Naylor—it is grievous loss to have him taken.

After years and years of petitioning without success a law has finally been established and made operative in this State requiring the registration of barbers. The act was passed by the 1931 Legislature. The board was appointed this year by Governor Ely, although the personnel was not determined upon until satisfactory to the Executive Council. Now, however, the board has been organized and has started upon the work of registering all barbers in the State before April 1 of this year. Barbers engaged in the work prior to Jan. 1 of this year must pay a registration fee of $2, apprentices and students engaged in the work prior to Jan. 1 this year must pay a fee of $5. Any barber not engaged in the work here prior to the first of this year must pass an examination and pay a fee of $10. The legislation is intended to improve conditions in barber shops by supervision of the board through local health officials.

A bill signed this week by the Governor gives him authority to exclude traffic from highways during artillery target practice of military or naval organizations or units of the United States forces or the National Guard of this or any State. The situation at Camp Devens is understood to be responsible for this legislation. Although there was sufficient authority to direct the closing of highways during Massachusetts National Guard artillery practice the law did not permit such a course when the United States forces used the camp range or visiting National Guardsmen came to this State. The measure is for the safety of citizens and makes Camp Devens a more desirable place for the use of military forces that visit this State.

Disagreement between the two branches over the provisions of the Governor's emergency employment

gards educational facilities. The School committee, a larger reproof by asking for proper facilities at the Bigelow School. It is about time that the six aldermen from Wards 1 and 7 demand justice for their constituents. Even with the proposed addition, the Bigelow junior high would be quite inferior to the junior high schools in other parts of Newton.

An example of inconsiderateness for the rights of the public was displayed Tuesday night by a person who parked a Cadillac phaeton directly across the cross-walk at Washington street, Newton Corner, alongside the Newton Trust Company building. Said driver of the car then proceeded to the nearby theatre and compelled the many pedestrians who had to use this cross-walk to detour around the big car. After a couple of persons had nearly been hit by other cars as they walked around the car parked illegally, and complaints had been made to policemen, a patrolman backed the car off the cross-walk. The car is registered in the name of a West Newton resident.

The C. F. Eddy Company of West Newton received honorable mention in the report recently issued by the Governor's Committee on Highway Safety. The fleet of automobile trucks owned by this company were operated during 1931 by their drivers without having been involved in any accidents.

Kind hearted residents of this city should not allow their sympathy to be played upon by professional mendicants who frequent the business section at Newton Corner. These persons, possessed of pedlar's licenses issued by the State, come into Newton from other cities and gather in many dimes and nickels which can well be given to the many men, women and children in this city who are suffering because of the long continued depression. Charity begins at home.

In the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT of January 27 was an article by Frank H. Burt of Charlesbank road, Newton, on old issues of postage stamps. A century and less ago, postmasters had their own issues of stamps. Mr. Burt's article referred to an issue printed for Dr. F. N. Palmer, postmaster at Brattleboro. Subsequently Dr. Palmer moved to Newton Corner and practiced his profession in this city. In the late 60's and 70's he resided on Washington street, nearly opposite Hovey street, and drove about the town behind a rat-tail, flea-bitten horse. And the old-timers will assert that such an equine, although not a beautiful animal, usually was a tough, speedy specimen of horse-flesh.

It's cold about town these winter days. Driving is hazardous. Folks susceptible to bronchial ailments and other pulmonary troubles are having their annual winter trials. And folks who don't have such physical frailties don't feel so comfortable during these days of changeable New England weather. Why not take a trip to the West Indies or South America? Nearly all the big steamship lines are conducting cruises on their palatial, trans-Atlantic boats to Southern waters. And the rates charged for fares are surprisingly low. You can visit Bermuda in 4 day cruises, you can go to Jamaica, Havana or Nassau in cruises that take only a week, or you can take two or three week cruises that will carry you to the Canal Zone, South American ports and countries as well as the West Indies. The fares range from $50 and up.

Then there are 30 day cruises to the Mediterranean which can be enjoyed for as little as $250. Full information and reservations for these cruises can be obtained at the office of the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre Avenue, in the postoffice building at Newton. Or phone Newton No. 4354 and arrange to have one of our representatives call at your home.

relief measure caused a delay in what was looked upon as a matter requiring speedy action. The differences are over the form of giving out the work, whether the local welfare boards and emergency employment committees would have the authority or State employment bureaus and officials would take part in the allotment of work. The matter is to be adjusted through committees on conference of both branches. Few matters have caused so much debate and the Senate has found no bill this year which it felt required so many hours of debate.

As a result of the Legislature's unfavorable attitude a week or more ago in regard to a five-day week plan for public and private industries, the city of Boston this week decided not to press its proposal that the city be authorized to establish a five-day week for its employees. Representatives of the Mayor of Boston made known the Mayor's attitude to the Legislative Committee on Public Service which had the bill before it and the committee took no further action.

The Committee on Public Service gave a hearing Tuesday on the bill of Henry L. Shattuck, treasurer of Harvard University, providing that cities, towns and counties be empowered to reduce salaries of civil service employees. The legislation was urged because of financial difficulties confronting some cities and towns. There were several speakers in favor and no one opposed.

The general bill to take from School Committees complete power over expenditures for public schools has been unfavorably acted upon and apparently the law will remain as it is. The Mayor's Club of Massachusetts led a strong fight to have the statute changed, but the Legislature of 1932 was not moved by their pleas or their criticism of school committees in general. The Mayor of Cambridge has a special bill along these lines which applies only to that city. It is opposed and will probably have hard sledding in both branches.

The use of imitation coins, slugs and other such devices at Elevated turnstiles, telephone coin boxes or any slot machine is made a criminal offense under the provisions of a bill signed by the Governor this week.

The bill requiring professors, teachers and other educators to take an oath of allegiance has passed the Senate. Charges were made by several of the Senators who spoke in favor that attempts had been made to intimidate the petitioners for this legislation by threats of personal violence.

The Supreme Court has ruled that pending legislation for the establishment of a central cooperative bank and a central savings bank is constitutional. The question was raised by opponents of the measures.

Efforts were unsuccessful to have the House pass legislation to reduce the amount of interest that may be charged by cities and towns on unpaid taxes.

Representative Luitwieler was the storm center at the hearing on the bill to abolish the Boston Traffic Commission and transfer its duties to the Boston Police Commissioner. The Representative introduced the bill on petition of the United Improvement Association and also spoke in advocacy of the legislation. He did not seem to mind the opponents of the bill who hurled criticism and question at him.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 21.

The Golden Text is: "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" (II Timothy 1:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of Hosts, is his name" (Amos 4:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There Can Be But One Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite. We hurry the sense of infinitude when we admit that, although God is infinite, evil has a place in this infinity, for evil can have no place, where all space is filled with God" (p. 469).

Children's Clothing, and Underwear, especially for men and children, are needed at the Clothing Chest, Mayor's Relief Com., Old Police Station, West Newton.

Prof. Buckingham Says "Never Too Old To Learn"

Dr. Burdette R. Buckingham of the Harvard Graduate School of Education spoke on "Adult Education" before the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church on February 4. Dr. Buckingham is a resident of Newtonville. He contended that the prevailing opinion that there is a marked relation between age and the ability to learn is exaggerated and pointed out several reasons why this opinion exists.

Adults appear slow because they lack incentive. They lack curiosity of children and suffer a mental torpidity due to other impulses such as work, saving, sex and parenthood. When pressure is removed, the desire for mental activity returns. The adult tries to learn too much in a short time. A child requires about 5000 hours to learn English and the college student with a well organized curriculum takes 300 hours for the study of economics, while the adult tries to master a foreign language in too short a time and most of his studying is done in a hit and miss fashion.

Thinking is not the chief business of the adult who usually studies at night when tired. Home duties, the demands of society, and business handicaps in this case. Another advantage which the child has over the adult in the matter of learning is constant review. To solve this problem under discussion, animal psychology has been pushed to the limit. Here comparable conditions, hard to get in humans, are more easily obtained and interesting facts have been deduced. The peak of learning ability has been found to be between the ages of 20 and 25 and not in childhood. From this period on to the age of 45 there is a decrease of less than 15 per cent. This learning power is, between the ages of 25 and 45, superior to that in childhood and equal to that between the ages of 14 and 18. After all age is a minor factor in the ability to learn. Capacity, energy and time are the essentials.

Finds Conditions Best in New Eng.

William R. Mattson of Brookdale road, Newtonville, who is connected with the Babson Institute, has just returned from an extended trip through the South and Middle West and reports that he is glad to get back to New England. While his business did not call for any detailed study of business sentiment, he says that he talked with many representative men and found that in no city was there the optimistic business spirit nor the evidence of business in progress which exists in New England.

In the South he found business absolutely flat, but as he traveled through the Middle West he found conditions apparently improving. In Washington and Philadelphia he noted a further improvement, due largely to construction work. While in every section visited he found business with its back to the wall working to come back, he says that New England is leading in the fight for recovery.

WASHINGTON BI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Waban Lodge 156, Newton Lodge 92, Gannett Club Remountment 62, Tenney Rebekah 119, Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah 177, L. O. O. F., celebrated the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington Wednesday evening Feb. 17 in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton. The Washington Players, under the direction of the author, Gladys Black Wilcox, presented "The Women of Washington" in two acts and five scenes before a capacity audience. The first act opened with a minut by Washington and Mary Phillips. This act portrayed the love story of Washington and Mary Phillips and what might have happened to Washington had he married her.

The second act gave the love story of Martha Curtis and Washington and a scene at Valley Forge. Miss Mildred Beardsley, one of Newton's star entertainers, presented a splendid program of music and readings, selections on xylophone and pianofortes. Music was furnished by Waban Lodge Orchestra. After the entertainment there was dancing until a late hour.

Committee—Charles F. Dow, chairman; Richard Paine, Archie Wilson, James Colligan, Newton Lodge. Howard C. Henderson, Edgar A. Locke, Waban Lodge. Harold Temperley, Gillis W. Stark, Charles Delaney, Garden City Encampment, Mabel Wilson, Tenney Rebekah Lodge. Mae Smith, Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge. The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Mass. will celebrate the 200th Anniversary of the birth of Geo. Washington in Ford Hall, Boston, Monday, Feb. 22.

The Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, the Grand Master, Grand Patriarch, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Massachusetts will be present. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. to 500 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS DINNER

On Monday evening, February 15th, thirty members of the Highland Glee Club held a dinner at the Parish House of the Trinity Episcopal Church in Newton Centre, following which there was a regular rehearsal. These dinners are held frequently in order to give the men an opportunity to become better acquainted and to combine a social side with the musical work.

Rehearsals are going on each week in preparation for the spring concert which will be held on March 29th.

Representatives of the Club will join with representatives of other clubs all over New England at the annual dinner of the Federation of New England Glee Clubs to be held February 27th in Boston, where plans will be discussed for the competitive contest which is to be held this year at Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

The work of the Highland Glee Club as an individual organization as well as its co-operative work with the Federation of Glee Clubs is an important contribution to the musical life of the community and is being more appreciated under present conditions than ever before both by the members and by the public.

depression. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., chairman of this Mid-Winter Activity and Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, under whose auspices all such events are held, are to be congratulated on the wonderful success of this occasion.

Auburndale Woman's Club

What might have started the trouble in the far East, and what has happened up to the present time, was explained by Prof. Brewer G. Whitmore in his second lecture on Current Events before a large group of Auburndale Woman's Club members last week. The locations and regulations of the railway systems of China and Japan, together with the building of additional ones by the Chinese in locations where the Japanese claim they had promised not to run them, may have been one cause. The possibility of Japan wishing to colonize in Manchuria, where there are great natural resources, and to which the Chinese have been coming in large numbers, may also have been a cause. Mr. Whitmore described the zoning of Shanghai into the three zones, including the International, where so many nations have representatives.

From the far East, Prof. Whitmore took up Great Britain and mentioned the new ten per cent tariff which goes into effect the first of March. Our own country was his last subject, and he closed the talk with a tribute to Abraham Lincoln, styling him the "Sign and Symbol of Our National Ability". spoke of Albert Fall, whose connection with the speaker's office, the only one ever in the history of the United States, was a subject of his lecture. The third in the series of lectures will be on Thursday, March 3rd, in the Plummer Memorial Library. These are being sponsored by the Literature committee of the Woman's Club, with Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman chairman. Single admissions may be secured at the time of the lecture for fifty cents each.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club was happily entertained by Miss Mary L. Sweeney, of 20 Columbus street, on Saturday afternoon, February 13th. The work for the afternoon, Acts I, II, and III of "The Tempest", was scheduled for Miss Ethel L. Hall.

Much to the regret of the Club Miss Hall was absent, due to illness. But the questions which she had prepared and sent to the members, and her full answers were placed in the hands of the chairman of the Executive Board, Miss Edith M. McCann, who conducted Miss Hall's work, bringing out the setting of the play and the development of the characters admirably. The chief points were made by Miranda, beautiful, modest, and tender, in whom the purely natural and the purely ideal were blended, was the chief cause of Ferdinand, noble and magnanimous, finding the Island, Bermuda, a Paradise; that Prospero provokes in Antonio and Sebastian the purpose, and takes away the performance of crime, so he can bring them to a knowledge of themselves, and shame down their evil by his demonstration of good, so showing more than anything else what the discipline of life has made of him.

Waban Woman's Club

"Rhythm in the Dance," the Lecture-Recital given by Catherine Rapp of the Noyes Group, at the Waban Woman's Club on the afternoon of February 15th, proved to be a most unique and interesting program.

"Noyes Rhythm" is a science of movement as it is taught in the Noyes School of Rhythm of New York, and at its affiliated schools in other leading cities, including Boston. Miss Rapp is a director of the school and a teacher as well as a concert dancer. Although the dance was the aspect of the work which she stressed in her talk, the principles behind the movement which Miss Rapp exemplified she declared are equally effective in all forms of activity, whether it be in the dance, a game of golf, or in ordinary every-day things, such as walking up the staircase.

"Everything that we do can be done either with rhythm or without rhythm," said Miss Rapp, "the degree of rhythm determining how effective they will be. Every movement that has rhythm is inevitably easy and beautiful."

Two beautiful dances from the Concert Group, "Aethusa," and "The Dance of the Shield" were included in the program.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

"Skidding," a three-act comedy by Aurania Rouverol, sponsored by the Dramatics committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, was presented to a large and appreciative audience in the Auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School on Tuesday evening, February 16th, at 8:15 o'clock.

The following cast took their parts equal to professionals: Mrs. Ethel C. Odell, Mr. Jack Purple, Mrs. Bessie Warren Skelton, Mr. John D. Haughey, Mr. Henry A. Shute, Miss Geneva Brown, Mrs. Marie Elliot Sonnenberg, Mr. Edgar S. Swail, Mrs. Ruth Yeager, and Mr. Robert P. Holdsworth.

The stage manager was Mrs. Miriam H. Bern, assisted by Miss Martha Swail, and the property managers were Mrs. E. Valentine Wetmore and Mrs. Joseph C. Allen.

Auburndale Review Club

A Club husband contributed towards the program of the Auburndale Review Club at its regular meeting last week. Mr. Richard O. Walter, the husband of this year's Program chairman, gave a talk on the "Life and Times of George Washington," the meeting which was held in the afternoon, instead of the usual morning hour, being held at the Walter home, on Fern street.

The speaker outlined the many approaches which might be used for his subject, such as Washington's Nationality; the Monuments to his memory; through art, as representing him in sculpture and on canvas; and through his personal characteristics; Mr. Walter reading from the last will and testament of Washington to show his foresight for kin and country.

He pictured his subject first as the successful planter, then as the chairman of the Constitutional Convention, and closing with his years as President.

Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, a member of the Waiting List of the Club, sang a group of songs: "Beneath a Weeping Willow," by Milligan; "Sheep in Clothing," by Endicott; and "My Lonely Cella," by Higgins; and later favored the Club with a second group: "The Fields of Ballycleve," by Turner-Maley; "The Dreamy Lake," by Griffes; and "Song of the Open," by La Forge.

During the brief business meeting which preceded the program, the program committee was announced for next year: Mrs. Otis Cary, chairman; Mrs. Amos Wells, and Mrs. Nelson Freeman. The president then called for a vote on the four bills which have been sponsored by the State Federation: Mrs. Wells, chairman of the Legislative committee presenting them to the Club. After the program, tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Richard Walter, the president, Mrs. E. F. Drew, and the vice president, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, presiding at the tea table.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Skidding," literally and figuratively, was experienced by those members and guests of the Newtonville Woman's Club who braved the inclement weather on Thursday evening, February 11th, to witness the Annual Play presented by the Drama committee of the Club.

"Skidding," a very clever comedy in three acts, by Aurania Rouverol, was received by a most enthusiastic audience, that had assembled to observe President's Night, many noted guests and presidents from neighboring Clubs being present, and members of the Executive Board acting as hostesses.

Mrs. Herbert L. Blair, president, welcomed the guests and then introduced the guests of honor, each one

TO BE ASKED QUESTIONS

If you want to flatter anybody, ask them for advice. And in this, your local Edison Shop is no exception. It is delighted to hand it out in small, medium, or large doses. And while what it has to say may not be as spicy as advice to the lovelorn, or hints on beauty, it's always very much to the point...

Which appliances are indispensable? How best to use and care for them? How can electricity be used for greater cleanliness, convenience, freedom, and economy... in washing, ironing, cooking, cleaning, refrigeration... for decorative lighting... for better illumination for the children's home work and reading? How speedy is an electric range? Et cetera.

● And don't forget you can pick up very nice appliances here—as well as free advice. We maintain this shop for your convenience—to save you the time and bother of trips to town—though we're frank to admit the other local electrical stores are worth visiting, too.

were Mr. Frederick A. Tennant, Mrs. Thomas E. Shepherd, and Mrs. Harry O. Williams. The costumes were in charge of Mrs. Cecil W. Clark and Mrs. Robert A. Browning.

Those having charge of the candy were Mrs. Ellison G. Day, Mrs. Lester B. Hunter, Mrs. Chester Kemper, and Mrs. Frank A. Morrison. Tickets were attended to by Mrs. Percy Woodward and Mrs. John G. Gilbert. Those ushering included Mrs. Sidney L. Sholley, Mrs. William L. Holter, Mrs. Aaron M. Jones, Mrs. Anton R. Fried, Mrs. Everett H. Judkins, and Mrs. Constance R. Kemper. Between the acts candy was sold by Alma Warner, Mary Chambers, Nina Keppler, Carolyn Bassett, Rosetta Littlefield, Ruth Trowbridge, and Nathalie Chase, daughters of Club members. Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, Mrs. Abbie C. Thornton, and Mrs. Edward P. Comer assisted Miss Estelle Marsh, chairman, who acted as general manager.

Between the acts, also, music was furnished by Mary Pucciarelli, violinist; and Doris Foster, cellist, with Frances Pembroke Boleman at the piano.

The Drama committee may feel well satisfied that this their final production of the year may be added as still another triumph to their long list of complete successes.

Mr. Harriman On Committee

Henry I. Harriman, of Newton, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and a leader in the field of electric power transmission in New England, has accepted appointment as a member of the executive committee of the Massachusetts World Court Committee, a state-wide organization of prominent men and women, the purpose of which is to aid in securing early and favorable action by the United States Senate on the question of completing American adherence to the World Court.

The committee believes that the World Court has demonstrated its usefulness as an instrumentality for the peaceful settlement of serious international disputes in the ten years of its existence, and that its effectiveness will be greatly increased by the full cooperation of the United States, which awaits ratification by the United States Senate of the protocols now before the Foreign Relations Committee. These protocols have been signed by the United States and embody reservations designed to safeguard every American interest.

Hear Talk On Citizenship

On Wednesday evening of this week the Newton Citizens Club held its first general meeting with an attendance of over 90 percent of its members.

Each member of the Executive Committee gave a four minute talk on various subjects pertaining to the good and welfare of the organization.

The club was very fortunate in having First Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County Frank G. Volpe as its guest speaker. His talk was confined mainly to the benefits derived from the privileges of Citizenship and elaborated on the necessity of such organizations as the Newton Citizens Club throughout the country.

The keen interest with which the audience listened to Mr. Volpe's talk proves that racial groups are not taking an active interest in the welfare of our government.

Mr. Volpe offered his personal assistance in any problem which might confront the organization and he would be delighted to have us call upon him at anytime to speak on subjects which might interest our club. Mr. Volpe was given very warm applause and thanked for his interesting talk.

The committee intends to invite members of our various State Departments to talk to the members of the organization at all their regular monthly meetings.

PROFESSOR TUCKER ADDRESSES GUILD

Last Sunday Prof. Tucker of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology addressed the Channing Young People's Guild. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Eunice Cook, 93 School street, Belmont. The subject of the talk was "The Rise in Business Morals." The business dealings of four prominent men were described: John Jacob Astor, Jay Gould, John D. Rockefeller and Henry Ford. Astor is said to have gone to extreme lengths to put rival companies out of business, while Ford has made a success through mass production. At 7 P. M. the Guild adjourned to the Unitarian-Universalist Young People's Meeting held at the Church of the Redeemer in Boston. Dr. Sperdy dean of the Harvard Theological School spoke on "The Rights and Duties of Youth."

OPENS NEWTON SHOWROOM

Every home owner wants his home to be beautiful, sanitary and decorative. With this view in mind, the Boston Radiator Enclosure Co., the only concern manufacturing radiator enclosures and shields in this territory, has opened an office and showroom at No. 251 Washington street, Newton, to accommodate the home owners of Newton, Weston, Wellesley, Waltham, Brookline and other neighboring localities.

The radiator enclosures and shields manufactured by this concern, beautify the home and save the walls, draperies and curtains, from dust and smudge. Instead of an ugly looking radiator, when it is covered with the cabinets manufactured by the above concern, it adds another piece of furniture to the room.

The manufacturer has combined the best features of all other radiator enclosures and placed them in their cabinet, and built what they believe to be the best cabinet on the market, underselling all others. There is no middleman's profit. They sell direct to the consumer, delivered and installed free of charge. The hundreds of installations in the finer homes, hospitals, hotels, and churches, proves the value of their scientifically constructed product.

The Boston Radiator Enclosure Co. will be pleased to have a representative call at your home, and give you all information and quotations without any obligation.

SPEAKER SALTONSTALL TO TALK ON LEGISLATION

Speaker of the House Leverett Saltonstall of Newton will be the speaker at the February meeting of the Men's Club of West Newton next Thursday evening at the dinner in the Unitarian Parish House at 6:30. He will talk on "Current Problems of Legislation." Mr. Saltonstall began his political career as a member of the Board of Aldermen from 1920 to 1922. In 1921 he became an assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County for two years and in 1923 became a member of the House of Representatives where he has served since as one of Newton's representatives from the fifth district. Since 1929 he has been the Speaker of the House and is recognized as a leader in public affairs as well as being one of the best informed men on legislative problems. There never having been a time when these problems were more confusing than at present Mr. Saltonstall is particularly well equipped to bring an interesting and instructive message.

Third Conference Of Central Council

The third welfare luncheon conference of Newton Central Council was held Feb. 10, at Bond's restaurant. The meeting was in charge of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright presided.

Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, captain of the reorganized Newton Motor Corps, Red Cross, told of the work being done and what the corps hopes to do in the future. Mrs. Barnes is eminently equipped for her work, as she comes from an extended service in the Motor Corps of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter. The Newton Motor Corps, which has been organized only six weeks, is taking over the volunteer service work of the Newton Central Council. There are four main functions of the corps. At the time of the Red Cross Roll Call, the motor corps delivers stickers, posters and other material to schools, factories, etc., carries supplies from Boston to Newton churches which are assisting Boston in sewing layettes and other articles for distribution.

During parades the corps is very useful in many ways, particularly in carrying supplies for First Aid and in transporting veterans. The real work of the corps which goes on continuously is hospital work. The Newton Hospital and other social agencies can call on the corps for help in getting patients to and from a clinic, which they could not otherwise attend. In the past month seventeen drivers have been on call. The police of Newton have been asked to show special courtesy to the Red Cross pennants when displayed on a motor car.

"A motor corps driver is not liable for an accident while driving for the Red Cross, or any charitable agency, unless he is grossly negligent," replied Mrs. Barnes, in answer to a question from the floor.

Mrs. W. W. Weeden, Field Secretary for the Red Cross in Southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island made clear the position of the Red Cross in the present emergency of unemployment by reading a letter sent out by Judge Payne, Chairman of the National Organization. He said that the Red Cross can only help when emergency relief is necessary, and when other agencies are unequipped to meet the problem. All chapters are helping in unemployment relief in their communities but they must never duplicate the work of any other agency in a community. Neither is the Red Cross equipped to administer the entire relief for the country, as was suggested.

The Newton Chapter has a very well-rounded program and is not duplicating in any way. Miss Esther Mayhew Walker, who is in charge of the Red Cross Home Service in Newton has received great praise from the United States Veterans Bureau for her prompt and efficient service after intelligent investigation.

Newton's water safety program is excellent, it was pointed out, and instruction in life saving and first aid is carried on each summer for two months by a Red Cross instructor.

Miss H. Margaret Norcross is doing splendid work in Newton Red Cross courses in "Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick"; also in home hygiene and first aid.

The Junior Red Cross in the schools of Newton has a 100 per cent membership and the schools deserve great credit. These are the members who will carry on the work of the Red Cross in the future, and they are being well trained. The Newton delegates to Washington last year were splendid, and they were a great tribute to the schools of Newton. The deus ex machina of the Newton Chapter is Miss Louise Jellerson who is always on hand to see that the details of the work are promptly and efficiently carried out. The Newton Red Cross has many prospects for the future, among which is a nutrition program.

School Committee Favors Bigelow School Addition To Provide for Pupils There

Report Reveals Improvements Planned Which Joint Committee Refused to Recommend

In last week's GRAPHIC under "About Town" was a reference to the failure of the City Government to provide proper facilities for junior high teaching at the Bigelow School. Because of a typographical error the article did not make clear that the School Committee has gone on record as recommending the building of an addition to the school. The following is the statement submitted by the School Committee to the conference which was held between Mayor Weeks and the joint committee on school buildings comprised of three aldermen and three members of the School Committee, which tabled the recommendations:

It is believed that the Bigelow School should be at this time, made into a first class, complete Junior High School. This could be done by providing a new building, which would be very desirable, though expensive. The desire of the School Committee is to provide a good Junior High School building to the end that the pupils may have every proper educational opportunity, bearing in mind that this should be done at the least possible cost to the city.

An addition to and a complete overhauling of the present building seems to be the wise thing to do now, and for the following reasons:

- I. From the point of view of the pupils.
 - A. Pupils residing in the village of Newton should have the same educational opportunities as those residing in other parts of the city. These opportunities cannot be provided with the present physical equipment, but could be if the proposed addition and alterations to the building are provided as requested.
 - B. Pupils now in the 9th grade have to go to the Senior High School, if they happen to live in the village of Newton, at a weekly expense of about 50c each for carfare, aggregating about $3000 in the course of a year.
 - C. It is believed that a better attitude of mind can be retained if the children of 9th grade age can be kept with others of Junior High School age rather than being thrown in with the older children of Senior High School age.
 - D. Parents can and will more readily co-operate with the teachers in a local village Junior High School which they can visit more frequently than would be the case if it were necessary to travel to Newtonville. Parents are in the habit of calling frequently at the school to the benefit of the children.
 - E. (1) The Household Arts courses are now being given at the Underwood School, an unsatisfactory place, causing loss of time and instruction to both children and teachers.

- (2) No adequate accommodations exist at present for the normal shop activities and courses now regularly taught to boys at the Junior High Schools in other parts of the city.
- (3) Drawing classes cannot be properly conducted with the present facilities.
- (4) Cafeteria accommodations are painfully inadequate.
 - a) Kitchen is too small, poorly ventilated and badly overheated. It is improperly equipped for preparation of food. Variety is kept at a minimum. Service is too much delayed by crowding.
 - b) Lunch rooms are too small even for the present number of pupils. Two old, inadequate classrooms are used in which to eat, in place of a much desired cafeteria.
 - (5) Science room is not suitable, a regular classroom being used at present for that purpose. Children can best learn science only when adequate apparatus and equipment are available.

II. The school system demands the completion of a Junior High School in the Bigelow District. Eleven years ago, the F. A. Day Junior High School was built and the city adopted the Junior High School Plan which has gradually been extended to all parts of the city except Newton.

- A. It is not desirable from the point of view of the administration of the High School to have there a small group of pupils of 9th grade age.
- B. With the present increase in school population, it will only be a year or two before there will be absolutely no room in the High School for pupils of Junior High School age.
 - (1) In June 1932, we will graduate about 600 pupils from the High School. In September, 750 pupils will enter the High School, nearly taxing its present capacity. This does not include the pupils now in the 8th grade at the Bigelow. Any further expansion in enrollment will necessitate locating classes permanently on the fourth floor of the Classical High School Building, possibly somewhat dangerous from the point of view of a fire.

III. The present Bigelow School building is inadequate for the following reasons:

- A. It now has only twelve classrooms. It is estimated that within a few years a 500 pupil (Continued on Page 6)

Former Resident To Address K.C. At Reception

To President of Boston College on Sunday Afternoon

Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher, LL.D., has been selected to address the Knights of Columbus on Sunday afternoon on the occasion of their Reception to the President of Boston College, Rev. Louis J. Gallagher, S. J.

Mr. Gallagher is a former resident of Newton and has a host of friends throughout the City who will greet him at the Reception. In 1917 Mr. Gallagher received the highest academic honor which a college can bestow, The Degree of Doctor of Law was conferred upon Mr. Gallagher by Boston College.

The Knights of Columbus reception is to be attended by representatives from every Council in Massachusetts. The affair is scheduled to start at three o'clock with the members of the Fourth Degree in full uniform escorting Father Gallagher to the Auditorium at Boston College. The entire membership of Newton Council will attend in a body and many male friends of members will accompany them. Men in the community are invited to be present. Although not a parading organization, the sight of many members of the Fourth Degree in full uniform presents a beautiful spectacle and one which occurs only at rare intervals. All members of the Fourth Degree residing in Greater Boston are urged to be present.

Mr. Louis Neale, a singer of national reputation, has been engaged for the afternoon and in addition to Mr. Neale, the trained quartet from Roslindale Council will render several numbers. Mr. Neale is home for a visit and the Committee in charge of the Reception were fortunate in obtaining his services. This popular vocalist studied three years in the Conservatory at Berlin.

Mr. John E. Swift, Supreme Director of the Order, has been assigned to represent the Supreme Council at this affair. Mr. Swift is a Professor of Law at the Boston College Law School and is one of the best known Knights in the Order. Joseph M. Kirby, State Deputy in Massachusetts, will extend the greetings of the State Council and deliver a short address.

The Dean of Boston College, Rev. James S. McHugh, S. J., has consented to tell of the life and work of Father Gallagher. Most of Father Gallagher's work in recent years has been accomplished in Russia where he has made an intensive study of the Soviet government, its effect upon the populace and its economic effect upon the rest of the world.

The Past Grand Knights of Newton Council under the direction of P. G. K. John H. Gordon, Sr., will form the Reception Committee on Sunday afternoon. All Grand Knights in Greater Boston will serve as ushers at the Reception.

Grand Knight Walter J. Connor of Newton Council has been placed in charge of the affair and is assisted by an active Committee composed of members from Newton and other Councils. District Deputy P. J. Moynihan and P. G. K. John Gordon will present the members to Father Gallagher immediately following the addresses.

All men in the community are invited to be present.

Two Girl Scouts Get Highest Award At West Newton

Receive Golden Eaglets From Commissioner

The Golden Eaglet, the highest award that may be attained by a Girl Scout, was presented to two Girl Scouts of Troop 15 at a get-together of the West Newton troops on Friday, February 19. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner for Newton, presented these awards. The girls to receive them were Elizabeth Cotter and Charlotte Stearns.

The get-together was held in the Davis School and was attended by members of the three troops in West Newton and their parents and friends. It was a very interesting meeting starting with an opening ceremony led by Rosalind Bigelow, a Golden Eaglet of Troop 15. A number of girls from Troop 25 were invested as Second Class Scouts and attendance stars were awarded. Miss Freeman, the Local Director, presented First Class Badges to the following girls: Frances Jennings, Jean Eddy, Adelaide Seeley, Audrey Seeley and Margaret Cameron. This makes all but two of the members of Troop 15 First Class Scouts. This is a very splendid record as the requirements for the First Class award are difficult and the standards high. Of the two girls who are not First Class—one has been in Scouting too short a time to accomplish the work, but is well on her way and the other is giving her services to a junior troop and has not been able to accomplish her First Class work.

A very attractive moving picture of Camp Mary Day, taken by Mr. Root during the summer of 1930, was shown by Mr. Edwin Morse of Waban.

Mrs. Fernald, Chairman of the West Newton Troop Committee, told the girls that the committee has decided to erect a cabin at the Girl Scout Camp and asked their co-operation in earning $50 towards the expense. This will make the third village cabin at Camp Mary Day and besides making overnight hiking spring and fall more practical, it will probably mean that more girls can be taken care of at the Camp during the summer.

Rejane Harvey and Jane Hayden, the two West Newton delegates to the Girls' Conference, which was held on February 13 and 14, gave very interesting reports.

Captain Bigelow showed a lovely stool which the girls of Troop 15 made and which they will present to Mrs. Hoover while on their trip to Washington. The box in which it was to be presented was of dark green cardboard with a map of Camp Mary Day on the cover.

After the Good Night Circle and singing "Taps," the Troop Committee served ice cream and cake.

WABAN MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

The third death within six days in this city by a railroad train running over a person, occurred at Waban on Tuesday evening. Harold W. O'Leary, 51, of 187 Moffat road, Waban, had accompanied his mother and his aunt to the railroad station to see them off on the train leaving at 7:05 p. m. He was driven to the depot by his daughter, Margaret. After the train had departed O'Leary's body was found badly mangled, lying beside the tracks at one end of the station platform by two taxi drivers. No witnesses saw the fatality occur. Mr. O'Leary had formerly been engaged in the cotton yarn business. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances O'Leary; a daughter and one son. His funeral service will be held this afternoon at the Eastman Funeral Parlor, Boston; Rev. Charles H. Cutler and Rev. Joseph C. McDonald will officiate. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

CARS CRASH AT NONANTUM

A car driven by Pasquale Antonellis of 175 Adams street, Nonantum and a truck owned by the Metropolitan Ice Company collided at Watertown street, near Cook street last Friday. The car stopped on the street and the truck hit it in the rear. Antonellis reported that two women who were riding in his car received injuries. They were Antonia Tramotozzi of Lincoln road, Newton and Pasquella Civetti of 15 Cottage court, Nonantum.

Babson Analyzes B. & W. Track Removal Question

Makes Statement in Letter To Graphic

In view of the controversy over the question of the removal of the trolley tracks of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway on Boylston street, in this city, which has grown out of the proposed construction of the new Boston to Worcester turnpike by the State Department of Public Works, the following letter from Mr. Roger W. Babson, of Wellesley, analyzing the situation, is of timely interest:

February 26, 1932.
To the Editor of the NEWTON GRAPHIC

Having faith in the Department of Public Works, I have endeavored to keep out of the "Boston & Worcester track removal" controversy; but so many friends in Newton have asked my opinion, the following analysis of the situation may now be in order. Let me say, however, that this is my first written communication on the subject. I have admired the intelligent work of Mr. Lyman and his associates and have respected them for fighting for the taxpayers of Massachusetts. This letter is therefore written only to clarify the situation without taking sides for or against any one of the following three different policies:

1. The Department of Public Works and the Street Railway Company have been trading on the basis of moving (not removing) the tracks. It has been the policy of the Department of Public Works to pay for the moving of street railway tracks when building State Highways, and they wish to continue this policy in connection with the Boston & Worcester. Unfortunately, however, the two parties cannot agree as to what the "cost of moving" would be. The Department of Public Works claims that the actual moving can be done for $200,000, but this figure does not include the additional width of underpasses, overpasses and the Newton viaduct, all of which would need to be made about 20 feet wider if the street car tracks are left in a reservation as at present. The Street Railway Company claims that this cost should be included in the "cost of moving" which brings the amount to over $600,000.

2. The Street Railway Company objects strenuously to giving up its reservation if its tracks are to remain. Among the several reasons for this may be mentioned the following:

First, the danger from collisions with automobiles will greatly be increased by the elimination of the reservation and the placing of the tracks in the traveled way. Owing to a technicality, it has been ruled that the Street Railway Company has not a legal claim to its reservation in the towns of Framingham and Natick; but all are agreed that the Street Railway Company has a legal claim to its reservation in Wellesley, Newton and Brookline. If the tracks are to be "moved" and left in the highway, it is very desirable that, for the safety of the public this reservation be maintained. Second, there are certain developments in the transportation field which at any time may make the Boston & Worcester reservation very valuable. Among these new developments I mention the following:

- A. The government of the Irish Free State in financing the Drumm electric storage battery which gives (Continued on Page 6)

May Only Resurface Part of Washington St. This Year on Account of Cost of Project

Forty-Foot Strip of Concrete in Centre—State To Aid, Mayor Announces

The astounding information was issued from the Mayor's office at City Hall this week that only part of Washington street may be resurfaced during this year. The statement reads—

"Only part of Washington Street, now in deplorable condition, will be resurfaced this summer unless the city finds available finances for doing the entire strip from Newton Corner to West Newton, as originally planned."

"This probability was announced to the Graphic yesterday by Mayor Weeks, who added that the 'worst part will be resurfaced this summer' if it is decided that money is not available to do the whole job."

"The present situation has arisen, the Mayor declares, because of the fact that the State Department of Public Works has decided that a four-lane concrete road will be built. This type of material is the most expensive, much more costly than the City of Newton had planned. However, the State is willing to assume one-third of the cost of this concrete road, and the City of Newton will assume full cost of the 'shoulders' on either side of the concrete strip. These shoulders, in some places will be twenty to twenty-five feet wide and will be of the so-called Type D material. In brief, the Mayor explained that by calling on the State to assume part of the cost of the new road, Newton will have the best road that can be built, but will have to spend, as its share, more than was originally planned."

"It is understood that the State's share of the cost will total about $35,000. In addition the State Department of Public Works will do all the necessary work of asking for bids, letting the contract and supervising the construction on the road. When the work is completed and accepted by the engineers it will be turned over to the City of Newton."

"Right now we can't say whether we will be able to build the entire distance," said Mayor Weeks, "or only a part. Of course we will build it all this summer if possible."

Washington street, the main business thoroughfare of this city, bisecting the business areas of Newton Corner, Newtonville, West Newton and Lower Falls, has been in poor condition for many years. For the past two years its condition has become increasingly terrible because of the countless patches of soft tar placed on it. Bad enough on its entire stretch from West Newton to Newton Corner, the section from Crafts street easterly has been a disgrace to the city, tortuous to motorists who ride over it and ruinous to the cars regularly operated on it.

Repairs to this street have been deferred the past two years because of the contemplated laying of a large water main by the State along this highway. Pressure was brought by our Legislators in 1930 and an appropriation secured which permitted the laying of this big main last year so that the street might be repaired. Then, it was announced by city officials that the work on the street would be started this Spring after the filled-in trench containing the big water pipes had been given time to settle. On the assurance that the street would be resurfaced this Spring and Summer, employees of the Water Department have been making many connections along the street, and employees of the Gas Company have been doing likewise. This work has made the north side of the street almost as bad as the side nearer the former location of the street railway tracks. The work of laying the water main was unnecessarily slow; pipes were stored along the street for many weeks before needed; traffic was inconvenienced and the business men at West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Corner suffered large losses. The street in its present sorry state, is not only hazardous to traffic, but continual clouds of dust arise from it to the detriment of the health and property of persons residing on or near it.

Claims have been made against the city for damages to automobiles. These claims have been consistently given leave to withdraw, but if the street is not repaired this year, if the rights of the public, including citizens of Newton continue to be flouted by failure of the city to repair the street without further delay, it is more than probable that Newton will have litigation to face because of personal and property damages resulting from the condition of the street. The law states that a city is liable for defects on a highway which have been allowed to exist for an unreasonable length of time, and of which due notice has been given. Both of these conditions could be easily proved against the City of Newton as regards Washington street and the temper of the people is such, that volunteer witnesses could readily be obtained by plaintiffs. If the City Government is courting trouble, it should refuse to resurface all of Washington street between West Newton and Newton Corner this year. The allegation of financial inability will not be accepted by the people.

MAN KILLED AT NEWTONVILLE

Frank Caruso, 21, of 276 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, was killed Saturday morning as he was endeavoring to board the 8:35 train for Boston at the Newtonville railroad station. The young man was the son of Joseph Caruso who conducts a barber shop at Newton Corner. He was employed as a barber at 145 Tremont street, Boston and was on his way to work. Apparently he attempted to get on the front platform of the rear car and fell under the trucks. He was discovered lying at the east end of the station by two boys who ran to the ticket office and notified Fred Hughes, the station agent. Hughes telephoned for the police ambulance and rushed to where the young man was lying. Caruso was conscious when Hughes reached him but he died in the police ambulance on his way to the Newton Hospital. He was born in Boston and had resided in this city since a child. His funeral service was held Monday at the Church of Our Lady, and burial was in Calvary Cemetery. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and four sisters.

TRACK TEAM IN FIFTH PLACE AT ANDOVER MEET

The Newton High indoor track team placed fifth at the annual Andover Academy interscholastic meet last Saturday with 13 points. Boston English high succeeded to the trophy, which Newton won last year, after a dramatic battle with Brookline and Lawrence High schools. The Hub school totalled 22 points to 19-12 for Brookline and 18-12 for Lawrence. Everett High scored 14 points to finish ahead of Newton while Medford and nine other schools trailed with points ranging from 11-2 to a fraction.

Newton's points were tallied with second place in the dash, hurdles and broad jump together with the third fastest time in the relay. In hopes of establishing a new relay record Coach Enoch did not allow Captain Jimmy Cahill to start in either the 300 or 600-yard runs. But Everett and Boston English upset this strategy in a bitterly fought relay which the former won in record breaking time. English also shaded the old mark. Newton's time of 25-1-5 seconds was just 3-5ths of a second behind it.

In a blanket finish of the dash, Douglas Sloane was given second behind Roberts of Lawrence with Committo of Everett, White of Lowell and Carpenter of Medford in a tie for third. Sloane had won his trial heat over Thomas of Worcester Classical and his semi-final over Casabona of Salem.

The second trial heat of the hurdles saw John Donovan of Lawrence setting a new mark and track record of 5 seconds which he equalled in his final heat in winning the event. Stan Johnson of Newton won the third trial heat over Odome of Fairhaven and his semi-final over Crawford of Watertown to get into the finals in which he places second to Donovan.

Roger Maynard was Newton's hope in the 1000-yard run but he failed to place although running a nice race to place third in the first heat against time.

Newton opposed its close rival, Brookline, in the relay race and the usual battle between the two ensued although the local quartet led all the way and fought off every attempt the Brookline runners made to wrest the lead. Doug Sloane led off and was followed by Bill Cusumano and Frank Tuschner with Captain Jimmy Cahill as anchor.

Stan Johnson accounted for six of Newton's points by taking second in the broad jump to add to his second in the hurdles. As each competitor was permitted to enter but one track and one field event Johnson did not get into the high jump where he could have had a probable tie for second. Johnson was the favorite in the broad jump and the victory of Ted Plotkin of Brookline was the biggest upset of the meet. The event was held at the same time as the hurdles and Johnson was undoubtedly handicapped by having to make his jump in between the heats in the hurdles. Johnson's best effort was 10 ft. and 1-4 in, while Plotkin turned in a 10 and 1-3-8 effort to win.

Brookline failed to win the meet trophy when Schwartz missed on a new record in the high jump. Had he been successful this extra three points awarded would have given Brookline the meet by half a point.

Newton closes its indoor track season tomorrow at the State meet which is to be held at the Boston Garden track this year instead of the East Armory. It is probable that some new records will be established as the Garden track is considerably faster than the old track where the athletes are not permitted to use spikes. While not considered a contender for the State title the Newton team might easily come through to throw a big scare into opposing camps. The Class A title should develop into another battle between Boston English, Brookline and Lawrence with Everett an almost certainty for the Class B honors.

SPORT NOTES

Osborne Wins for Yale
The Yale varsity swimming team defeated Columbia in the latter's tank last Saturday night, 47 to 24. Captain Lloyd Osborne of Yale, local youth, won the 100-yard freestyle.

Brae Burn Wins
The Brae Burn Country Club hockey team came from behind to hand the No. Cambridge H. C. its first defeat of the season last Saturday, 3 to 2. The West Newton team lined up as follows: Russ, rw; Hodder, cw; Jim Hutchinson, lw; Garrison, rd; Crosby, id; Learnard, g; spares: Ellison, Jack Hutchinson, Stanley, Rice.

Complete in University Meet
Several local athletes competed for their respective colleges at the University Club intercollegiate meet at the Boston Garden last Saturday night in which Harvard won Class A honors and Bowdoin the Class B honors. Bob Kinraide of M. I. T. failed to place in the second trial heat of the Class A dash while Carl Pescosolido of Harvard got second in the sixth heat but failed to place in the semi-finals. Charlie Hall of M. I. T. failed to place in the second heat of the Class A 1000-yard run which was run in two heats against time. Romaine Cole of Tufts did not get a place in the third trial heat in the Class B hurdles. Fred Burton of Bowdoin placed fifth in the first heat of the Class B 1000-yard run but his time of 2 min. 30-4-5 seconds was the eighth fastest time in this event. Creighton Gatchell, third runner on the Bowdoin relay team, aided his mates in making the second fastest time of the evening in the Class B mile relays.

Boston Team Wins

The All Greater Boston schoolboy hockey team defeated the All Rhode Island schoolboy sextet at the Garden last Monday, 6 to 5, in one of the best schoolboy hockey games ever witnessed. The Hub team, composed of players from teams in the Greater Boston league, were considerably faster than their opponents but the latter were exceptionally tricky and frequently outguessed the home team to make scoring opportunities. In less than eight minutes the visitors had taken a 2-0 lead. The Boston second line, on which Dick Kelley of Newton was a wing relieved the first line and a few moments later the Hub team counted. Twenty seconds later they tied the score. Later Rhody took the lead and then Boston scored twice the second one coming early in the period to get the advantage. Again the visitors tied the count which was deadlocked at the end of the third session, and at the end of the regular playing time the teams went into an eight minute overtime session. A little more than half way through this period Boston settled the issue when Guilford took a pass from Ford to cage the winning tally. Newton youths who took part in the game were Natole Sostillo and Charlie Houghton on the defense and Jackson Skillings in the net as well as Kelley, Sostillo and Skillings were in the starting lineup with the others being used as spares.

Rice Reaches Quarter Finals
Larry B. Rice of Newton Centre, winner of the title in 1922, reached the quarter finals of the Bermuda men's tennis singles championship this week where he was eliminated by Fred Perry, the English Davis Cup player. Rice's service proved his weakness. In the quarter finals of the women's singles tourney Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre girl, was put out by Mrs. Wittingsall of England.

Annual Triangular Meet
The annual triangular indoor track meet at the Harvard, Cornell and Dartmouth will be held tomorrow evening at the Boston Garden track. Three local youths will be competing, two for Harvard and one for Cornell. Harvard is favored to win the honor again. Dartmouth will score heavily in the field events upon which they will rely for the greater part of their point total while Cornell's greatest strength seems to be in the distance events. The two local Harvard youths are Pescosolido in the dash and Kollmyer in the 600-yard run. Edward Eldhare former schoolboy champ, here at Newton, is a Cornell high jump hope.

Harvard Trims Green
Harvard defeated Dartmouth at hockey last Saturday for the second time this season taking a four goal lead in the first period and finally winning 6 to 2. Wilbur Crosby, West Newton youth and Harvard defence player, tallied the final Crimson tally. Langdon Powers, former Newton High, Deerfield academy, and Dartmouth freshman athlete, playing his first game for Dartmouth in more than two weeks scored the second Green tally. Powers is one of three local youths who are sophomores. Also a former Newton high athlete, Frank Spain and Bob Bennett were declared ineligible on the eve of the first game with Harvard two weeks ago.

Yale Beaten by Princeton
For the second time this season Yale was defeated by Princeton at hockey last Saturday when the Tiger eked out a 4 to 3 victory. Allie Fletcher, former Newton high star and regular Eli Centre, passed the puck to Bostwick, his wing mate, for the first goal of the game. Joe Gilligan, also a former Newton high athlete, was used as a spare defence player on the Blue sextet.

Skating Races at Brae Burn
Bob Brown was the outstanding skater in the races at the Brae Burn Country Club on the holiday with three first ribbons. Miss Margaret Fitzgerald took two firsts in the girls' races as the individual star. Other first place winners were Donald Forte, Ben Tower, Fred Cunningham, W. Coan, Ruth Wheeler, Thelma Blackey, Katherine Holbrook, and Harriet Morgan.

Newton League Bowling
Little change resulted in the standing of the Newton league in Wednesday night's matches as the three leading teams each took three points of the four from their opponents. Middlesex climbed into fourth place by taking three from Waban while University, dropping three to the Hunnewell Club, tumbled to fifth place. Maugus maintained its lead with three points from Commercial while Newton took three from Weston to keep deadlocked for second with Hunnewell.

Lincoln Park Wins Two
The newly formed Fidelity Club basketball team of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, won two victories this past week defeating the Second Church, 19 to 10 and the Phillips Congregational Church of Watertown, 49 to 37. Gilbert Grant is coach of the team and E. Harmon Gratto is athletic director for the club.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE AT NEWTON CENTER

Shortly before noon on Wednesday an explosion occurred at the shoe repairing shop of Paul Bazarian, 51 Union street, Newton Centre. A fire immediately followed which burned the shop. Bazarian received burns on his hands. The blast blew out the windows in the shop, cracked a plate glass window in the barber shop of Louis Parlatto, next door, and badly damaged the Bazarian shop. The damage was estimated at $2500. Chief Randlett believes the explosion to have been caused by fumes from gasoline used by Bazarian to clean hats.

OUR LADY HIGH HAS CLEAR ROAD TO CATHOLIC TITLE

Our Lady High cleared the final obstacle in its path to the 1932 Greater Boston Catholic High School Basketball League championship last Tuesday afternoon by edging St. Charles High of Waltham, 23 to 19, on the Newton team's court. It was Our Lady's twelfth straight league victory of the season and its second over St. Charles team, 1931 champions. With a lead of two games over St. Charles and Cathedral High schools which are deadlocked for second place and with but three games to play the locals have practically a clear road to the championship berth. In its two remaining games, one this afternoon and one next week, Our Lady will meet St. Mary's High of Brookline and Cathedral High of South Boston. Both teams would have to upset the local five to enable St. Charles or Cathedral High to tie for first place by winning their remaining games. It is an unlikely situation as Our Lady High easily defeated both of its remaining opponents earlier in the season.

Tuesday's victory over the strong Waltham quintet was provided by Steve MacLean and Charlie Gallagher, high scoring forwards from Our Lady's high, each caging a last minute basket to tuck the game away in a sensational finish. It was nipped and tuck all the way with Our Lady getting off in the lead. At the end of the first period the locals led 6-5, at half time 14-13 and at the end of the third session the score was knotted at 17 each. More than 500 fans crowded the Our Lady gym as the referee tossed the ball for the center jump. A short while later Charlie Gallagher snapped a pass to Steve MacLean and the latter looped the ball into the basket for the opening points. Intent on victory the Newton pair teamed up again for a second basket with Gallagher dribbling to the St. Charles' defence and passing to MacLean in the clear. Gallant and Dennis of St. Charles countered with the visitors first basket for which Gallant snared a pass from Dennis. MacLean made it 6-2 on a solo effort. Dennis eluded Caltunano, Our Lady right guard, to receive a pass from Gallant and cage St. Charles' second basket and a moment later caged a free try to make it 6-5 as the period ended.

Early in the second period a Gallagher shot was slightly wide but MacLean needed to take the rebound and flip it in for his fourth basket and Moran, Our Lady centre, tossed in another to increase the lead. Gallant put his team back in the team, bagging two baskets in a row and reducing the Our Lady lead to one point. Before the end of the half Dennis caged two more baskets for the visitors which were sandwiched by another for Moran and when the gun sounded Our Lady still enjoyed its one point margin, 14 to 13.

In the third period Dennis put St. Charles into the lead momentarily with a shot from under the basket but Gallagher caged one from the side and another on a free throw to give the home team a two-point advantage. Dennis outguessed Gallagher near the St. Charles' basket and caged the tying points just prior to the end of the session.

The final period kept the spectators on their feet most of the time as the ball traveled back and forth with little opportunity to score. Moran sent home a backhand as he raced under the basket and Gallant caged a free try to keep his team on Our Lady's heels. Both teams missed several opportunities under the pressure of the game and finally Gallant tossed in another free try to even it up again. With but a minute to go Moran stole the ball at mid-court and passed to Gallagher whose accurate relay to MacLean gave the latter the opportunity to make the basket without loss of time. St. Charles forced the issue but missed twice and when the play went to the other end of the court Gallagher shot one from scrimmage to settle the issue.

Last week Friday afternoon Our Lady High tallied its eleventh victory at the expense of St. Clement's by a 56 to 16 score. Gallagher and MacLean scored 41 points between them.

Set Relay Record

Yale swimmers set a new world's record mark in the 500-yard freestyle relay last Monday in a meet with the Boys' Club of New York. Captain Lloyd Osborne, local youth, swam at anchor. Last week the Eli quartet made a new intercollegiate mark in the 400-yard event and with Osborne as the fifth man in the larger event was clocked in 4 min. 31 sec to lower the previous mark, also held by the Blue by 1-3-5 seconds. On the way the first four Ells failed to lower the world's mark in the 400-yard event by 1-5 of a second when clocked in 3 min. 35-1-5 seconds. Osborne swam the anchor leg in 55-4-5 seconds. No new intercollegiate mark was established as the Yale swimmers were not competing against a college team.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Delivered by

W. STUART BOOTH, C.S.B., of Denver, Colorado

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

In The Christian Science Church, Walnut and Otis Street, Newtonville, on Sunday Afternoon, February 21st.

Entitled

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: The Revelation of Man's God-given Dominion

An audience that filled both the Church Auditorium and the Sunday School attended the lecture on Christian Science in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newtonville on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 21st. The lecturer, Mr. W. Stuart Booth, of Denver, Colorado, was introduced by the First Reader of the Church, Mr. William S. Whitman who spoke as follows:

Friends: The occasion of a Christian Science lecture affords each one of us a wonderful opportunity to gain an added understanding of Christianity as taught and practiced by the Master—Christ Jesus. To this feast of spiritual good, you are one and all most cordially welcome.

The Apostle James has stated in his epistle "The prayer of faith shall save the sick" also "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man, availeth much." (5:16, 17)

The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, who is also the author of its textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, has made this statement on page one of her textbook "Thoughts unspoken are not unknown to the divine Mind. Desire is prayer." On page fifteen of the same book, we find this statement, "We must close the lips and silence the material senses. In the quiet sanctuary of earnest longings, we must deny sin and plead God's almightiness—Such prayer is answered in so far as we put our desires into practice."

We learn in Christian Science that right desire is Christian prayer; that right prayer is answered, and that answered prayer is the present manifestation of man's God-given dominion, the ideal condition we all so earnestly desire.

Our lecturer this afternoon is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. He has chosen for his subject, "Christian Science—The Revelation of Man's God-given Dominion."

It is my pleasure to introduce Mr. W. Stuart Booth, of Denver, Col. Friends—Mr. Booth.

Although the Bible states in its very first chapter that God made man in His own image and likeness, and gave man dominion over all things, it appears that both the true nature of man and his God-given dominion are sadly lacking in human experience. We find that through human history may be traced the hope, and often the blind endeavor, to obtain the freedom and dominion, which is man's God-bestowed heritage. Practically all of this struggle for freedom and dominion, individually considered, has centered around the human body, since to appearances, therein lies embodied all of human life, strength, and good. This led the Egyptians to labor unceasingly in the building of mausoleums and in perfecting the embalming processes, because, to their sense, immortality depended upon the preservation of their material bodies. Their views and practices may seem extreme and foolish to us, but the amount of attention paid to the human body in what we call this enlightened age, indicates that men have not emerged from the Egyptian darkness to as great an extent, perhaps as they imagine.

Human Progress

To be sure, human endeavor has resulted in marvelous progress along mechanical lines, as witnessed by the telephone, radio, airplane, and other eliminators of time and space. But, while many limitations have been removed through human education, the condition of humanity shows plainly that the root of all bondage and discord has not been eradicated. The axe was laid unto this root two thousand years ago by Christ Jesus, whose work in overcoming sin, sickness and death, in annulling every so-called material law, was so complete that his life is taken as a perfect pattern of Christianity, and he is accepted by all Christians as the Way-shower.

Now Christian Science is restoring primitive Christianity. It is based upon the works as well as the words of Christ Jesus. It shows, indeed, that the works are of even greater importance than the mere words, since the works illustrate the Science of his doctrine. It is obvious, therefore, that in order truly to learn of Christian Science it is necessary that we gain some proper understanding of Jesus' aim and method, that we attain some approach to his viewpoint, which evidently differed radically from that of the worldly-minded.

Christ Jesus' Healings

An account of a healing wrought by our Master, recorded by Matthew, clearly indicates why he spoke as one having authority, and not as the scribes. (Read Matt. 8:5-9) The Centurion was an officer of the Roman government; he obeyed, as well as enforced the decrees of Caesar, and he spoke with authority of his government. Thus when a soldier or servant obeyed the centurion, he was in fact obeying the authority of the Roman government, represented by the centurion. Probably this centurion had observed Christ Jesus, had listened to his discourses, and had been impressed by his demonstrations of God's law. This led him to the conclusion that Christ Jesus was living and thinking in accordance with God's law of life and harmony, and that therefore the Master's word or command was supported and enforced by the authority and power of divine law. Hence the centurion's simple, trustful response to Christ Jesus, "Speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed," which elicited from our dear Master the glad exclamation, "I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel;" to which he added to the centurion, "Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee." And his servant was healed in the "selfsame hour."

This centurion discerned a great truth, namely, that it was God's law and Jesus' obedience thereto, which clothed him with divine authority. Mrs. Eddy makes this clear in Science and Health where she writes: "The Christ was the Spirit which Jesus implied in his own statements: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life.' 'I and my Father are one.' This Christ, or divinity of the man Jesus, was his divine nature, the godliness which animated him. Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man." (26:10)

Paul's Discernment of Christ

Although Paul was not a personal follower of Christ Jesus he so clearly and definitely discerned the Christ, the divine manifestation of God, which Jesus preached and proved, that he wrote to the Christians in Rome: "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." (Rom. 8:2) Thus Paul declared what Christ Jesus had proved, namely, that the everpresence of God's law means present salvation from sin, sickness, discord, and death, to those who understand and obey the divine law of Life and Love.

Now let us return to a further consideration of the healing of the centurion's servant to learn how we may make application of its lessons to our present problems. First, let us see that our servant which needs healing, is, mayhap, our human body. For, according to Christ Jesus and Christian Science, and also according to many modern physicists, the material body is but the expression or servant of thought. Unfortunately this fact is not yet generally recognized and acknowledged, so we see people serving their bodies, and held in chains of fear to false beliefs about their bodies.

Due to the bias of false material theories and education some people may be incredulous and even rebellious at this Christian Science teaching that, since God, Spirit is the only Mind and Cause, it follows that matter, the opposite of Spirit, is not causative nor intelligent. However, with this, as with all its teachings, Christian Science has scriptural authority; for Christ Jesus said, "It is the Spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing." (John 6:63) If the material body were the self-acting and self-governing arbiter of man's life, as is generally believed, Christ Jesus would not have admonished us to take no thought for the body, as is recorded by Matthew (6:25); to which the Master added the injunction that we should seek first the kingdom of God, or the government of God, good, in our thinking.

Medical Experiments

Sometimes since a physician of the so-called regular or allopathic school of medicine told me that he had been forced to the recognition that his medicines had no intrinsic power, but rather were the curative results in his medical practice due to human faith in him or in his medicines. A number of years of successful medical practice, during which he had carried on experiments, had resulted finally in the complete shattering of his ideal of medical practice. The loss of his ideal, and his grief thereat, preyed upon his thought to such an extent that he became ill. Then he turned to Christian Science where he found the Christian and scientific healing means and method of Christ Jesus; and, what was of more importance to him, he coincidentally became truly acquainted with God.

Mrs. Eddy makes many clear statements in Science and Health as to the inability of matter and the infinite ability of God. One found on page 187 will serve our present purpose. We read: "The valves of the heart, opening and closing for the passage of the blood, obey the mandate of mortal mind as directly as does the hand, admittedly moved by the will.—There is no involuntary action. The divine Mind includes all action and volition, and man in Science is governed by this Mind." Even though you may have believed that your heart acts of itself you can readily see to the contrary; for should one become excited, the action of his heart would thereby be accelerated; or in obedience to some other emotion the heart action would be retarded. Now we are not concerned with controlling the heart action or the action of any other part of the human body. But we are vitally concerned with having our thinking controlled by, and thus being in harmony with God, divine Principle. Then, as Christ Jesus promised, these other things, such as health, peace, and supply shall be added unto us. A woman who had been allotted but a short time to live by physicians, because of an extreme heart trouble, turned to God and His law, Christian Science, for help. After several months of study and treatment she appeared no better. Then it was uncovered to her that she had been endeavoring to change or correct her heart action, instead of working to have the Mind which was in Christ Jesus. When she saw that it was not her body which needed correcting, but instead the thought which governed it, she mentally let go of her heart, turned her thought to God, divine Mind, and was quickly and permanently healed.

Christian Science Healing

The many healings of all manner of disease by means of Christian Science or God's law, prove that when the fear of the body and of disease has been eliminated, then the body manifests health; thus showing that it is the thought controlling the body which needs to be healed or corrected; and then the body or servant is likewise healed. In other words, Christian Science shows that sickness is an indication that God's law is not being recognized, acknowledged, and obeyed. Moses stated the fact thousands of years ago, that obedience to God's law not only brings healing, but also protects from all ills. And remember, that when you are serving your material body you cannot be serving God, Spirit; for one who mentally serves material bodies is never free, whereas "to be spiritually minded life and peace," as Paul states (Rom. 8:6)

Right here let me correct a false impression some may have as to the Christian Science teaching about the body. Christian Science does not teach that the human body is evil, but rather to deal with it scientifically and Christianly—that is, as Christ Jesus dealt with it,—by seeing the body as servant, not master, as effect, not cause; and then correcting and controlling the thought which governs the standpoint of God as the only Mind.

Its Application to Business

Another servant which often needs to be healed and harmonized, purified and strengthened, is business. Many are so harassed by the thoughts about their business that they serve their business instead of having their business serve them. This sometimes amounts to idolatry, and engenders fear and worry, envy and greed, injustice and dishonesty, so that men may be in a literal hell of torment, because of servitude to their business. Remember that the sole purpose of your business is to serve, not only you, but others as well. From last point should be emphasized, better any business which is designed to serve one's selfish desires and interests is built upon the sand, and it cannot withstand the storms of adversity which selfishness inevitably brings down upon its own flimsy creations.

Suppose your servant called your business is sick, and you turn to God's law, Christian Science, for healing. Let us see what our law books say on this subject. We will find many problems of protection and providence to those who obey the law of divine Love, perfect Principle. In Joshua (1:7, 8) we read the word of God:—"This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein; or then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success." This is much the same as if you were to tell a student of mathematics that as he obeys the rules of mathematics, as he conforms his thoughts thereto, he will obtain the correct answer to every problem. There is but one answer to every problem, whether it be a problem in mathematics, in business, or as regards health; that is, the right answer. As you conform your thinking to divine Principle, as did Christ Jesus, you will find the correct answer to your every business problem; and your servant or business will be healed.

God's loving control and government is realized as we respond to it. Then the law of Love is seen to be the law of liberty, the law of harmony, freeing us from all discords; the law of spiritual dominion, whereby our God-given birthright is proved.

God-Given Dominion

Christian Science makes it definitely

clear that our God-given dominion is not over other individuals, for that would be personal domination, instead of the dominion of divine Love and law. The dominion which God gives us is over all the things or thoughts in the world of our own consciousness. It is the dominion of right over wrong; the dominion of good over evil; the dominion of Truth over error; of Love over fear and hate; the dominion of true, spiritual ideas over false, material beliefs. Right here should be noted a great point of distinction between Christian Science and all other forms of so-called mental methods of healing. Christian Science is not only mental, but it is primarily spiritual in its operation, influence and effect. Furthermore, Christian Science treatment is not the influence of one so-called human mind over another, but rather is it the activity of divine Mind, God, operating by means of true, loving, harmonizing, spiritual ideas, which true ideas displace the fear and envy, the discord and distress from human consciousness. And lo! the servant of that human consciousness, whether it be a sick body or a sick business, is healed.

The dominion over one's own thinking, which Christian Science enables us to realize and prove, bestows boundless blessings, not only in its healing and harmonizing effects, but even more in the assurance of God's everpresence, and in unshaken confidence in divine Love's willingness and ability to care for us here, now, and always. At the Wednesday testimony of spiritual healing in Christian Science churches it is frequently noted that, after telling of remarkable cases of healing of sickness and sin, discord and depravity, the testifiers will state with convincing earnestness that they are even more grateful for the light of spiritual understanding they have gained, and for a sure, intimate acquaintance with our loving Father-Mother God.

Dominion Over Sin

Quite naturally this leads us to see how Christian Science enables us to demonstrate man's God-given dominion over sin and over all wrong, discordant, and enslaving habits of thought, speech and action. For Christian Science is the Science of right thinking which was proved perfectly and completely by our Exemplar, Christ Jesus, in his annulling of every argument of sin, sickness, and death.

It mattered not to Christ Jesus that Mary Magdalene had been bound by and had expressed seven devils or evil spirits, as is recorded by Luke. Her unfeigned display of contrition for wrong doing and of affection for the good lived by Christ Jesus warranted his compassionate words, "Thy sins are forgiven." (Luke 7:37-48) The transformation of her thought and life was so complete that she became spiritually fitted to be the first one to see Jesus after his resurrection. The experience of the Magdalene, regarded in the light of Christian Science, is most helpful and encouraging to every aspirant for release and redemption, because Christian Science reveals the everpresence of the living, loving Christ,—the divine idea of God,—whereby the negative nature and the existence of sin are discerned and demonstrated now, as they were in the first century of the Christian era.

Christ Jesus the Way-Shower

Referring to Christ Jesus' work, Mrs. Eddy writes in Science and Health (31:32), "Explaining and demonstrating the way of divine Science, he became the way of salvation to all who accepted his word. From him mortals may learn how to escape from evil. The real man being linked by Science to his Maker, mortals need only turn from sin and lose sight of mortal selfhood to find Christ, the real man and his relation to God, and to recognize the divine sonship. Christ, Truth, was demonstrated through Jesus to prove the power of Spirit over the flesh,—to show that Truth is made manifest by its effects upon the human mind and body, healing sickness and destroying sin." That statement, "From him mortals may learn how to escape from evil," evidently means that we are to consider the suggestions of evil as did Christ Jesus and combat them as he did. Then we too will be able to prove our God-given dominion over evil. As we study the Bible we find that at no time did Christ Jesus refer to evil as a God sent or God permitted power or verity. Nor did he ignore the arguments of evil. Christ Jesus based all his thinking upon the spiritual fact that God, good, is the Father and Mother of all; the Creator and controller of all that is real and true; that divine Love is the only law-creating and law governing power and Principle of the universe. Inevitably this led to his designation of the devil or evil as a liar and the father of lies, not of anything true and powerful. (John 8:44)

Mary Magdalene's Healing

Now it is plain that a lie has no power of influence, although if one were to believe a lie to be true that belief might seem to bind him. Mary Magdalene evidently had believed some such lies as that there is pleasure, profit and satisfaction in wrong doing. Perhaps she had been told from childhood that she was selfish, headstrong, and had a terrible temper.

This was much the same as if certain tags or labels had been attached to her, which it seemed, belonged to her and were a part of her. One was labeled "selfishness," another "human will," another "envy," another "passion," and so on. But, although the Magdalene and others believed that these tags or signs of evil were a part of her, Christ Jesus knew better than that. He saw sin, not as persons, but as wrong thought using those who believed the false claims of evil. The Magdalene's true repentance and her desire for good furnished such a response to Christ Jesus' knowing the truth about her as God's child or expression, that these tags or signs of evil were separated from her, and she was freed.

The evil spirits which the Bible states were cast out of Mary Magdalene and others by Christ Jesus, refer to nothing more than beliefs in evil. The Greek term "evil spirit" literally means "impure mental disposition." And Christ Jesus cast out such evils by his definite and divinely inspired denial of them. His thought and attitude were continuously compassionate, because, while he denounced the sin, in his own thought he always appeared the sinner. As the student who was handled by it. Hence his compassionate, healing word, "God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved." (John 3:17)

Heredity Considered

Perhaps some of us have been marked from childhood as being dishonest or deceitful or as having a bad disposition. It may be that we have accepted that tag as a part of us, and have excused ourselves on the ground that some of our forefathers carried a similar label. An old couplet reads, "The doctrine of heredity makes pleasant contemplation; it lets us blame our faults upon some other generation."

Now let us suppose that one who had been marked as being selfish, cynical, cross, and critical of others should take up the study of Christian Science and apply its teachings. Very soon he will learn that he lives in the realm of thought, not in matter; and that all that is true in the realm of thought is that which speaks of or manifests God, divine Truth and Love. This leads the seeker after Truth to see that every thought or suggestion of evil, such as selfishness or criticism, is not a part of God's true creation, and therefore is without divine authority and authority. As the student thus conforms his mental attitude and activity to that of Christ Jesus, even in a degree, he will find that the selfishness, cynicism, and criticism or fault-finding are replaced by such qualities of divine Love as compassion, mercy, unselfishness, and gratitude. This may not be accomplished without a struggle perhaps, but wrong habits of thought, speech, and action can be corrected by Truth and Love or divine Mind, just as surely as darkness yields to the light.

So, friends, if you have been labeled with any tags indicating that you are something other than the child or expression of God, divine Mind and Love, you can, through Christian Science, rise in righteous rebellion against that belief in evil. For Christian Science shows how you can claim your birthright of dominion, and how you can live up to that claim by controlling your thinking aright.

Rules for Right Thinking

The Christian Science rule for Christianly scientific right thinking is as simple and loving as it is exact and unvarying. We are to remember, as did Christ Jesus, that we are not original, independent thinkers, because every true thought or idea, being eternal, originates in, and proceeds from the eternal divine Mind or God. We simply apprehend and reflect, or actively express, the true ideas of intelligence, alertness, stability, harmony, happiness, unselfishness, purity, patience, and love, which speak to us, and through us to others, of our loving Father Mind and Mother Love. Coincidentally and consistently we find, as did Christ Jesus, that every thought or suggestion, which claims that evil, disease, discord, and death are real and have power—such thoughts or suggestions are to be classified by us as untrue and powerless, because they are not from God, even as Christ Jesus stated and proved. Just as you have no room in your consciousness for a thought that $5 \times 5 = 19$, because $5 \times 5 = 25$ is fixed as true with you, so you will find, as you consistently apply and obey the Christian Science law for right thinking, that true ideas, thoughts of harmony, peace, purity and confidence in good, will become so fixed and dominant in your consciousness that evil and discordant beliefs will be readily recognized as errors, and will be resolutely renounced and rejected.

Prayer

You will find as you obey this simple, but divinely directed rule or law of right thinking, that you are communing with God, that you are indeed walking with God, divine Mind, for you are in truth companionship with God's ideas. And that is prayer; the prayer to which Paul referred when he admonished us to "pray without ceasing." (1 Thes. 5:17) Through Christian Science the old educated belief in a man-like God, from which sprang the concept of prayer as advice to God and supplication that the divine plan be changed to suit us,—this is supplanted by the concept of God as unchanging good, infinite Love; which corrected concept leads us to see that the purpose of prayer is to change us, so that our thinking may conform to the Mind which was in Christ Jesus.

Even though you may have had no previous knowledge of Christian Science you will find that, as a result of studying its textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", and obeying its divinely inspired rules for right thinking and living, you will be able to realize and prove, in an encouraging degree at least, that you are now the very child of God, whose birthright is dominion, not subjection. As a poet has so well written:

"What is thy birthright, man, Child of the perfect One! What is thy Father's plan For His beloved son?"

"Thou art Truth's honest child, Sinless and pure of heart, Treading meek, undefiled In Christly paths apart."

"Dreams of sense disappear As Truth dawns on the sight The phantoms of thy fear, Fleeing before the light."

"Take then the charmed rod; Thou art not error's thrall! Thou hast the gift from God— Dominion over all."

THE WASHINGTON STREET RESURFACING

It is welcome news that the State will aid in the resurfacing of Washington street from Newton Corner to West Newton. It is also welcome news to learn that there will be a forty-foot concrete strip in the center of the street. We have long advocated the laying of concrete on the major highways of this city. There is other news that is not so welcome. We refer to the possibility that only half of the work will be done this year. While it is often said that "half a loaf is better than none" it would seem that the automobile drivers who use any part of Washington street between the points in question have suffered (in silence?) long enough. The State will pay for about 35 per cent of the concrete work, while the city will pay the remainder. Half of the amount to be spent by the city will approximate $80,000. This sum represents a little less than fifty cents per thousand on the tax rate. To the average taxpayer it means less than four dollars total expense. Many motorists have undoubtedly spent considerably more than this sum for damages to springs, for tightening of loosened bolts, or for the elimination of rattles caused by the present condition of the street. If half of the street is not resurfaced this year, conditions which are extremely bad now will rapidly become intolerable and motorists will have to dig down into their pockets for further repairs to their cars. The city is in far better financial shape than most any other city in the State and as we have pointed out in these columns recently, a slight increase in the tax rate would not be objectionable provided the tax-payer received his money's worth. We do not see the necessity for putting off half of this work for another year in order to keep the tax rate at its present level. The people of Newton will have to pay for the work next year. Why put off until tomorrow what should be done today?

ANALYZES TRACK REMOVAL QUESTION

high speed interurban transportation at very low cost with light cars. All poles and wires are eliminated and the charging of the batteries takes but a few minutes at each terminus of the line. The cars take stiff grades very easily and operate at 60 miles per hour.

B. The Public Service Corporation of New Jersey is experimenting with a Diesel engine using very cheap crude oil. These studies I have been watching very closely, as the President of this Corporation is a next door neighbor of mine, here in Florida. If these experiments are successful, this will greatly reduce the cost of operating both street cars and buses.

C. Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, are being linked by a monorail line designed to cover the distance of 50 miles (the same distance as between Boston and Worcester) in 20 minutes, or in one-half hour including stops.

D. For some years I have been working on an "automatic street car" which requires no motorman. With the last few weeks I have been granted Letter Patents both in the United States and Great Britain for this system.

3. The public apparently desires to have the tracks removed altogether and have the Department of Public Works pay the Street Railway Company what the Street Railway Company has expended for land damages, highway construction and other work from which the State will now benefit. Of course, the State should not reimburse the Street Railway Company for money spent in laying rails, stringing wires, building power houses and buying cars. If, however, the State is to save nearly a $1,000,000 today on account of land damages, street widening, and highway construction, which cost the Street Railway Company about $400,000 thirty years ago, the public feels that it is only reasonable for the Department of Public Works now to reimburse the Street Railway Company said $430,000 if the tracks can be removed altogether immediately and the necessity of a long drawn out legal battle avoided. Let me add that if the case gets to the courts, it will not simply be a case of the Boston & Worcester vs. the Department of Public Works, but the Boston & Worcester will be joined by all the public utilities (street railway, electric power, gas and water). An entirely new question, which has as yet never been before the Supreme Court, will be at stake and the decision will vitally affect the securities of all Massachusetts utilities.

Conclusion: It goes without saying that the interests of the people of Massachusetts should come first in determining which of the three above mentioned policies should be followed. In considering the interests of the people, however, the question is much broader than its mere application to the Boston & Worcester Street Railway. All holders of Massachusetts public utility securities are vitally interested that the Department of Public Works acts fairly in this matter and, whichever of the above three policies is finally to be followed, shall pay a fair sum to the Street Railway Company, which sum should not be less than $400,000. Only by such a method will investors be encouraged to put more money into public utilities in Massachusetts. In this connection, let me drop one final thought; namely, although automobile travel is a great step in advance over old fashioned street railway travel, and, for short distances, over steam railroad travel, yet it is a great mistake to think that the automobile is the final means of interurban transportation. Our grandchildren may look back upon the automobile and present motor coach as we look back upon the farm wagon and horse car.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) ROGER W. BABSON.

SEEKS ELECTION AS REPUBLICAN DELEGATE

Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler will seek election as a delegate to the Republican National Convention, it became known this week. He will go staunchly pledged to the support of President Hoover, whom he declares to be the greatest President since "Teddy" Roosevelt. Mr. Luitwieler says that he has never been a delegate to a national convention before, but doesn't desire to miss the opportunity to carry to Chicago this year the support and approbation of Massachusetts in general and this district in particular for the man who has already served well in the White House for one term and deserves to be returned there for another four years to carry on his constructive work in behalf of the people of the United States.

By L. D. G. Bentley

When next month gets here Tuesday don't think of it as March and stamp your feet, but call it Spring and do a tap dance.

Some Do and Some Don't

It was after the public hearing at the State House on the bill to make legal the betting on horse racing in Massachusetts. For a full day the committee had heard speakers on both sides. Much argument was offered but the effect on the committee members could not be definitely determined.

In the corridor, after the hearing room had been cleared, two men remained to discuss the proposed legislation. One was all for it and the other was very much against it. Apparently they had not had their fill of talk that day. Possibly they were so firm in their convictions that they felt it necessary to continue the argument. At any rate these men became excited as they shot challenges back and forth.

The man who opposed betting was condemning wagers of all kinds. He was certain that the committee would not report the bill favorably.

"I think they will—in fact, I'm almost sure of it," said the other.

"Well, I'll bet you $5 they won't," said the anti-bettor.

"I won't take you because I don't bet," said the man who favored race-track gambling. Neither appeared to appreciate his inconsistency but the crowd in the corridor did and there was a big laugh.

More "Cold" Facts

The cold weather is acting as an intellectual stimulant. It is making me take notice of things that, when the temperature was reasonably high for Winter, I quite overlooked. Of course there will have to be a few mild days shortly or I shall have become too brilliant for the few rambles of my friends. Not but what they are a learned and studious group, but they insist that we all stick together in the matter of advanced knowledge. The idea is that while we seek to possess all the valuable information available we do not neglect the common knowledge of the other. Nothing is more terrifying than the individual who knows more than anybody else in the room and who insists on demonstrating that fact. Therefore, my friends and I have resolved that if there is one of the gathering who knows more or thinks he knows more than the others, he must keep it to himself unless invited to speak.

As I do not expect to have a chance to air orally my latest tidbit of learning I must take advantage of this column to tell something I tumbled upon recently. You remember we discussed the formation of frost on window panes and how beautiful or fantastic, according to the observer's state of mind, these things appeared. Well, since then I have penetrated further the mysteries of wintry blasts and am possessed of a few rambles about "ice flowers". These are the symmetrical formations which occur in the midst of ice under certain conditions and their appearance is readily likened to that of flowers. They were first observed, according to scientific records, by John Tyndall, the English physicist. Yes, that is what it is spelled and if you don't believe me I suggest that you confirm it for yourself.

It is stated that the cause of "ice flowers" is not accurately determined, which doesn't distress me much as you might think I am a tad too know-it-all, but while they have the same restrictions as snow crystals to an hexagonal frame, they are not considered necessarily to be closely related. Furthermore, there is a formation known as "ice flowers" which sometimes is erroneously called "ice flower". All this is something you couldn't know if you didn't live in a climate where all sorts of weather is to be expected. Just put on your snow-shoes and go out some pleasant day and look into this matter. I am certain you will learn far more than I can tell you and to set before you and if you fail you will at least have had a nice, healthful and invigorating experience for which you can thank me. Oh, don't mention it.

Dodging the Ditches

Has anybody counted the bumps between Newton and West Newton by way of the road and out of Washington street? Now don't put this down as a whine about conditions. I know that the State is responsible, for if it hadn't decided to put the water system in last Summer everything would be different. But we're going to have a new road this year so that's all right. I started off about bumps and wanted to know if there was anybody keeping track of them. Not being an automobile owner I have to ask such questions in order to find out those things. Maybe I'll get an answer.

Mean while, let me give you a tip. A friend of mine was running up from Nonantum square to Lower Falls in his car and I was getting the full benefit of the "pot holes" as they call them in England. Suddenly he switched off at Crafts street. I looked at him inquiringly.

"I've made a discovery," said he. "I find by going through Crafts street and striking Watertown street and then swinging left I can get to West Newton square without all this hump-bump business and make it in practically the same distance."

Well, here's a tip for you through travelers. It also shows you can always learn something new about the old home town.

The Boss is Always Right

The big boss in any office does things at times which are just as odd and stupid as the errors of the humblest employe. Nobody dares laugh at the boss, if it is a laughing matter, and the office mistakes usually are. But let anybody else go wrong and the whole force has a grand time joking about it. It might be good for bosses if they could hear themselves laughed at. However, that's something else again.

Under The Gilded Dome

Although the holiday this week deprived the General Court of one working day a great deal has been accomplished and the session is speeding along. In fact, the number of important hearings for the last week in February is fewer than in previous years while the committees have been filing reports in unusually large numbers.

The Senate has disposed of a batch of measures which have attracted more than the usual amount of public attention. It has rejected an order requesting the directors of the Boston Elevated to suspend dividends on common stock for a period of two years, a bill for the investigation by a special commission of the activities of the State Commission on Administration and Finance and a bill, sent over from the House, to increase the penalty for the illegal possession of firearms.

If the attitude of the House Tuesday on the bill to prevent employees under civil service from appealing from salary reductions is any criterion the proposal of the Governor and others to reduce the pay of State employees is unlikely to pass. The House killed the bill in question by a voice vote, indicating that a majority of its members is against any cutting down of State, city or county salaries.

Legislation urged by the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts to give the government of a city or town authority to pass upon the expenditures of a school committee has been rejected by both branches. Proponents of the bill declared that school committees were spending too much money. Opponents contended that the school committees were not wasting money and that the bill was intended to put the schools in politics.

Secretary of State Cook has issued a political calendar relating to the Presidential primaries. The nomination for delegates at large are made by nomination papers signed by at least 1000 voters, not more than 250 to be from any one county. Such voters must be either enrolled in the party for which the nomination is made or enrolled in any other party. The number of signatures required on nomination papers for Congressional districts is as follows: 1st, 250; 2d, 175; 3d, 250; 4th, 155; 5th, 240; 6th, 250; 7th, 160; 8th, 145; 9th, 135; 10th, 45; 11th, 50; 12th, 45; 13th, 135; 14th, 245, and 15th, 250.

Registrars of voters or Election Commissioners are required to hold meetings for certifying names on primary nomination papers of the four Fridays preceding March 22. Other dates are as follows: March 18, 5 p. m., last day and hour for filing primary nomination papers for certification of names with Election Commissioners or Registrars of Voters; March 22, 5 p. m., last day and hour for filing primary nomination papers with the Secretary of State; March 25, 5 p. m., last day and hour for filing with draws of, or objection to nominations with the Secretary of State; March 29, 5 p. m., last day and hour for filing vacancies caused by withdrawal. April 26, Presidential primaries.

The customary reception on Washington's Birthday possessed unusual interest for the city as it marked the beginning of the State's observance of the George Washington bicentennial. Furthermore it was Gov. Ely's 51st birthday. The Governor and Mrs. Ely shook hands with 6276 persons. Last year the number was 7,358. Among those who attended last Monday was Francis Prescott, former mayor of this city and now of Grafton, who was present in his official capacity of vice-chairman of the Massachusetts George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

No amendments to the automobile compulsory insurance law are expected this session. Both branches have accepted 17 adverse reports of the committee on Insurance on bills to change the existing law. These proposals included many things suggested at the special session last year and at the regular sessions for several years past. The committee reported against several things including flat rate, State fund and financial responsibility. Acceptance of these adverse committee reports means that the subject is disposed of unless the Governor should see fit to revive any of them. He may do so by sending in a special message on one or more subjects. There is nothing, however, to indicate that he has any such plan in mind.

The Legislature has rejected various measures providing for the installation of a system of lighting on State highways in different parts of the State, and has rejected a bill by the spokesmen for the Ways and Means Committee that the State has installed such lighting on a stretch of roadway bordering the Lynn marshes and until this experiment has been fully tried no further appropriations will be made.

The Committee on Education last Tuesday heard Dr. Guy M. Winslow, president of Lasell Seminary, urged favorable action on the petition to change the name of the institution to Lasell Junior College. The committee was informed that the proposed title is more fitting in view of the fact that courses of study at Lasell cover the first two years of college. Senator Hollis and the State Department of Education were recorded in favor.

Here was a boss who had a habit of tucking newspaper clippings, circulars, timetables and this and that in a pigeon-hole in his old-fashioned roll-top desk. On this particular day he thought he would clean out the pigeon-hole. He did so and sat studying an accumulation of things for some time. He sorted it out and found at his right hand had a large collection of printed and typewritten sheets.

Turning to his secretary, the boss turned to her with, "Miss Blank, have you any idea why this stuff has been allowed to gather in my desk?"

"No, sir, I don't know why you saved them," came the young woman's reply.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Billions in loans for big bankers from the Federal Government, but not one cent for dole to the millions of poor people who are in dire distress. Will Rogers was right when he knocked the discriminating benevolence of our national law-makers.

To the Stanley Cup play-off in the hockey league, the selection of so-called "All America" football teams and other such stuff, add the "best dog in show" awards. Just how any dog experts can compare a cocker spaniel with an English bulldog, an Airedale or any of the other 57 varieties of canines exhibited in dog shows, is something beyond the understanding of the ordinary person who takes even more than a passing interest in dogs.

If the Chinese (or should we say Sinoese) had half as many airplanes as the Japs, the cocky little brown men would be badly out of luck.

It was the irony of fate that the "Akron," that expensive toy constructed at an expense of $6,000,000 or so, should have proved how completely unreliable it is, in front of a committee of Congressmen who were to be given a demonstration of the practicality of this big gas-bag. Meanwhile Congress is endeavoring to devise ways and means to raise more taxes—and economize.

For some months the buses of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway have been giving the impression that machine-guns are in operation in this city. Whatever was done, or happened to the motor exhausts of these buses, they certainly made a racket.

REPORT ON SCHOOL ADDITION

Junior High School will be needed, requiring sixteen home rooms plus shops and science rooms. Meanwhile, the Underwood School is about crowded so that pupils of the 5th grade may have to be temporarily housed in the Bigelow Building. This may save building another primary school in the district in the near future.

- A. Repairs to the present building, badly needed, have already been too long deferred.
- (1) Heating system: the present boiler will have to be replaced within two years. The present ventilating system is out of date.
- (2) A new telephone system throughout the building is needed. The old system is worn out.
- (3) Toilets must be renewed, and the toilet rooms must be properly ventilated and lighted.
- (4) The entire basement must be painted at once.
- (5) Office facilities must be enlarged and improved.

IV. Residents and taxpayers of the village of Newton are entitled to a Junior High School for the following additional reason:

- A. For nine long years this project has been given consideration, has been recognized by Joint Committees, and has constantly been deferred. It is now time that this promise be fulfilled.
- B. The work has been partly done, and it is much appreciated, by the addition of the gymnasium. It was the understanding of many people that the rest of the work now requested would be done this year.
- C. It is wise to do this work during this period of unemployment while building costs are low, just as the City Hall is now under construction.
- D. This project will not add materially, if at all, to this year's tax burden.
- E. The patience of the residents of the village of Newton, many of whom are vitally interested in this project, is well-nigh exhausted, as is evidenced by a petition which has been sent to the School Committee and forwarded to the Mayor, which was signed by upwards of 900 residents.

Conclusion: In view of the foregoing facts, the School Committee has recommended that this work be done forthwith. It is hoped that the Joint Committee may tonight recommend immediate and favorable action on this project.

"I saved them!" the boss ejaculated with scorn. "Not me, I don't do such foolish things. Here, throw them in the waste basket."

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club met jointly with the Needham Club on Tuesday of this week at the Unitarian Church in Needham. The Boston University varsity debating team debated the question of Unemployment Insurance. The arguments of both sides proved interesting and there was little to choose between the affirmative and negative sides. The two judges disagreeing Prof. Browning, who was in charge of the team, cast the deciding vote in favor of the negative side, stating that the strong rebuttal of the affirmative side might have given that team the victory in an inter-collegiate contest.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will give the next to the last in a course of ten lectures on Current Events, on Friday, March 4th, at 10:30 a. m., in the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton. These lectures are sponsored each year by the Community Service Club of West Newton, and are open to the public at 50 cents for single tickets. The Sino-Japanese situation and the Disarmament Conference as well as affairs in our own country, have made Mrs. Gilson's lectures of very special interest this year. Mrs. Gilson presents these subjects in a clear, enlightening way, which is informative and stimulating to Club members and to others who attend.

POTTERY EXHIBIT AND LECTURE. Clubs who are interested in the unique and beautiful collection of pottery gathered by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be glad to know that this is available during February and March in Massachusetts. Reservations can be made through the State Art chairman, Mrs. Roy C. Baker, 248 Chestnut street, Clinton. The fee is $5.00 and expressage from the last place where exhibited. The lecture, which is to be read by some talented Club member, is entitled "The Potter's Wheel," and it gives informative background, and interesting description that is most valuable and entertaining.

Mrs. Baker also announces that Massachusetts the General Federation's lecture and slides on Landscape Painting, which will be available until June. This also is a most delightful presentation, with lecture written by Mrs. Alex Adams, of Texas, and 55 slides illustrating the progress of landscape painting in the United States. The fee to a Club for this is $2.50, and expressage from the last place.

BIENNIAL OF GENERAL FEDERATION. Growing advance accounts come from Mrs. Charles G. Miller, of Seattle, State president of the Washington Federation of Women's Clubs, of the hospitality being planned for Bay State women, during the Biennial of the General Federation, June 9th to 18th, in that city. Tree-plantings, visits to world-famous rock gardens, and the best music the west coast affords, are among the attractions listed.

Play Day, when convention cares are set aside, promises to be unique. There will be a boat trip around Lake Washington and Puget Sound, with luncheon on board, and a stop at Bremerton Navy Yard where the Sunshine Society will serve tea, aboard the "U. S. S. Lexington." The day will close with the singing of a complimentary motion picture selected by Thomas G. Winter, of Hollywood, former national president.

The trip west on the "Poole Special," named in honor of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, presidential candidate, will be a series of adventures. Send-offs are planned all along the way, and fresh recruits arriving from New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Wisconsin, North Dakota, and other states will tend to the party. Upon arrival in Chicago, a reception will be held, and the celebration at the Chicago Women's Club.

Social festivities at Seattle will include a Massachusetts dinner, a New England regional dinner, and an all-candidates' tea. Special interest attaches to the convention program, in charge of Mrs. La Fell Dickinson, of Keene, N. H.

In connection with Mrs. Poole's campaign, enthusiastic delegates and others interested will hold a campaign meeting, on Saturday, February 27th, at 10 a. m., at the Boston Y. W. C. A. A special feature will be the showing by Arthur H. Pratt of pictures of Jasper National Park, Alaska, and the Canadian Rockies. Club members are invited.

NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE. Clubwomen who always welcome news of the holding of the New England Conference, since it gives opportunity to journey in delightful fall weather to some beautiful vacation spot of New England, will be glad to learn—told by mark with red letters the dates—that New Hampshire is busy with plans for entertaining the Annual Fall Meeting of the New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs, October 18th, 19th, and 20th, at Mountain View House, Whitefield, Massachusetts, always well represented at these gatherings, will be doubly interested this year since Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, presidential candidate, of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and honor guest, will make one of her first official appearances there. Mrs. Edwin H. Whitney, of Rhode Island, chairman, is arranging a program of appeal for all Clubwomen.

PRESIDENTS' CLUB PLAY. Clubwomen will be interested in the announcement of the Annual Play to be given by the Presidents' Club, an event that is always pleasantly anticipated. "The Dover Road," a comedy in three acts, by A. A. Milne, is the drama chosen to be presented March 2nd, in John Hancock Hall, Boston. The play will be given by the West Roxbury Woman's Club, under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Atwood, president; Mrs. W. O. B. Little, chairman; and Mrs. G. Gordon Watt, director. The Club Chorus of 35 voices will give a program between the acts. Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett of West Medford.

Auburndale Woman's Club

An Earthquake Bridge, the last in the series of events planned by the Activities committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, was held in the Auburndale Club House last Wednesday afternoon. The seismic disturbance started when, after the bid of the first hand was completed, the declarers and their partners were told to play with their opponents' cards. Another tremor was felt when the declarers tried to bid with lollypops in their mouths. Before long, half of the players had donned huge spectacles, through which they viewed the next round of hands. Perhaps the shock which caused the room to shake most violently, but it was with nothing more serious than laughter, when the losers played their hands, wearing cotton work gloves.

The aim of this Activities committee has been to promote sociability, and this affair brought their year's work to a fitting climax. At the close of the playing, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Norman Cate. Assisting Mrs. Wells in her plans for the day were Mrs. Donald Williams, Mrs. James Dunlop, and the president, Mrs. Walter Van Pelt Steiger. Among the hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mrs. Thomas Ferguson, Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. John F. Holmes, Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson, Miss Harriet Norton, Mrs. Lowell MacNutt, Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Sylvanus Smith, Mrs. Henry Wentworth, and Mrs. Charles Valentine.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes was in charge of the Drama Reading Class in the Club Workshop on February 19th, at 2 o'clock. George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" was read by the following members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club: Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes, Mrs. Joseph E. Peckham, Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, Mrs. Preble W. Blake, Mrs. Edgar Smith, Mrs. Henry R. Lamphere, Mrs. Malcolm Green, Mrs. Alice G. P. Smith, Mrs. E. Valentine Wetmore, Mrs. Edward H. Ruby, Mrs. Perry Wood, Mrs. Frederick J. Elliott, Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, Mrs. James Kingman, and Mrs. Dana S. Sylvester.

"Apple Cart" is a story of the English Cabinet trying to make a puppet of the King, and just as the King is to give his final decision to the Cabinet's ultimatum the Ambassador from the United States calls with the information that his country has decided to form a large Empire, with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. The audience is left wondering how this decision is received by the English people.

After the delightful Reading, tea was served.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The program for the meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton on Wednesday afternoon, February 17th, opened with the second appearance this year of the Club Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury who gave a group of four songs: "Where Ever You Walk" by Handel; "The Galway Piper," an Irish Folk Song; "The Little Dustman," by Brahms; and "The Sleigh," a Russian Melody.

As speaker for the afternoon, the Club welcomed Isabel Wentworth Lawrence with "Adventures in Journalism," who, in a pleasing manner, was able to make her subject appealing, and gave delightful experiences in interviewing, saying that although she enjoys all kinds—the actor, the musician, the statesman—she gets the most pleasure from book reviewing, for that is one place where one never knows what one is going to find; for beyond the reading of the book, the reviewer may, or may not, be discovering one who will become "a best seller." Illustrating this, she traced her knowledge of A. A. Milne from the time she found his thin book, "If I May," on the Transcript shelves, down to his "Two People" of this year, following his career and giving her experience in interviewing him.

She considers Christopher Morley her most sympathetic subject. Him, she finally interviewed in New York. Dennis MacKall furnished her with food for much thought, in that he has assumed a pose. He says he's shy and dull like those characters in his books that are shy and dull, but she finally learned that he is happy and enjoys life, and the shy and dull characters are his opposites.

The Gibbs family, Sir Philip, especially, and his cousin Mary Hamilton Gibbs, with their wealth of experience and writing, gave her much pleasure in their interviews; their lives, their outlooks, and attitudes towards their work.

Miss Lawrence also gave an interesting list of present day books, some published in the fall, and some to appear this next month.

A delightful tea, under the direction of Mrs. L. H. Tappan and her committee, was served during the social hour following the program.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Colonial Tea and Art Exhibit held at the Clubhouse by the Newton Centre Woman's Club on the afternoon of February 22nd, proved a very successful affair. Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, chairman, and other members of the Art committee, as hostesses, provided a very effective setting in their period costumes. A delightful interlude was furnished by the short play "When Martha and George Return."

This play was given twice during the afternoon and afforded much amusement and pleasure to those who saw it. "Martha and George," in beautiful costumes, stepped out of a portrait appropriately framed, into this modern world of, to them, bewildering appliances, such as the telephone, radio, electric light, and other devices. Those taking part in this sketch were: Mr. Charles Bailey, Mrs. Eckels, Miss Harris and Mr. Robert Foote. Tea with old-fashioned tarts was served at an attractively-decorated table.

Upstairs in the Art Gallery the very interesting exhibit of paintings by Mr. Leroy Woodward was enjoyed by many visitors. Mr. Woodward paints in a vigorous and effective style, and his views of Mount Washington were particularly interesting.

A most informative lecture was sponsored by the International committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of which Miss M. Louise Walworth is chairman, at the second meeting of this committee on Thursday, February 18th, when Prof. Clifford Hubbard, of the History Department of Wheaton College, spoke on "Britain's Foreign Policy."

Auburndale Woman's Club

A program commemorative of George Washington, was carried out by the Auburndale Woman's Club at its meeting last Tuesday. During the business hour the Clubs' officers, in charming Colonial gowns, many of which were heirlooms, made a colorful picture as they sat on the platform, with an immense flag as background. Mrs. Robert Parmenter, the State chairman of Conservation, was introduced to the Club by Mrs. Charles Dyer, the Club's chairman of that activity. Mrs. Parmenter urged that club women pay homage to the nation's first President and at the same time to Nature by planting a tree at this time. It is expected, that the Club will erect a tree on the grounds of the Plummer Memorial Library.

At the close of the business session the chairman of the day, Mrs. Charles B. Floyd, introduced as speaker of the afternoon, Rabbi Harry Levi who took for his subject "Education for Democratic Life." Rabbi Levi, while he recognized the economic value of education, claimed that education should individualize, liberalize, moralize, democratize and internationalize all who had its advantages. His private opinion was that so far education had not effected this.

Following the program of the afternoon, tea was served by a group of Clubwomen in charge of Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. Ray Smith. At either end of our attractively-decorated tea table, Mrs. J. Franklin Rider and Miss Anne Bunker, both in Colonial gowns, poured. Others in old-fashioned costumes were Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, Mrs. Edward Gray, Mrs. Elbridge Minard, Mrs. William Tenney, Mrs. Oscar Reed, Mrs. Strabo Claggett, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Ray Smith, Mrs. Arthur Hine, Miss Harriet Norton, Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, Mrs. Burt Hartwell, Mrs. Stephen Wright, and Mrs. Percy Smith.

Dr. Griggs At Best In Read Fund Lecture

Dr. Edward Howard Griggs was at his best last Friday evening when he opened his course of five lectures on "The Divine Comedy of Dante" at the Underwood School. The crowded house which greeted him was a convincing testimonial to the popularity he has earned as a lecturer for the Read Fund during the several years of his appearance. Dr. Griggs confined himself for the most part to laying the groundwork for appreciation of the great poet and his work. He told how the Church at this time was divided between two warring parties, one supporting the Pope and the other, of which Dante was a member, opposing him because it did not approve of character and method of church management. He told how, as a result of this strife, Dante was an exile from his beautiful native city of Florence, which he always describes with such feeling. The speaker said that "The Divine Comedy" is a description of the world as Dante saw it. The remaining four lectures will be given on this and the following Friday evenings.

Many prominent citizens of the of Fradalnor Craftsmen, to be held on Friday evening, March 4th, at Temple Hall (Masonic Building) Newtonville.

A large attendance is expected judg-

the dance bids fair to be very popular among both young and old folks.
Boobs and his Nighthawks will provide the very latest dance compositions and will also include some of the old time dance music for the older guests.

OPEN FIVE STORES HERE

The Newtons are to have five of the fifty beautiful dry cleaning stores being opened in the Greater Boston area by the Spic and Span corporation as the first unit in a total of 150 stores being planned.

Spic and Span is an international organization controlled by some of the oldest members of the dry cleaning industry. This organization has had creative and inventive minds at work for the past seven years perfecting Old English formulas, that those exquisite results of the old masters may be procured at the lowest price such service has ever been offered. Several processes are exclusive with Spic and Span.

Every community will have one of these beautiful artistic completely equipped dry cleaning stores. The managers in each of these stores is working on a profit-sharing basis, therefore bringing a new relationship between the employee and the company and the public.

Exquisite dressing rooms in every shop, that men and women may keep their wardrobe in the shop, thus changing to fresh beautifully cleaned garments even more easily than at home, without the bother of thinking of sending their garments out, or waiting for their return. They are always ready. Spic and Span shops will be next door to your home.

Stores have already been opened at West Newton, Newton Centre, Newtonville and Waltham and present the "Spic and Span" Appearance which the name implies. In this first unit there are around 200 people being put to work, and it is expected that three times that number will be employed by the concern within the next three years.

Rev. Dabney To Speak At Next Union Service

The Newton corner churches are exceedingly fortunate in procuring a speaker for the Union Lenten Service next Sunday evening Dr. Vaughan Dabney newly elected Dean of the Newton-Andover Theological School.
Dr. Dabney has come to his new office direct from the pastorate of the Second Congregational Church in Dorchester where for eleven years he was an outstanding preacher in Greater Boston. The Second Church is one of the twenty-five largest Congregational Churches in America and for many years was the holder of the banner for having the largest church school in New England. Dr. Dabney was recognized outside of his own church as is shown by his election to the Presidency of the Mass. Federation of Churches.

The service will be held at the Methodist Church Sunday evening at 7:30. The large audiences at the first two services warrants the belief that many will be present to hear this new leader.

Next Sunday evening the service will be in Channing Church and America's most famous living poet, Edwin Markham will deliver the address.

Kiwanis Club

Serving a Washington luncheon and listening to a Washington address, the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, at noon, celebrated the 200th anniversary of the birth of the nation's father, Edwin O. Childs, former mayor, was the speaker. The luncheon tables, presided over by Charles Mahoney, President, were decorated with American flags. Virginia ham and Washington pie, among other dishes, were served, and during the song-session, led by Edward N. Griffin, a special Washington song was sung.

Mr. Childs was introduced by Thomas L. Aiken, as a "man who chopped out" 16 years as Mayor of the city even though he may never have "chopped down a cherry tree." In replying to the introduction, the speaker admitted that he had never swung the axe on a cherry tree, but did recall, when he first was running for office that a woman declined to vote for him because she recognized him as "the boy who used to pinch her grapes."

The speaker congratulated Kiwanians for honoring Washington. "It is especially fitting that you honor this man," he said. "Your motto is 'We Build' and truly Washington was a builder; he was a builder of men.
He built an army. He built a nation."

Contrasts between the lives of Washington and Lincoln were pointed out by Ex-Mayor Childs. Of both men he said: "After their death their most malignant detractors became their most effusive eulogists."

Lessons from the life of Washington were called to mind by the speaker in an interesting review of the highlights of this man's life from his birth to his death.
